[The correspondence] ; The correspondence of Charles Darwin. 14. 1866 Charles Darwin,2004 The Ghost of Galileo J. L. Heilbron,2021-01-28 In 1643 4 the once famous Francis Cleyn painted the unhappy young heir of Corfe Castle John Bankes and his tutor Dr Maurice Williams The painter is now almost forgotten the painting much neglected and the sitters themselves have left little to mark their lives but on the table of the painting lies a book open to an immediately identifiable and very significant page The representation omits the author s name and the book s title it sits there as a code as only viewers who had encountered the original and the characteristic figures on its frontispiece would have known its significance The book is Galileo s Dialogue on the two chief world systems 1632 the defence of Copernican cosmology that incited the infamous clash between its author and the Church and its presence in this painting is no accident but instead a statement of learning attitudes and cosmopolitan engagement in European discourse by the painting s English subjects Grasping hold of the clue John Heilbron deciphers the significance of this contentious book s appearance in a painting from Stuart England to unravel the interlocking threads of art history political and religious history and the history of science Drawing on unexploited archival material and a wide range of printed works he weaves together English court culture and Italian connections as well as the astronomical and astrological knowledge propagated in contemporary almanacs and deployed in art architecture plays masques and political discourse Heilbron also explores the biographies of Sir John Bankes father of the sitter Sir Maurice and the painter Francis Cleyn setting them into the narrative of their rich and cultured history

Romantic Naturalists, Early Environmentalists Dewey W. Hall, 2016-04-08 In his study of Romantic naturalists and early environmentalists Dewey W Hall asserts that William Wordsworth and Ralph Waldo Emerson were transatlantic literary figures who were both influenced by the English naturalist Gilbert White In Part 1 Hall examines evidence that as Romantic naturalists interested in meteorology Wordsworth and Emerson engaged in proto environmental activity that drew attention to the potential consequences of the locomotive s incursion into Windermere and Concord In Part 2 Hall suggests that Wordsworth and Emerson shaped the early environmental movement through their work as poets turned naturalists arguing that Wordsworth influenced Octavia Hill s contribution to the founding of the United Kingdom s National Trust in 1895 while Emerson inspired John Muir to spearhead the United States National Parks movement in 1890 Hall s book traces the connection from White as a naturalist turned poet to Muir as the quintessential early environmental activist who camped in Yosemite with President Theodore Roosevelt Throughout Hall raises concerns about the growth of industrialization to make a persuasive case for literature s importance to the rise of environmentalism Australian National Bibliography: 1992

National Library of Australia, 1988 Heritage Peter Howard, 2003-05-01 Heritage and its preservation is a major concern around the world In order to establish identities as well as attracting visitors the natural and cultural heritage is protected conserved managed and interpreted by families by cities by nation states and at international level Environmental and cultural heritage is now accepted as a major feature in business location as the demand for quality of life becomes insistent This major movement has resulted in the development of Heritage as a field of study both on its own and as elements within many other disciplines such as geography art history archaeology ecology and tourism management While the techniques of conservation remains within specialist disciplines Peter Howard offers a textbook for students approaching heritage as a combined field of study for the first time The fields of heritage under review range from the nature trail to the cathedral and from the family album to the national park viewed at a variety of levels including family and local heritage as well as the national and international dimensions Heritage is seen as a demand led activity with interested stakeholders being academics governments owners school children pilgrims and the media as well as the ubiquitous tourist There is a process by which some things are selected as heritage but others are ignored and it is the practical management of this process which is the focus to which the text constantly returns Gendering Place and Affect Alex Simpson,Ruth Simpson,Darren T. Baker,2024-07-30 Drawing on affect theory and the key themes of attachment disruption and belonging this book examines the ways in which our placed surroundings whether urban design border management or organisations shape and form experiences of gender Bringing together key debates across the fields of sociology geography and organisation studies the book sets out new theoretical ground to examine and consolidate shared experiences of what it means to be in or out of place Contributors explore how our gendered selves encounter place and critically examine the way in which experiences of gender shape meanings and attachments as well as how place produces gendered modes of identity inclusion and belonging Emphasizing the intertwined dynamics of affect and being affected the book examines the gendering of place and the placing of gender The Birth of the Museum Tony Bennett,2013-10-18 In a series of richly detailed case studies from Britian Australia and North America Tony Bennett investigates how nineteenth and twentieth century museums fairs and exhibitions have organized their collections and their visitors Discussing the historical development of museums alongside that of the fair and the international exhibition Bennett sheds new light upon the relationship between modern forms of official and popular culture Using Foucaultian perspectives The Birth of the Museum explores how the public museum should be understood not just as a place of instruction but as a reformatory of manners in which a wide range of regulated social routines and performances take place This invigorating study enriches and challenges the understanding of the museum and places it at the centre of modern relations between culture and government For students of museum cultural and sociology studies this will be an asset to their reading list The Serials Directory ,1994
