The Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University Annabel Jane Wharton, Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University, 2005

When world renowned architect Rafael Viñoly was commissioned to design a major new center for the arts at Duke University he set about creating his first museum in North America and the first stand alone museum in Duke's eighty year history. The resulting 65 000 square foot building has changed the cultural landscape of the university and indeed the Southeast. This book documents the genesis and design of the new museum which opened on October 2 2005. The building is named in honor of the family of Raymond D. Nasher an internationally prominent art collector who graduated from Duke in 1943. The landmark building takes its place among Viñoly's other distinguished designs including the new home for jazz at Lincoln Center in New York and expansion projects for the Cleveland Museum of Art the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C. and the Brooklyn Children's Museum in New York. Among his other cultural projects are the Tokyo International Forum and the Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts in Philadelphia. He is designing the new Tampa Museum of Art and a new museum in the city of Colchester England. He was part of the team that created the runner up design for the new World Trade Center site in New York City. The brilliant core of the Nasher at Duke is a 13 000 square foot glass and steel canopy rising to a height of 45 feet above the central gallery space. The faceted roof soars above the irregular pentagonal great hall where five concrete pavilions fan out at different angles. The pavilions will house three large gallery spaces an auditorium offices university and community classrooms a museum shop and a caf with outdoor seating overlooking a sculpture garden. Set in the forest on Duke's campus the museum's full height glass walls and green slate floor connect the pavilions and further blur the division between building and nature. With an essay by art historian Annabel Jane Wharton a design statement by museum architect Rafael Viñoly a foreword by museum namesake Raymond D. Nasher and photos by Brad Feinknopf and Jerry Blow this book documents the building that will become a cornerstone for cultural activities for the university and the public.

American Spaces Janelle McCulloch, 2007. Since accepting a teaching position at remote Fairwick College in upstate New York Callie McFay has experienced the same disturbingly erotic dream every night: a mist enters her bedroom and takes the shape of a seductive stranger who ravishes her in the most wholly satisfying ways possible. But Callie soon realizes that her dreams are alarmingly real. She has a demon lover an incubus and he will seduce her pleasure her and eventually suck the very life from her. Then Callie makes another startling discovery: her incubus is not the only mythical creature in Fairwick.

Rafael Viñoly Rafael Viñoly, 2002-11-21. Rafael Viñoly became famous as the architect of the stunning Tokyo International Forum 1989-1996. In Japan where land is at a premium and public spaces are rare the Forum with its 2.7 hectares and unusual design of public space was widely admired. Originating in Uruguay Viñoly heads an architectural office with an impressive list of projects in the areas of architecture urban planning and interior design including significant buildings such as the Philadelphia Regional Performing Arts Center which opened recently Princeton.

The Evolution of the Nasher Collection Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University, Sarah Schroth, 2005 The Evolution of the Nasher Collection is the catalog that accompanies the inaugural exhibition on view from October 2 2005 through May 21 2006 at the new Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University The exhibition draws from the collection of the museum's benefactor Raymond D. Nasher and his late wife Patsy The Nashers built one of the world's major collections of twentieth-century sculpture over the course of forty years The exhibition includes seminal works by Auguste Rodin Pablo Picasso Henri Matisse Alberto Giacometti Jean Dubuffet David Smith Henry Moore and others Before sculpture the Nashers collected ancient American art Guatemalan textiles contemporary prints and paintings by Jean Michel Basquiat and Andy Warhol Many of these works held in the Nashers private residence will be on public view and published in this full color catalog for the first time The book offers a new approach to viewing and thinking about the Nasher Collection concentrating not on the final finished product the greatest collection of modern sculpture in private hands but on the unfolding of the process of building that collection through time its chronological development from the early 1950s to the present In the history of any collection there is a narrative of evolution a beginning which includes a motivation followed by a process of change as the collector works out by experience and experimentation a personal approach to the gathering of objects of art In the case of the Nasher collection this personal approach is the result of a remarkable synergy between two individuals Raymond D. Nasher and Patsy Nasher The essay by curator Sarah Schroth contextualizes the Nashers as collectors within the history of collecting practices in the United States in the second half of the twentieth century Publication of the Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University
