Trade and Traders in Muslim Spain Olivia Remie Constable, 1996-07-13 This volume surveys Iberian international trade from the tenth to the fifteenth century with particular emphasis on commerce in the Muslim period and on changes brought by Christian conquest of much of Muslim Spain in the thirteenth century From the tenth to the thirteenth century markets in the Iberian peninsula were closely linked to markets elsewhere in the Islamic world and a strong east west Mediterranean trading network linked Cairo with Cordoba Following routes along the North African coast Muslim and Jewish merchants carried eastern goods to Muslim Spain returning eastwards with Andalusí exports Situated at the edge of the Islamic west Andalusí markets were also emporia for the transfer of commodities between the Islamic world and Christian Europe After the thirteenth century the Iberian peninsula became part of the European economic sphere its commercial realignment aided by the opening of the Straits of Gibraltar to Christian trade and by the contemporary demise of the Muslim trading network in the Mediterranean

Lost Enlightenment S. Frederick Starr, 2015-06-02 The forgotten story of Central Asia's enlightenment its rise fall and enduring legacy In this sweeping and richly illustrated history S. Frederick Starr tells the fascinating but largely unknown story of Central Asia's medieval enlightenment through the eventful lives and astonishing accomplishments of its greatest minds remarkable figures who built a bridge to the modern world Because nearly all of these figures wrote in Arabic they were long assumed to have been Arabs In fact they were from Central Asia drawn from the Persianate and Turkic peoples of a region that today extends from Kazakhstan southward through Afghanistan and from the easternmost province of Iran through Xinjiang China Lost Enlightenment recounts how between the years 800 and 1200 Central Asia led the world in trade and economic development the size and sophistication of its cities the refinement of its arts and above all in the advancement of knowledge in many fields Central Asians achieved signal breakthroughs in astronomy mathematics geology medicine chemistry music social science philosophy and theology among other subjects They gave algebra its name calculated the earth's diameter with unprecedented precision wrote the books that later defined European medicine and penned some of the world's greatest poetry One scholar working in Afghanistan even predicted the existence of North and South America five centuries before Columbus Rarely in history has a more impressive group of polymaths appeared at one place and time No wonder that their writings influenced European culture from the time of St Thomas Aquinas down to the scientific revolution and had a similarly deep impact in India and much of Asia Lost Enlightenment chronicles this forgotten age of achievement seeks to explain its rise and explores the competing theories about the cause of its eventual demise Informed by the latest scholarship yet written in a lively and accessible style this is a book that will surprise general readers and specialists alike National Union Catalog ,1978 The Great Caliphs Amira K. Bennison, 2014-05-14 This endlessly informative history brings the classical Islamic world to life In this accessibly written history Amira K. Bennison contradicts the common assumption that Islam somehow interrupted the smooth flow of Western civilization from its Graeco-Roman origins to its more recent European and American manifestations Instead she places Islamic civilization in the longer trajectory of Mediterranean civilizations and sees the Abbasid Empire 750-1258 CE as the inheritor and interpreter of Graeco-

Roman traditions At its zenith the Abbasid caliphate stretched over the entire Middle East and part of North Africa and influenced Islamic regimes as far west as Spain Bennison's examination of the politics society and culture of the Abbasid period presents a picture of a society that nurtured many of the civilized values that Western civilization claims to represent albeit in different premodern forms from urban planning and international trade networks to religious pluralism and academic research Bennison's argument counters the common Western view of Muslim culture as alien and offers a new perspective on the relationship between Western and Islamic cultures Marble Past, Monumental Present Michael Greenhalgh, 2009 This survey and synthesis of the structural and decorative uses of Roman remains particularly marble throughout the mediaeval Mediterranean deals with the Christian West but also Byzantium and Islam each the inheritor of much Roman territory It includes a 5000 image DVD Nomadism in Iran Daniel T. Potts, 2014 Potts examines the development of nomadism in Iran over the course of three millennia Evidence of nomadism in prehistory is examined and found insufficient to justify claims of its great antiquity The background of the earliest nomadic groups identified as Persian tribes by Herodotus is examined within the context of the migration of Iranian speakers onto the Iranian plateau in the late second or early first millennium B C Thereafter evidence of nomadic groups in Late Antiquity and early Islamic times is reviewed The Wisdom of the Sasanian Sages (Dēnkard VI), 1979 Sadeq Hedayat, an Anthology Rseadiq Hideayat, 1979 The History of Shah 'Abbas the Great Iskandar Munshī, 1978 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976 Love at a Crux Cameron Cross, 2023-11-30 Love at a Crux presents the emergence of versified love stories in the New Persian language as a crucial event in the history of romance Using the tale of Vis R min w 1054 as its focal point the book explores how Persian court poets in the eleventh century reconfigured myths and fables from the distant past in ways that transformed the love story from a form of evening entertainment to a method of ethical political and affective self inquiry This transformation both anticipates and helps to explain the efflorescence of romance in many medieval cultures across the western flank of Afro Eurasia Bringing together traditions that are often sundered by modern disciplinary boundaries Love at a Crux unearths the interconnections between New Persian and comparable traditions in ancient and medieval Greek Arabic Georgian Old French and Middle High German offering scholars in classics medieval studies Middle Eastern literatures and premodern world literature a case study in literary history as connected history The Race for Paradise Paul M. Cobb, 2016-09 An accessible and stirring representation of what it means to be the crusaded The Race for Paradise captures for the first time the rich variety of the Islamic experience of the Crusades during the Middle Ages Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1973 Beginning with 1953 entries for Motion pictures and filmstrips Music and phonorecords form separate parts of the Library of Congress catalogue Entries for Maps and atlases were issued separately 1953 1955 Highlights of Persian Art Richard Ettinghausen, Ehsan Yarshater, 1981 Persian Prose Bo Utas, 2021-07-01 Volume V of A History of Persian Literature presents a broad survey of Persian prose from biographical historiographical and didactic prose to scientific manuals and works of popular prose fiction. It analyzes the rhetorical devices employed by writers in different periods in their philosophical and political discourse or when their aim is primarily to entertain rather than to instruct. The chapters describe different techniques used to transform old stories and familiar tales into novel versions to entice their audience. Many of the texts in prose cited in the volume share a wealth of common lore and literary allusions with Persian poetry. Prose and poetry frequently appear on the same page in tandem. In different ways, therefore, this creative interplay demonstrates the perennial significance of intertextuality from the earliest times to the present and help us in the process to further our understanding and enhance our enjoyment of Persian literature in its different manifestations throughout history.
