Culpeper, Kieran O'Halloran, 2014-02-05 Digital Literary Studies presents a broad and varied picture of the promise and potential of methods and approaches that are crucially dependent upon the digital nature of the literary texts it studies and the texts and collections of texts with which they are compared. It focuses on style diction characterization and interpretation of single works and across larger groups of texts using both huge natural language corpora and smaller more specialized collections of texts created for specific tasks and applies statistical techniques used in the narrower confines of authorship attribution to broader stylistic questions. It addresses important issues in each of the three major literary genres and intentionally applies different techniques and concepts to poetry prose and drama. It aims to present a provocative and suggestive sample intended to encourage the application of these and other methods to literary studies. Hoover Culpeper and O'Halloran push the methods techniques and concepts in new directions apply them to new groups of texts or to new questions modify their nature or method of application and combine them in innovative ways. MLN., 1912 Provides image and full text online access to back issues Consult the online table of contents for specific holdings. Census of population and housing (2000): Oklahoma Summary Social, Economic, and Housing Characteristics, Oklahoma, 2000, 2003
