Lucy Maud Montgomery, It was the forenoon of a hazy breathless day and Dan Phillips was trouting up one of the back creeks of the Carleton pond It was somewhat cooler up the creek than out on the main body of water for the tall birches and willows crowding down to the brim threw cool green shadows across it and shut out the scorching glare while a stray breeze now and then rippled down the wooded slopes rustling the beech leaves with an airy pleasant sound Out in the pond the glassy water creamed and shimmered in the hot sun unrippled by the faintest breath of air Across the soft pearly tints of the horizon blurred the smoke of the big factory chimneys that were owned by Mr Walters to whom the pond and adjacent property also belonged Mr Walters was a comparative stranger in Carleton having but recently purchased the factories from the heirs of the previous owner but he had been in charge long enough to establish a reputation for sternness and inflexibility in all his business dealings One or two of his employees who had been discharged by him on what they deemed insufficient grounds helped to deepen the impression that he was an unjust and arbitrary man merciless to all offenders and intolerant of the slightest infringement of his cast iron rules Dan Phillips had been on the pond ever since sunrise The trout had risen well in the early morning but as the day wore on growing hotter and hotter they refused to bite and for half an hour Dan had not caught one He had a goodly string of them already however and he surveyed them with satisfaction as he rowed his leaky little skiff to the shore of the creek Pretty good catch he soliloquized Best I ve had this summer so far That big spotted one must weigh near a pound He s a beauty They re a good price over at the hotels now too I ll go home and get my dinner and go straight over with them That ll leave me time for another try at them about sunset Whew how hot it is I must take Ella May home a bunch of them blue flags They re real handsome He tied his skiff under the crowding alders gathered a big bunch of the purple flag lilies with their silky petals and started homeward whistling cheerily as he stepped briskly along the fern carpeted wood path that wound up the hill under the beeches and firs He was a freckled sunburned lad of thirteen years His neighbours all said that Danny was as smart as a steel trap and immediately added that they wondered where he got his smartness from certainly not from his father The elder Phillips had been denominated shiftless and slack twisted by all who ever had any dealings with him in his unlucky aimless life one of those improvident easygoing souls who sit contentedly down to breakfast with a very faint idea where their dinner is to come from When he had died no one had missed him unless it were his patient sad eyed wife who bravely faced her hard lot and toiled unremittingly to keep a home for her two children Dan and a girl two years younger who was a helpless cripple suffering from some form of spinal disease Dan who was old and steady for his years had gone manfully to work to assist his mother Though he had been disappointed in all his efforts to obtain steady employment he was active and obliging and earned many a small amount by odd jobs around the village and by helping the Carleton farmers in planting and harvest For the last two years however his most profitable source of summer income had been the trout pond The former owner had allowed anyone who wished to fish in his pond and Dan made a regular business of it selling his trout at the big hotels over at Mosquito Lake This in spite of its unattractive name was a popular summer resort and Dan always found a ready market for his catch

The Complete Novels of Lucy Maud Montgomery - 20 Titles in One Volume: Including Anne of Green Gables Series, Emily Starr Trilogy, The Blue Castle, The Story Girl & Pat of Silver Bush Series

Lucy Maud Montgomery, 2024-01-12. The Complete Novels of Lucy Maud Montgomery is a seminal collection that encapsulates the romanticism and natural beauty of early 20th-century Canadian literature. This anthology features her most beloved characters, including Anne Shirley, Emily Starr, and other cherished figures that navigate the complexities of adolescence, friendship, and personal growth within the idyllic yet challenging settings of rural Canada. Montgomery's lyrical prose intertwines a deep appreciation for nature with vivid character development, echoing the themes of resilience and the importance of imagination, thereby situating her works within the broader literary context of the Edwardian era that often romanticized rural life and childhood innocence. Lucy Maud Montgomery, born in 1874 on Prince Edward Island, was influenced by the landscape and culture of her surroundings, which profoundly shaped her storytelling. Her own experiences, from a childhood steeped in isolation to her struggles with mental health, infused her narratives with authenticity and emotional depth. Montgomery's ability to connect with readers through her relatable characters and universal themes is a testament to her profound insight into the human condition, making her a pioneer of Canadian literature. This comprehensive volume is a must-read for both longstanding fans and new readers alike. With its rich tapestry of interwoven tales, it invites readers to explore the depths of relationships and the beauty of life's simple pleasures. The timelessness of Montgomery's work offers not only nostalgia but also a poignant reminder of the strength found in imagination and community, making it an essential addition to any literary collection.

The Political Theory of I Love Lucy Leslie Dale Feldman, 2019-01-18. This book looks at how the classic television series fits into the cultural milieu of mid-century America. I Love Lucy incorporates key themes of the 1950s American political scene and classic American values of family social mobility community individualism and work keeping in mind that Luck as Machiavelli said is the arbiter of half of what we do As the beloved American TV queen Lucy Ricardo is a psychologically complicated character conflicted between her role as a 1950s housewife and her wish to be a star She is an icon of social mobility going from a small New York City apartment to a country house in a swanky suburb and an example of the transitional woman who wants to have it all Is she a feminist Is she a conformist Does she prefer the country to the city Whether she is working on the chocolate factory assembly line baking bread or achieving the American dream Lucy is always speeding it up
