A Psalm-Shaped Life H. Mark Abbott, 2011-07-08 Ever felt glad sad or mad and didn't quite know how to talk to God about it How long since you have used something other than a happy psalm in corporate worship A Psalm Shaped Life explores how these ancient prayer songs give us a vision of God and voice to respond to God in all of life in its joys and sorrows Psalms of all kinds have shaped the life of God's people for three thousand years They can and should do so today also Reading and praying the Psalms individually and together puts us in a long line of men and women who have poured out their hearts to God using these ancient texts and have been shaped in doing so A Psalm Shaped Life is a plea for regular and informed immersion in the Psalms both individually and as a community

Teaching, Friendship and Humanity Nuraan Davids, Yusef Waghid, 2020-08-27 This book extends liberal understandings in and about democratic citizenship education in relation to university pedagogy more specifically higher teaching and learning The authors argument is in defence of cultivating humanity through higher educational encounters on the basis of virtues that connect with the idea of love Unlike romantic and erotic love the book examines love in relation to educational encounters whereby humans or citizens can engage autonomously deliberately and responsibly yet lovingly The rationale for focussing on the notion of philia love in educational encounters the authors argue is that doing so allows our current understandings of such encounters to be expanded beyond mere talk of reasonable engagements autonomous action deliberative iterations and simple action toward emotive enactments that could enhance human relations in educational encounters

Leave Love with Me William Lawton, 2023-09-19 Desire for beauty is at the heart of human existence Some find this meaning out of their religious or spiritual perspective Some find it at the edge of their traditions And others find it outside any recognizable tradition This book speaks especially to the second and third groups of people Desire releases us to explore difference and to honor alternatives Desire shapes our lives in unique ways It centers our energies for personal and relational change where difference can be debated and variety permitted We might transcend circumstances that limit us Desire is more than meaningfulness it is captivation of mind and spirit to life's possibility In my discovery desire is an abandonment to beauty

Pastoral Care Dr. Karen D. Scheib, 2016-02-16. Christian pastoral care is a narrative ecclesial theological practice. NET As a narrative practice, pastoral care attends to the inseparable interconnection between our own lifestories, others' stories, the larger cultural stories, and God's story. As a ministry of the church, pastoral care is an ecclesial practice that derives its motivation, purpose, and identity from the larger mission of the church to bear witness to and embody God's mission of love that extends beyond the church for the transformation of the world. As a theological practice, pastoral care is grounded in God's love story. God's profound love for humankind heals our brokenness when human love fails and invites us into an ongoing process of growth in love of God, self, and neighbor. Intended for those who provide care with and on behalf of religious communities, author Karen Scheib focuses on listening and restorying practices occurring in the context and setting of congregations. By coauthoring narratives that promote healing and growth in love, pastoral caregivers become cocreators and companions who help others revise and construct life stories reshaped by the grace of God. What Karen Scheib has done in this book is to reposition pastoral care as a theological activity performed in the context of the church. She draws deeply upon her Wesleyan theological heritage upon an understanding of life in its fullness as growth in love and grace and upon a communion ecclesiology undergirded by a communal understanding of the Trinitarian life of God. Thus grounded, she envisions pastoral care first as a rhythm of the life of the whole church and secondarily as a work of trained pastors. In her vision, pastoral care is rescued from a narrow understanding of it as exceptional acts of intervention performed only in moments of dire crisis. Instead, it becomes a daily practice of pastoral care: attending in love to the stories of others and listening for ways God is already present in a life story. Solidly theological, grounded in the life of the church, and eminently teachable, Karen Scheib has given us a great gift in this book from the Foreword.

Thomas G. Long, Bandy Professor of Preaching Emeritus, Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Atlanta, GA. In a wonderfully engaging, reflective, and useful way, Karen Scheib captures something absolutely essential to pastoral care and yet often overlooked: the utter centrality of storytelling, listening, the power of stories to heal, and their vital connection to bigger stories told within religious communities. This book is a real milestone reclaiming the importance of narrative knowing and grounding care not only in community but also within a comprehensive theological framework.

Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Professor of Religion Psychology and Culture, The Divinity School and Graduate Department of Religion, Vanderbilt University Divinity School, Nashville, TN. Implementing narrative, personality, and therapy theories and anchored in ecclesiology and Wesleyan theology, NET Karen Scheib's book advances a long-awaited and holistic approach to pastoral care Her NET approach presents the embodiment of pastoral care by emphasizing both narrative and paradigmatic knowing proposes the subjectivity of our stories in pastoral care by pointing out the interchangeability between us and our stories as subject and object and underscores the dynamic process of pastoral care through the interconnection of the storyteller listener and context Scheib's image of story companion contributes to the field as a new paradigm of pastoral care and promises to be a significant resource in generating hope and growth in love for both pastoral caregiver and receiver Angella Son Associate Professor Drew University Madison NJ Pastoral theologian Scheib describes a narrative ecclesial and theological approach for listening to people's life stories in such a way as to engender spiritual formation and growth in love Scheib clarifies the connections between caring conversations and Christian theology Clear and accessible prose as well as helpful exercises and discussion starters make this a fine teaching text The Christian Century Sept 29 2016 Love's

Knowledge Martha C. Nussbaum, 1990-11-15 This volume brings together Nussbaum's published papers on the relationship between literature and philosophy especially moral philosophy The papers many of them previously inaccessible to non specialist readers deal with such fundamental issues as the relationship between style and content in the exploration of ethical issues the nature of ethical attention and ethical knowledge and their relationship to written forms and styles and the role of the emotions in deliberation and self knowledge Nussbaum investigates and defends a conception of ethical understanding which involves emotional as well as intellectual activity and which gives a certain type of priority to the perception of particular people and situations rather than to abstract rules She argues that this ethical conception cannot be completely and appropriately stated without turning to forms of writing usually considered literary rather than philosophical It is consequently necessary to broaden our conception of moral philosophy in order to include these forms Featuring two new essays and revised versions of several previously published essays this collection attempts to articulate the relationship within such a broader ethical inquiry between literary and more abstractly theoretical elements Authentic Beauty
