Labelling Strategies in Environmental Policy Mario Teisl,2017-11-30 Eco labelling programmes have been in existence for many years but their recent growth now extends to many products and services The academic literature has grown in response and there have been several theoretical and empirical advances This volume presents the best of previously published research on the design and effects of eco labelling programmes Whilst concentrating on the economic literature the articles also approach the topic from a psychological sociological and political point of view Part One focuses on a range of theoretical developments Part Two on empirical measurements of the effectiveness of eco labelling Part Three on the factors that influence the success and design of eco labelling programmes and Part Four on the effects of eco labelling on international trade and development National Income and Product Accounts of the United States ,2001 Renewable Economies in the Arctic David C. Natcher,Timo Koivurova,2021-12-24 This book offers multidisciplinary perspectives on renewable economies in the Arctic and how these are being supported scientifically economically socially and politically by Arctic states The economic development of the Arctic region is witnessing new innovative trends which hold promise for the sustainable development of the region This book discusses the emerging forms of renewable economies to understand where intellectual and technological innovations are being made It draws on the expertise of scholars from across the Arctic and provides the reader with a foundation of knowledge to identify the unique challenges of the region and explore opportunities to unlock the immense potential of renewable resources to boost the region s economy This book offers a holistic Arctic perspective against the backdrop of prevailing social economic and climatic challenges With critical insights on the economic state of play and the role of renewable resources in the development of the Arctic region this book will be a vital point of reference for Arctic scholars communities and policy makers Legislative Calendar United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation,1992 Product Liability Richard J. Heafey,Don M. Kennedy,2016-02-28 From the initial client interview through every step in building the case this book provides hundreds of valuable ideas and tactics from the perspective of both plaintiffs and defendants counsel Report on the Activities of the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation,1983 IRS Printed Product Catalog United States. Internal Revenue Service,1999 United States Congressional Serial Set Catalog ,1983 Country of Origin Effect Isaac Cheah,Ian Phau,Gaetano Aiello,2020-06-29 This book evaluates Country of Origin COO research from new critical perspectives providing insights on how COO shapes both consumer behaviour and business trends and how marketers can overcome or take advantage of COO in their strategies The contributors explore a variety of strategies for utilising Country of Origin including how country image can influence market entry positioning strategies and how brand heritage can be utilised as a communication tool There is also a study of what percentage of online products require COO identification and whether this percentage correlates to customer satisfaction. Several contributors look at consumers' preference for food in relation to COO and authenticity and further chapters explore the impact of consumer identification with a nation on how they evaluate brands. As Country of Origin is increasingly evaluated by consumers and used by marketers to safeguard locally owned products, this book will be of interest to those studying the relationship between country authentic brands and their promotion in the global marketplace. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Promotion Management.

New-Product Diffusion Models Vijay Mahajan, Eitan Muller, Yoram Wind, 2000-09-30. Product sales, especially for new products, are influenced by many factors. These factors are both internal and external to the selling organization and are both controllable and uncontrollable. Due to the enormous complexity of such factors, it is not surprising that product failure rates are relatively high. Indeed, new product failure rates have variously been reported as between 40 and 90 percent. Despite this multitude of factors, marketing researchers have not been deterred from developing and designing techniques to predict or explain the levels of new product sales over time. The proliferation of the internet, the necessity of developing a road map to plan the launch and exit times of various generations of a product, and the shortening of product life cycles are challenging firms to investigate market penetration or innovation diffusion models. These models not only provide information on new product sales over time but also provide insight on the speed with which a new product is being accepted by various buying groups such as those identified as innovators, early adopters, early majority, late majority, and laggards. New Product Diffusion Models aims to distill, synthesize, and integrate the best thinking that is currently available on the theory and practice of new product diffusion models. This state-of-the-art assessment includes contributions by individuals who have been at the forefront of developing and applying these models in industry. The book's twelve chapters are written by a combined total of thirty-two experts who together represent twenty-five different universities and other organizations in Australia, Europe, Hong Kong, Israel, and the United States. The book will be useful for researchers and students in marketing and technological forecasting as well as those in other allied disciplines who study relevant aspects of innovation diffusion. Practitioners in high-tech and consumer durable industries should also gain new insights from New Product Diffusion Models. The book is divided into five parts: I Overview, II Strategic Global and Digital Environments for Diffusion Analysis, III Diffusion Models, IV Estimation, and V Applications and Software. The final section includes a PC-based software program developed by Gary L. Lilien and Arvind Rangaswamy in 1998 to implement the Bass diffusion model. A case on high-definition television is included to illustrate the various features of the software. A free 15-day trial access period for the updated software can be downloaded from <http://www.mktgeng.com/diffusionbook>. Among the book's many highlights are chapters addressing the implications posed by the internet, globalization, and production policies upon diffusion of new products and technologies in the population.
