conoci personalmente al autor de Nostalgia de la muerte cuya discreta y firme personalidad lo ubic entre los ms respetados del controvertido grupo literario al que perteneci Kinetoscopio Angel de Campo, 2004 Through the Kaleidoscope

Vivian Schelling, 2000 Modernity in Latin America is defined above all by its multi layered kaleidoscopic quality Reminiscent of Octavio Paz's labyrinth it is a modernity which has accommodated a piling on of new traditions to old a blending of external cultures with local and of high cultures with more popular ones mixes which allowed a rich and celebratory avant garde movement for example to emerge in the 1920s and prompted the explosive growth of cities like Rio de Janeiro Many such cultural as well as technological innovations have occurred without equivalent changes in social and political life however and so the region has also been at the mercy of what might be termed an uneven development in many of its civic institutions In this prestigious volume of original essays many of the best writers on the region are brought together to examine the nature and manifestations of a specifically Latin American modernity Beatriz Sarlo and Nicolau Sevcenko write about Buenos Aires and Sao Paulo in an exploration of twentieth century urban experience and shifting patterns of migration and immigration Renato Ortiz and Ana Lopez look at mass media and the ways in which radio television and cinema have shaped modernity Jose Jorge de Carvalho Jose de Souza Martins and Nelson Manrique address questions of religion politics ideology and social movements Gwen Kirkpatrick and Beatriz Rezende explore the intricacies of artistic and literary modernism and Nestor Canclini and Ruben Oliven open the collection with essays which unravel the many forces the legacy of slavery the freedom from an unquestioning faith in development and progress the impact of globalisation that have given rise to a characteristically hybrid modernity Chronology of the Birth of Cinema, 1833-1896 Deac Rossell, 2022-10-18

Written from an international perspective this account of the origins of the cinema begins in 1833 with the introduction of optical toys for reproducing movement and ends with a thorough examination of the first full year of projected moving pictures in 1896 Comprehensive and verifiable with citations that support each individual entry the book examines the events that culminated in the establishment of the moving picture world that was the dominant visual medium of the last century Drawing on a range of international sources this chronology is a readable vivid account that corrects many longstanding errors in the story of moving pictures while at the same time recording the astounding diversity of ideas apparatus personalities and exhibitions that turned a passing novelty into a major industry Populated by dreamers inventors scientists and entrepreneurs with widely different skills interests and backgrounds the many origins of the cinema are all recorded here in a rich tapestry that has been woven with attention to the detailed shape and placement of each individual thread The result is a fully indexed reference that reflects the state of modern scholarship and should be useful over the long term as both a reference to the period of early cinema and as a starting point for further research

Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America, 1896-1960 Rielle Navitski, Nicolas Poppe, 2017-06-19 Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America examines how cinema forged cultural connections between Latin American publics and film exporting nations in the first half of the twentieth century Predating today's transnational media industries by several decades these connections were defined by active economic and cultural exchanges as well as longstanding inequalities in political power and cultural capital The essays explore the arrival and expansion of cinema throughout the region from the first screenings of the Lumière Cinématographe in 1896 to the emergence of new forms of cinephilia and cult spectatorship in the 1940s and beyond Examining these transnational exchanges through the lens of the cosmopolitan which emphasizes the ethical and political dimensions of cultural consumption illuminates the role played by moving images in negotiating between the local national and global and between the popular and the elite in twentieth century Latin America In addition primary historical documents provide vivid accounts of Latin American film critics movie audiences and film industry workers experiences with moving images produced elsewhere encounters that were deeply rooted in the local context yet also opened out onto global horizons

Mexico's Cinema Joanne Herschfield, David R. Maciel, 1999-11-01 In recent years Mexican films have received high acclaim and impressive box office returns Moreover Mexico has the most advanced movie industry in the Spanish speaking world and its impact on Mexican culture and society cannot be overstated Mexico's Cinema A Century of Film and Filmmakers is a collection of fourteen essays that encompass the first 100 years of the cinema of Mexico Included are original contributions written specifically for this title plus a few classic pieces in the field of Mexican cinema studies never before available in English These essays explore a variety of themes including race and ethnicity gender issues personalities and the historical development of a national cinematic style Each of the book's three sections The Silent Cinema The Golden Age and The Contemporary Era is preceded by a short introduction to the period and a presentation of the major themes addressed in the section This insightful anthology is the first published study that includes pieces by Mexican and North American scholars including a piece by the internationally acclaimed essayist Carlos Monsivais Contributors include other acclaimed scholars and critics as well as young scholars who are currently making their mark in the area of film studies of Mexico These authors represent various fields community studies film studies cultural history ethnic studies and gender studies making this volume an interdisciplinary resource important for courses in Latin America and Third World cinema Mexican history and culture and Chicano and ethnic studies

Mexican Cinema Carl J. Mora, 1989 The author's main reason for writing this book however is simply to provide an introduction to the Mexican commercial cinema for American and other English speaking readers Although the United States has been and continues to be a major foreign market for Mexican movies the overwhelming majority of Americans are unaware of them Mexican films are restricted to the Hispanic theater circuits and shown without English subtitles therefore anyone wishing to see a Mexican movie would have to be fairly fluent in Spanish

Such a requisite effectively eliminates almost the entire general audience in the United States from exposure to Mexican cinema

National Narratives in Mexico Enrique Florescano, 2006 If history is written by the victors then as the rulers of a nation change so too does the history Mexico has had many distinct periods of history demonstrating clearly that the tale changes with the writer In National Narratives in Mexico Enrique Florescano examines each historical vision of Mexico as it was interpreted in its own time revealing the influences of national or ethnic identity culture and evolving concepts of history and national memory Florescano shows how the image of Mexico today is deeply rooted in ideas of past Mexicos ancient Mexico colonial Mexico revolutionary Mexico and how these ideas can be more fully understood by examining Mexico's past historians An awareness of the historian's cultural perspective helps us to understand which types of evidence would be considered valid in constructing a national narrative These considerations are important in modern Mexican historiography as historians begin to question the validity of Mexico's collective memory Enhanced by more than two hundred drawings photographs and maps National Narratives in Mexico offers a new vision of Mexico's turbulent history

American Cinema, 1890-1909 André Gaudreault, 2009 The essays in American Cinema 1890-1909 explore and define how the making of motion pictures flowered into an industry that would finally become the central entertainment institution of the world Beginning with all the early types of pictures that moved this volume tells the story of the invention and consolidation of the various processes that gave rise to what we now call cinema
