Nationalism Myth And Reality Harvests:

Chinese Nationalism Jonathan Unger, 2016-09-16 Provides conceptual insights that put the reader in a position to come to grips intellectually with the complex weave of Chinese nationalist sentiment today and in the future

Ethnosymbolism and the Dynamics of Identity Liu Mingxin, Elya Tzaneva, 2015-10-13 This book is an exploration of the potential of the ethnosymbolic approach to nation and identity to act as an instrumental tool for research into the mechanisms of identity building Using insights and data from Bulgarian history and culture it views the construction of Bulgarian national identity as a modern process intimately affected by circumstances which prevailed in nineteenth century Bulgarian society and also as a process which for its structural and psychological prerequisites drew upon and reworked various specific features and peculiarities of an available but always malleable and never fixed Bulgarian ethnic and cultural tradition The development of Bulgarian national identity drew in combination or mutual interaction upon two main sources namely a process of articulating systematising and rationalising ideas of group commonality and ethnic distinctiveness and the mobilising and politicising effect of modern economic and political forces upon that intersubjective process The overall means of national identity construction in all its complexity was achieved as a symbiosis between the historical continuity of a collective ethnic inheritance and the modern dynamics of its political activation and mobilisation The book combines diachronically the ideas and logic of social evolution with a synchronic approach that draws upon the so called instrumentalist view of ethnic phenomena It explores the cultural landscape of available ethnic notions and terms that were utilised as expressions of Bulgarian ethnic identity but which also in that process reshaped all this in response to the changing conditions of Bulgarian society in the nineteenth century As such the book offers an in depth investigation of how ideas of national identity were formed and changed within a modernist framework Furthermore it shows how ethnosymbolism used as a tool and instrumentarium for national identity construction can reveal the main patterns that contribute to what is defined as a discursive construction of identity dynamics in which Cambodian individuals and communities seek to rebuild connections frayed by time distance and politics in the face of this injurious history

Politics without Stories David Ricci,2016-08-19 Liberal candidates scholars and activists mainly promote pragmatism rather than large and powerful narratives which may be called alpha stories for their commanding presence over time Alternatively conservative counterparts to such liberals tend to promote their policy preferences in alpha stories praising effective markets excellent traditions and limited government In this face off liberals represent a post Enlightenment world where many modern people following Max Weber are disenchanted while many conservatives echoing Edmund Burke cherish stories borrowed from the past Politics without Stories describes this storytelling gap as an electoral disadvantage for liberals because their campaigning lacks and will continue to lack the inspiration and shared commitments that great long term stories can provide Therefore Ricci argues that for tactical purposes liberals should concede their post Enlightenment skepticism and rally around short term stories designed to frame in political campaigns immediate situations which they regard as intolerable These may help liberals win elections and influence the course of modern life

Harvests of Liberation Ahmad Shokr,2025-05-20 In the first half of the twentieth century a major change occurred in Egyptian nationalist understandings of imperialism and economic sovereignty Where once the volatilities of foreign markets and capital were seen as the main threat over time large landowners and their imperial allies were targeted as the principal obstacles to the country s industrial progress The perceived locus of imperial domination shifted from the realm of circulation to the realm of production Harvests of Liberation situates this transformation in the midcentury dynamics of agrarian capitalism in Egypt Ahmad Shokr tells a story of decolonization through the lens of cotton Egypt s prized export He follows a range of actors colonial advisors nationalist leaders agrarian reformers merchant financiers landowners and rural workers whose interactions moved the levers of the cotton trade from institutions that facilitated accumulation on an imperial scale to new sites of control within the nation state Amidst depression and war the transformation of Egypt s cotton economy prompted nationalists to embrace policies of land reform and industrialization and adopt a new conception of history Ultimately Shokr argues these efforts set the stage for the construction of a postcolonial republic under Gamal Abdel Nasser where national liberation became equated with national development

The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Analysis Tony Bennett,John Frow,2008-03-26 A genuine one stop reference point for the many many differing strands of cultural analysis This isn t just one contender among many for the title of best multidisciplinary overview this is a true heavyweight Matt Hills Cardiff University An achievement and a delight both compelling and useful Beverley Skeggs Goldsmiths University of London With the cultural turn the concept of culture has assumed enormous importance in our understanding of the interrelations between social political and economic structures patterns of everyday interaction and systems of meaning making In The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Analysis the leading figures in their fields explore the implications of this paradigm shift Part I looks at the major disciplines of knowledge in the humanities and social sciences asking how they have been reshaped by the cultural turn and how they have elaborated distinctive new objects of knowledge Parts II and III examine the questions arising from a practice of analysis in which the researcher is drawn reflexively into the object of study and in which methodological frameworks are rarely given in advance Addressed to academics and advanced students in all fields of the social sciences and humanities The SAGE Handbook of Cultural Analysis is at once a synthesis of advances in the field with a comprehensive coverage of the scholarly literature and a collection of original and provocative essays by some of the brightest intellectuals of our time The Marxist Quarterly ,1962 Charles Stewart Parnell and His Times N. C. Fleming, Alan O'Day, 2011-07-06 Charles Stewart Parnell 1846 1891 wrote remarkably little about himself but he has attracted the attention of many writers politicians and scholars both during his lifetime and ever since His controversial and provocative role in Irish and British affairs had him vilified as a murderer in The Times and afterwards dramatically vindicated by the Westminster Parliament It cast him as a romantic hero to the young James Joyce and a self serving opportunist to the journalists of the Nation Parnell has been the subject of court cases parliamentary enquiries and debates journalism plays poems literary analysis and historical studies For the first time all these have been collected catalogued and cross referenced in one volume an invaluable resource for scholars of late nineteenth century Ireland and Britain Divided into fifteen chapters including a biographical sketch the volume contains information on manuscript and archival collections printed primary sources Parnell's writing Parnell's speeches in the House of Commons and outside Parliament contemporary journalism contemporary writing and contemporary illustrations on Irish affairs and a substantial list of scholarly work including biographies books articles chapters and theses This volume offers readers a clear record of the substantial material already available on Parnell and in doing so offers resources to future research in this area The Australian Journal of Chinese Affairs ,1992 Nationalism Boyd C. Shafer, 1955 Defining a changing China in global politics Chun Lin, 2000 Québec Confronts Canada Edward M. Corbett, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1967 The nationalistic sentiment of French Canada was starkly dramatized by the Montreal terrorist bombings in the spring of 1963 Admittedly the work of extremists that eruption of violence was an offshoot of the profound social political economic and cultural transformation an accelerated evolution rather than a revolution that Quebec has undergone since the end of World War II This revolution tranquille is characterized by a new sense of self confidence among French Canadians an eagerness to reject what they regard as any hint of second class citizenship and a determination to take full share in all aspects of Canadian life without however sacrificing their French culture and heritage A threat to the Canadian Confederation is implicit in the growing reluctance of modern French speaking Canadians to abide the tyranny of the majority however enlightened or well intentioned it may be This first book length study in English of the conflict between French and English Canadians provides a thorough treatment of French Canadian complaints against English Canada and of their implications for Canadian unity Dr Corbett devotes the first part of his study to an analysis of the ferment within the French speaking population of Quebec during the postwar period He discusses the relation between French Canadian nationalism and other nationalisms and the roles played by the language barrier the church and the separatist movement In the second part of the study he considers the political economic and social implications of separatism with particular regard to the proposals for adapting the Constitution to Quebecois demands After tracing the evolution of the ambivalent English Canadian concept of Canada s national identity he concludes that the future of the Confederation will depend on how far the English majority is willing to go in meeting French demands

Harvest of Souls Carole Blackburn, 2004 In 1632 Jesuit missionary Paul Le Jeune newly arrived at the fort of Quebec wrote the first of the Relations to his superior in Paris initiating a series of biannual mission reports that came to be known as the Jesuit Relations In Harvest of Souls Carole Blackburn presents a contemporary interpretation of the 1632-1650 Relations arguing that they are colonizing texts in which the Jesuits use language imagery and forms of knowledge to legitimize relations of inequality with the Huron and Montagnais By combining textual analysis with an ethnographic study of the Jesuits Blackburn is able to reveal the gap between the domineering language of the Relations and the limited authority that the Jesuits were able to exercise over Native people who actively challenged much of what the Jesuits tried to do and say She highlights the struggle between the Jesuits and Natives over the meaning of Christianity The Jesuits attempted to convey their Christian message through Native languages and cultural idioms Blackburn shows that this resulted in the displacement of much of the content of the message and demonstrates that the Native people s acts of resistance took up and transformed aspects of the Jesuits teachings in ways that subverted their authority
