National Consciousness in Eighteenth-century Russia Hans Rogger, 1969      Russian Literature in the Eighteenth Century Charles Lovell Drage, 1978      Russian Research Center Studies, 1968      Soviet Criminal Law and Procedure Russian S.F.S.R., Harold Joseph Berman, 1972 There is no better key to the strengths and weaknesses of the Soviet social system than Soviet law Here in English translation is the Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure of the largest of the fifteen Soviet Republics containing the basic criminal law of the Soviet Union and virtually the entire criminal law applicable in Russia and the Law on Court Organization These two codes and the Law which went into effect on January 1 1961 are among the chief products of the Soviet law reform movement which began after Stalin's death and are a concrete reflection of the effort to establish legality and prevent a return to Stalinist arbitrariness and terror In a long introductory essay Harold Berman a leading authority on Soviet law stresses the extent to which the codes are expressed in authentic Soviet legal language based in part on the pre Revolutionary Russian past but oriented to Soviet concepts conditions and policies He outlines the historical background of the new codes with a detailed listing of the major changes reflected in them interprets their significance places them within the system of Soviet law as a whole and discusses some of the principal similarities and differences between Soviet criminal law and procedure and that of Western Europe and of the United States

Transnational Russian-American Travel Writing Margarita Marinova, 2012-05-22 In this study Marinova examines the diverse practices of crossing boundaries tactics of translation and experiences of double and multiple political and national attachments evident in texts about Russo American encounters from the end of the American Civil War to the Russian Revolution of 1905 Marinova brings together published writings archival materials and personal correspondence of well or less known travelers of diverse ethnic backgrounds and artistic predilections from the quintessential American Mark Twain to the Russian Jewish ethnographer and revolutionary Vladimir Bogoraz from masters of realist prose such as the Ukrainian born Vladimir Korolenko and the Jewish Russian American Abraham Cahan to romantic wanderers like Edna Proctor Isabel Hapgood or Grigorii Machtet By highlighting the reification of problematic stereotypes of ethnic and racial difference in these texts Marinova illuminates the astonishing success of the Cold War period's rhetoric of mutual hatred and exclusion and its continuing legacy today      Not Russian Enough? Rutger Helmers, 2014 Offers fresh perspectives on the function of nationalist thought in the cosmopolitan opera world with particular emphasis on the idea of Russianness in four nineteenth century operas by Glinka Serov Tchaikovsky and Rimsky Korsakov In the nineteenth century Russian composers and critics were encouraged to cultivate a national style to distinguish their music from the dominant Italian French and German traditions Not Russian Enough explores this aspiration for a nationalist musical tradition as it was carried out in the cosmopolitan world of opera Rutger Helmers analyzes the cultural context music and reception of four important operas Glinka's A Life for the Tsar 1836 Serov's Judith 1863 Tchaikovsky's The Maid of Orleans 1881 and Rimsky Korsakov's The

Tsar's Bride 1899 He discusses such issues as the influence of Italian and French opera the use of foreign subjects the application of local color and the adherence to the classics and considers how these related to a sense of Russianness Besides yielding new insights for each of these works this study offers a fresh perspective on the function of nationalist thought in the nineteenth century Russian opera world Rutger Helmers is Assistant Professor in Historical Musicology at the University of Amsterdam and lectures in literary and cultural studies at Radboud University Nijmegen Character in the Short Prose of Ivan Sergeevič Turgenev Sander Brouwer, 2023-07-10 In this book the problem of literary character is investigated in a series of detailed analyses of short stories by I S Turgenev Bezhin Lea Mumu A Journey into Poles The Dog and Punin and Baburin Up until roughly the 1920 s in Russia before Formalism the approach to character in literary criticism was based on the implicit assumption that literary character somehow reflected characters in real life who were thought to have a fixed inner essence psychological and or ideological In post formalist structuralist studies on the other hand character as it were dissolved into the textual fabric of the work In this book the basic viewpoint of structuralist theory of character namely its exclusively textual nature is retained But in that case how is the structure of character in texts of the pre modernist era to be described in which the belief in the existence of an inner essence in actual as well as in fictional characters had hardly yet been shaken In order to tackle this problem the author turns to Roman Jakobson's idea taken up and developed by W Schmid and A Hansen Lve that the meaning of a work of literature is generated by the interaction of paradigmatic and syntagmatic mechanisms The image of character in Turgenev's stories is the result of devices characteristic of narrative as well as of verbal art It is partly created with the help of leitmotifs that form sequences of equivalences and of intertextual references Thus social representation is supplemented by lyrical and philosophical overtones Comparable observations have been made by V M Markovic 1982 on Turgenev's novels as well as on those by Pu kin Gogol and Lermontov For the assessment of intra and intertextual equivalences it has been found of great importance to pay more attention than is usually done to folkloric connotations of details in Turgenev's fictional world Thus new layers of meaning can be uncovered in stories that have been considered well studied and a first ever interpretation is given of The Dog a story traditionally regarded as incomprehensible

Emotional Motives in International Relations Rupert Brodersen, 2018-05-16 The study of emotions in International Relations is gaining wide spread attention Within the emotional turn in IR the emotion of rage however has not been given sufficient attention instead being used as short hand for irrationality and excess Rage is arguably one of the oldest and most destructive emotions in human affairs This book offers an innovative approach that seeks to split rage into its traditional manifestation of aggression and violence and into a less visible passive manifestation of Nietzschean Ressentiment This model facilitates a comprehensive understanding of revisionist motivation from the violence of ISIS to the oppositionism of Putin's Russia The aim is to illustrate how a lack of violence can belie vengeful impulses and a silent rage and how acts of violence regardless of brutality are often framed as a type of justice and moral imperative in the mind of the aggressor This book raises serious questions and concerns about legitimacy and order in global affairs and offers a firm theoretical basis for the exploration of present day conflicts The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science ,1961-03

Foreign Affairs Research: Projects and Centers Etats-Unis. Department of State. Bureau of Intelligence and Research,1960 When Art Makes News Katia Dianina,2012-11-15 From the time the word kul tura entered the Russian language in the early nineteenth century Russian arts and letters have thrived on controversy At any given time several versions of culture have coexisted in the Russian public sphere The question of what makes something or someone distinctly Russian was at the core of cultural debates in nineteenth century Russia and continues to preoccupy Russian society to the present day When Art Makes News examines the development of a public discourse on national self representation in nineteenth century Russia as it was styled by the visual arts and popular journalism Katia Dianina tells the story of the missing link between high art and public culture revealing that art became the talk of the nation in the second half of the nineteenth century in the pages of mass circulation press At the heart of Dianina s study is a paradox how did culture become the national idea in a country where few were educated enough to appreciate it Dianina questions the traditional assumptions that culture in tsarist Russia was built primarily from the top down and classical literature alone was responsible for imagining the national community When Art Makes News will appeal to all those interested in Russian culture as well as scholars and students in museum and exhibition studies Latin America's Nationalistic Revolutions American Academy of Political and Social Science,Robert N. Burr,1961 Harvard Ukrainian Studies ,1987 V.K. Trediakovskij and the Russian Poetic Genres, 1730-1760 James L.
