Nationalism And The National Question:

Nationalism and the National Question Nicole Arnaud, Jacques Dofny, 1977 A comparison of the national question in Quebec and a region in France that is also seeking sovereignty A wide ranging series of observations which are easy and satisfying to read Ottawa Journal The National Question James Morris Blaut, 1987 Fatherland Or Mother Earth? Michael Löwy, Michael Lowy, 1998 Examining how writings on national issues by Marx Engels could form the basis of an international dialectic this text shows that by doing justice to national identities linking new forms of social movement new internationalism can be created Nationalism Reframed Rogers Brubaker, 1996-09-28 This study of nationalism in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union develops an original account of the interlocking and opposed nationalisms of national minorities the nationalizing states in which they live and the external national homelands to which they are linked by external ties Critical Remarks on the National Question Vladimir Il'ich Lenin, 1951 The National Question Rosa Luxemburg, 1976 Provocative writings on the question of national self determination and its relationship with socialism

The National Question in Europe in Historical Context Mikuláš Teich, Roy Porter, 1993-05-06 The historical impact of national movements in Europe has been dramatic and continues to be an issue of major importance Leading historians authoritatively discuss European nationalism in its historical context The National Question Berch Berberoglu, 1995-08-29 This volume examines the volatile nature and complex dynamics of national movements and ethnic conflict around the world Nationalism from the Left Yannis Sygkelos, 2011-01-19 Nationalism from the Left examines the nationalist discourse of the BCP in many domains of political life and explains the reasons why the communists resorted to nationalism in the 1940s Imperialism and the National Question V. I. Lenin, 2024-01-16 Fired up by the outbreak of the First World War and outraged by the capitulation of most socialist parties to the demands of national bourgeoisies Lenin sought to understand the deeper roots of the crisis of the world movement The result was Imperialism the Highest Stage of Capitalism which went on to become a core text for the international communist movement But Lenin also sought to break with the Eurocentrism of the socialist movement which tended to look down with disdain at or simply reject struggles for self determination especially among colonized peoples This volume with an introduction by the renowned abolitionist and anti imperialist theorist Ruth Wilson Gilmore brings together the texts on imperialism and those on the national question to provide a window into Lenin's global vision of revolution On the National Question VI Lenin, 2025-01-28 Tsarist Russia was a prison house of nations A majority of the population belonged to national groups oppressed by the tsarist regime which suppressed their languages their religions and their cultures The national question was therefore crucial from the point of view of the workers movement It could only be solved with a revolutionary programme This was a complex question which required firmness in principle and extraordinary flexibility in tactics in combining two different aspects the unity of the working class in one party cutting across national barriers in the common struggle against autocracy and the defence of right of nations of to self determination including their right to form an independent country if they so wished Lenin s ideas and method shine as a remarkable example of this approach The struggle with the Jewish Workers Union the Bund and the polemic with the Polish Social Democrats clarified the revolutionary perspective on the national question Once in power Lenin and the Bolsheviks carried out their programme in practice in the extremely difficult conditions of the civil war and foreign military intervention It was precisely the national question which formed the battleground for Lenin s last struggle against the rising bureaucracy and its heavy handed Great Russian chauvinist approach The national question once again is coming to the fore in this epoch of crisis and instability Lenin s patience and his method of putting forward a class perspective on this question is a rich tradition for communists to learn from today

Nationalism and the International Labor Movement Michael Forman,2007-06-05 The resurgence of nationalism accompanying the decline of Communism has been taken to indicate the failure of socialist theory to grasp the nature of this phenomenon Against both those who argue that the radical tradition has ignored and underestimated nationalism and those who accuse it of economic reductionism this careful analysis of the idea of the nation as it was developed in the work of the major thinkers of the international labor movement reveals evidence of how seriously they grappled with nationalism Each of the main sections of the book focuses on the most influential theorists of the international labor movement as it became organized and grew Bakunin Marx and Engels and the concern of the First International 1864 Lenin Luxemburg and Bauer and the preoccupation of the Second International 1889 1914 with socialism in ethnically plural societies Stalin and Gramsci in relation to the substitution by the Third International 1919 1943 of nation building and national liberation for the old class project In the conclusion the author examines the relationships among ethnic and civic nationality national self determination republican institutions and the process of globalization from the perspective of the post Soviet era and in the light of social theory and Kant s ideas about cosmopolitan right

The State, Identity, and the National Question in China and Japan Germaine A. Hoston,2021-02-09 The first decades of the twentieth century witnessed an explosion of nationalist sentiment in East Asia as in Europe This comprehensive work explores how radical Chinese and Japanese thinkers committed to social change in this turbulent era addressed issues concerning national identity social revolution and the role of the national state in achieving socio economic development Focusing on the adaptation of anarchism and then Marxism Leninism to non European contexts Germaine Hoston shows how Chinese and Japanese theorists attempted to reconcile a relatively new appreciation for the nation state with their allegiance to a vision of internationalist socialist revolution culminating in stateless socialism Given the influence of Western experience on Marxism Chinese and Japanese theorists found the Marxian national question to be not merely one of whether the working man has no country but rather the much more fundamental issue of the relative value of Eastern and Western cultures Marxism argues Hoston thus placed native Marxists in tension with their own heritage and national identity The author traces efforts to resolve this tension throughout the first half of the twentieth century and concludes by examining how the tension persists as Chinese and Japanese dissidents seek identity affirming modernity in accordance with the Western democratic model Reconfiguring Chinese Nationalism J.

Leibold,2016-09-23 The first full length treatment of ethnic and national identity in early Twentieth century China Leibold traces the political and cultural strategies employed by Han Chinese elites in the process of incorporating both discursively and physically the diverse inhabitants of the last Qing dynasty into a new homogenous national community The Oxford Handbook of the History of Nationalism John Breuilly,2013-03-07 Thirty six essays by a team of leading scholars providing a global coverage of the history of nationalism in its different aspects its ideas its sentiments and its politics Serbian Nationalism and the Origins of the Yugoslav Crisis Vesna Pei,1996 Ethnonationalism in the Contemporary World Daniele Conversi,2004 Essential reading for anyone interested in problems associated with ethnicity and nationalism it offers a guide to understanding the ethnonational forces that underpin much of recent terrorist activity
