The First Mariners Robert G. Bednarik, 2015-02-24 This volume summarizes the history and findings of the First Mariners Project which the author Robert G Bednarik commenced in 1996 in order to explore the Ice Age origins of seafaring This is the largest archaeological replication project ever undertaken with several hundred people involved in the construction of eight primitive vessels with stone tools under scientifically controlled conditions six of them sailing Four bamboo rafts have succeeded in accomplishing the historically documented crossings they sought to replicate One of the successful experiments a 1000 kilometer journey to Australia in 1998 attempted to recreate the first human arrival in Australia probably around 60 000 years ago Other voyages attempted to address the much earlier sea crossings documented to have taken place in the islands of Indonesia the earliest of which may have occurred nearly a million years ago These experiments have also featured in BBC and National Geographic documentaries The First Mariners comprehensively describes the archaeological background and relevant issues of the project and features an extensive pictorial record of both the experiments and the archaeological basis of this research giving a unique experience to readers interested in understanding the earliest marine adventurers from a historical and technical perspective

Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Oldowan Erella Hovers,David R. Braun,2009-03-08 An understanding of the uniquely human behavior of stone tool making tackles questions about hominins ability to culturally transmit and expand their base of social and practical knowledge and their cognitive capacities for advanced planning The appearance of stone tools has often been viewed as a threshold event impacting directly and profoundly the later course of cultural and social evolution Alternatively it has been understood as a prelude to significant succeeding changes in behavioral social and biological evolution of hominins This book presents a series of recent enquiries into the technological and adaptive significance of Oldowan stone tools While anchored in a long research tradition these studies rely on recent discoveries and innovative analyses of the archaeological record of ca 2 6 1 0 million years ago in Africa and Eurasia dealing with the earliest lithic industries as manifestations of hominin adaptations and as expressions of hominin cognitive abilities      The History of the Peoples of the Eastern Desert Hans Barnard,Kim Duistermaat,2012-12-31 The last quarter century has seen extensive research on the ports of the Red Sea coast of Egypt the road systems connecting them to the Nile and the mines and quarries in the region Missing has been a systematic study of the peoples of the Eastern Desert the area between the Red Sea and the Nile Valley in whose territories these ports roads mines and quarries were located The historical overview of the Eastern Desert in the shape of a roughly chronological narrative presented in this book fills that gap The multidisciplinary perspective focuses on the long term history of the region The extensive range of topics addressed includes specific historical periods natural resources nomadic survival strategies ancient textual data and the interaction between Christian hermits and their neighbors The breadth of perspective does not sacrifice depth for all authors deal in some detail with the specifics of their subject matter As a whole this collection provides an outline of the history and sociology of the Eastern Desert unparalleled in any language for its comprehensiveness As such it will be the essential starting point for future research on the Eastern Desert Includes a CD of eleven audio files with music of the Ababda Nomads and six short videos of Ababda culture      Europe Before Rome T. Douglas Price,2013-02-28 Europe before Rome uses the extraordinary archaeology of prehistoric Europe to explore questions about the origins and evolution of human society      Archaeology of Iran in the Historical Period Kamal-Aldin Niknami,Ali Hozhabri,2020-05-22 This collection of twenty eight essays presents an up to date survey of pre Islamic Iran from the earliest dynasty of Illam to the end of Sasanian empire encompassing a rich diversity of peoples and cultures Historically Iran served as a bridge between the earlier Near Eastern cultures and the later classical world of the Mediterranean and had a profound influence on political military economic and cultural aspects of the ancient world Written by international scholars and drawing mainly on the field of practical archaeology which traditionally has shared little in the way of theories and methods the book provides crucial pieces to the puzzle of the national identity of Iranian cultures from a historical perspective Revealing the wealth and splendor of ancient Iranian society its rich archaeological data and sophisticated artistic craftsmanship most of which has never before been presented outside of Iran this beautifully illustrated book presents a range of studies addressing specific aspects of Iranian archaeology to show why the artistic masterpieces of ancient Iranians rank among the finest ever produced Together the authors analyze how archaeology can inform us about our cultural past and what remains to still be discovered in this important region The
