Path A One Mile Walk Through The Universe:

The Path Chet Raymo, 2009-05-26 For almost forty years Chet Raymo has walked a one mile path from his house to the college where he taught chronicling the universe he has found through observing every detail of his route with a scientist's curiosity a historian's respect for the past and a child's capacity for wonder With each step the landscape he traversed became richer suggesting deeper and deeper aspects of astronomy history biology and literature and making the path universal in scope His insights inspire us to turn out local paths whether through cities suburbs or rural areas into portals to greater understanding of our interconnectedness with nature and history      The Path Raymo Chet, 2007 For almost forty years Chet Raymo has walked a one mile path from his house to the college where he taught chronicling the universe he has found through observing every detail of his route with a scientist's curiosity a historian's respect for the past and a child's capacity for wonder His insights inspire us to turn our local paths into portals that may lead to greater understanding of our interconnectedness with nature and history      The Path Chet Raymo, 2009-04-01 For almost forty years Chet Raymo has walked a one mile path from his house in North Easton Massachusetts to the Stonehill College campus where he taught physics and astronomy The woods and fields stream and community gardens he passes are as familiar to him as his own backyard Raymo closely observes everything combining the curiosity of a scientist an historian's knowledge and respect for the past and a child's capacity for wonder With each step the landscape he traverses becomes deeper richer more multidimensional opening door after door into astronomy geology biology history and literature and making the path universal in scope The flake of granite in the path was once at the core of towering mountains pushed up across New England when continents collided he writes The purple loosestrife beside the stream emigrated from Europe in the 1800s as a garden ornamental then went wantonly native in a land of wild frontiers I have attended to all of these stories and tried to hear what the landscape has to say I have attended too to language How did the wood anemone and Sheep Pasture get their names What does the querset of Queset Brook signify in the language of Native Americans Scratch a name in a landscape and history bubbles up like a spring Borrowing the words of the early 20th century naturalist Robert Lloyd Praeger Raymo urges us all to walk with reverent feet stopping often watching closely listening carefully Raymo's wisdom and insights inspire us to experience the world fully to turn our local paths whether through cities suburbs or rural areas into portals to greater understanding of our interconnectedness with nature and of our own history      When the Moon Slips Away Snd

Svoboda, Melannie Svoboda, 2009 Sr Melannie can take the most ordinary things and turn them into beautiful meditations She makes you say Why didn't I ever notice that She makes you feel like singing God's praises as you pray and reflect over the extraordinary gifts of nature Reading this book is a wonderful spiritual experience as you encounter nature in unexpected ways with refreshing new insights Great for spiritual reading and a wonderful gift book      An Intimate Look at the Night

maps created specifically for this book cycle through the seasons and across the heavens revealing what you can see with the naked eye throughout the year on a clear night in the northern hemisphere Raymo's commentaries amplify the maps offering intriguing details and tips on identifying stars planets and constellations On another level Chet Raymo challenges our imagination to see what is unseeable in the universe to perceive distance and size and shape that is inconceivable to appreciate ever more fully our extraordinary place in the cosmos His elegant essays on the heavens blend science and history mythology and religion making clear why he is one of the most insightful and passionate science writers of our time The Nonfictionist's Guide Robert Root,2008 As a vital and growing literary genre nonfiction impacts bestseller lists writing programs writers' workshops and academic conferences on creative writing composition rhetoric and literature In a lively exploration of its poetics The Nonfictionist's Guide examines the Walking Zero Chet Raymo,2009-05-26 In Walking Zero Chet Raymo uses the Prime Meridian the line of zero longitude and the standard for all the world's maps and clocks to tell the story of humankind's intellectual journey from a cosmos not much larger than ourselves to the universe of the galaxies and geologic eons As in his highly praised The Path and Climbing Brandon Raymo connects personally with the story by walking England's Prime Meridian from Brighton through Greenwich to the North Sea The Prime Meridian passes near a surprising number of landmarks that loom large in science Isaac Newton's chambers at Trinity College Cambridge Charles Darwin's home at Down in Kent the site where the first dinosaur fossils were discovered and John Harrison's clocks in a museum room of the Royal Observatory among many others Visiting them in turn Raymo brings to life the human dramas of courageous individuals who bucked reigning orthodoxies to expand our horizons including one brave rebel who paid the ultimate price for surmising the multitude of worlds we now take for granted A splendid short history of astronomy and geology Walking Zero illuminates the startling interplay of science psychology faith and the arts in our understanding of space and time Walking God's Earth David Cloutier,2014-09-25 How does the Catholic tradition understand the significance of the environment and what are the implications for our daily lives In Walking God's Earth David Cloutier provides a concise accessible and spiritually engaging introduction to these questions Cloutier emphasizes the importance of finding our place within God's created order showing how spiritual experiences and scriptural narratives guide us to a humble and realistic perspective one that often clashes with the presumptions of society In its focus on practical ways of living out this message the book identifies key areas food fuel dwelling places work and leisure where Catholics can bring their faith convictions into daily living We are called to handle the things of God's creation in holy sacramental ways as an essential part of our vocation to live out our faith Walking God's Earth emphasizes the importance of connecting both spiritually and morally our environmental lives with the basics of our faith in hope that God's desire for the renewal of the earth may be realized in our own desires and in the practices of our communities Currere and the Environmental Autobiography Marilyn Doerr,Marilyn N. Doerr,2004 Annotation This book documents a high school ecology class that employs currere William Pinar's idea for curriculum as autobiographical text and analyzes the course's success from the author's point of view as both the practitioner and the curriculum developer BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Nature of College James Farrell, 2010-10-01 Stately oaks ivy covered walls the opposite sex these are the things that likely come to mind for most Americans when they think about the nature of college But the real nature of college is hidden in plain sight it's flowing out of the keg it's woven into the mascots on our T-shirts Engaging in a deep and richly entertaining study of campus ecology The Nature of College explores one day in the life of the average student questioning what natural is and what common sense is really good for and weighing the collective impacts of the everyday In the end this fascinating highly original book rediscovers and repurposes the great and timeless opportunity presented by college to study the American way of life and to develop a more sustainable better way to live If No Moon Moira Linehan, 2007-03-26 If No Moon by award winning author Moira Linehan documents the effects of profound loss and the dark withdrawal into grief Wherever the author turns the landscape of her backyard in Massachusetts a Trappist monastery in Kentucky the museums of Florence or the cliffs of Inishmor in Ireland she sees only the geography of emptiness Crossovers between craft and art form and voice knitting and memory recur throughout the poems Lying within the tradition of narrative poetry elegy and the lyric the collection reveals the mysterious journey of return Coming full circle to find again the lyrical and the transcendent within the everyday beauty eventually wins out If No Moon accessible to all who have or will experience loss is the voice of one who has come to understand that there is no other work but starting over

Crow Planet Lyanda Lynn Haupt, 2024-09-24 If you picture Henry David Thoreau as a young mother and scientist in suburban Seattle you can begin to imagine the literate elegance of Crow Planet Paul Hawken New York Times bestselling author There are more crows now than ever Their abundance is both an indicator of ecological imbalance and a generous opportunity to connect with the animal world Crow Planet reminds us that we do not need to head to faraway places to encounter nature Rather even in the suburbs and cities where we live we are surrounded by wild life such as crows and through observing them we can enhance our appreciation of the world's natural order Crow Planet richly weaves Haupt's own crow stories as well as scientific and scholarly research and the history and mythology of crows culminating in a book that is sure to make readers see the world around them in a very different way An inspired meditation on our own place in nature You will never look at crows in the same way again David R Montgomery The Washington Post In a lyrical narrative that blends science and conscience Haupt mourns the encroachments of urbanization but cherishes the wildness that survives Liesl Schillinger The New York Times Book Review With her sensitivity careful eye and gift for language Haupt tells her tale beautifully using crow study to get at a range of ever deepening concerns about nature and our place within it immersing us in a heady hybrid of science history how to and memoir Erika Schickel Los Angeles Times A completely charming and informative book on the pleasures of keeping one's eyes open David Sedaris Teaching Multiwriting Robert

L. Davis, Mark F Shadle, 2007-04-23 Formulaic ways to train students in composition and rhetoric are no longer effective say authors Robert L Davis and Mark F Shadle Scholar teachers must instead reinvent the field from the inside Teaching Multiwriting Researching and Composing with Multiple Genres Media Disciplines and Cultures presents just such a reinvention with multiwriting an alternative open approach to composition Seeking to open the minds of both writers and readers to new understandings the authors argue for the supplanting of the outdated research paper assignment with research projects that use multiple forms to explore questions that cannot be fully answered This innovative volume geared to composition teachers at all levels includes sixteen helpful illustrations and provides classroom exercises and projects for each chapter

Cabin Lou Ureneck, 2012-11-27 Inspired by his From the Ground Up blog for the New York Times a beautifully written memoir about building and brotherhood Confronted with the disappointments and knockdowns that can come in middle age job loss the death of his mother a health scare a divorce Lou Ureneck needed a project that would engage the better part of him and put him back in life's good graces City bound for a decade Lou decided he needed to build a simple post and beam cabin in the woods He bought five acres in the hills of western Maine and asked his younger brother Paul to help him Twenty years earlier the brothers had built a house together

Now Lou saw working with Paul as a way to reconnect with their shared history and to rediscover his truest self As the brothers with the help of Paul s sons undertake the challenging construction nothing seems to go according to plan But as they raise the cabin Ureneck eloquently reveals his own evolving insights into the richness and complexity of family relationships the healing power of nature and the need to root oneself in a place one can call home With its exploration of the satisfaction of building and of physical labor Cabin will also appeal to readers of Robert Pirsig s Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance Matthew Crawford s Shop Class as Soulcraft and Tracy Kidder s House Natural New England ,2002     Body & Soul (Watertown, Mass.) ,2003     The Publishers Weekly ,2004     Black's Guide Around London Black Adam and Charles, ltd,1903
