Native Intelligence Aesthetics Politics And Postcolonial Literature:

Native Intelligence Deepika Bahri, 2003 A compelling reclamation of the place of aesthetics in postcolonial literature Literature though it may be postcolonial literature is studied and understood largely and often solely in social and political terms In neglecting its aesthetic dimension as this book forcefully demonstrates we are overlooking not only an essential aspect of this literature but even a critical perspective on its sociopolitical function and value In Native Intelligence Deepika Bahri focuses on postcolonial literature's formal and aesthetic negotiations with sociopolitical concerns How Bahri asks do aesthetic considerations contest the social function of postcolonial literature In answering her book takes on two tasks First it identifies the burden of representation borne by post colonial literature through its progressive politicization Second it draws on Frankfurt School critical theory to reclaim a place for aesthetics in literary representation by closely engaging works of Rohinton Mistry Salman Rushdie and Arundhati Roy Throughout Bahri shows how attention to the aesthetic innovations and utopian impulses of postcolonial works uncovers their complex and uneven relationship to ideology reanimating their potential to make novel contributions to the larger project of social liberation

Language and Translation in Postcolonial Literatures Simona Bertacco, 2013-12-17 This collection gathers together a stellar group of contributors offering innovative perspectives on the issues of language and translation in postcolonial studies In a world where bi and multilingualism have become quite normal this volume identifies a gap in the critical apparatus in postcolonial studies in order to read cultural texts emerging out of multilingual contexts The role of translation and an awareness of the multilingual spaces in which many postcolonial texts are written are fundamental issues with which postcolonial studies needs to engage in a far more concerted fashion The essays in this book by contributors from Australia New Zealand Zimbabwe Cyprus Malaysia Quebec Ireland France Scotland the US and Italy outline a pragmatics of language and translation of value to scholars with an interest in the changing forms of literature and culture in our times Essay topics include multilingual textual politics the benefits of multilingual education in postcolonial countries the language of gender and sexuality in postcolonial literatures translational cities postcolonial calligraphy globalization and the new digital ecology Recognition and Ethics in World Literature Vincent van Bever Donker, 2016-07-05 Recognition and Ethics in World Literature is a critical comparative study of contemporary world literature focusing on the importance of the ethical turn or return in literary theory The book examines the ethical engagement of novels by Amitav Ghosh Chimamanda Adichie Caryl Phillips Kazuo Ishiguro Zadie Smith and J M Coetzee exploring the overlap and divergence between Levinasian Derridean and Aristotelian ethics Recognitions and emotional responses are integral to the unfolding of ethical concerns and the ethics they explore are often marked by the complexity and impurity characteristic of the tragic Recognition is particularly suitable for the concerns of world literature authors in its interconnection of the universal and the particular a binary that has been crucial in postcolonialism and remains important for the wider field of world literature This study builds its analysis around three broad themes religion the memory of violence and the human Imagination and the Contemporary Novel John J. Su, 2011-05-26 Imagination and the Contemporary Novel examines the global preoccupation with the imagination among literary authors with ties to former colonies of the British Empire since the 1960s John Su draws on a wide range of authors including Peter Ackroyd Monica Ali Julian Barnes Andr Brink J M Coetzee John Fowles Amitav Ghosh Nadine Gordimer Hanif Kureishi Salman Rushdie and Zadie Smith This study rehabilitates the category of imagination in order to understand a broad range of contemporary Anglophone literature The responses of such literature to shifts in global capitalism have often been misunderstood by the dominant categories of literary studies the postmodern and the postcolonial As both an insightful critique into the themes that drive a range of today's best novelists and a bold restatement of what the imagination is and what it means for contemporary culture this book breaks new ground in the study of twenty first century literature Literary Form as Postcolonial Critique Katharine Burkitt, 2012 Focusing on works by Derek Walcott Les Murray Anne Carson and Bernardine Evaristo Burkitt investigates the relationship between literary form and textual politics in postcolonial narrative poems and verse novels Her book makes a critical intervention in the politics of literary form as she notes the way works by these authors disrupt and undermine the expectations attached to particular genres and literary traditions Writing After Postcolonialism Jane Hiddleston, 2017-09-21 Focusing on francophone writing from North Africa as it has developed since the 1980s Writing After Postcolonialism explores the extent to which the notion of postcolonialism is still resonant for literary writers a generation or more after independence and examines the troubled status of literature in society and politics during this period Whilst analysing the ways in which writers from Algeria Morocco and Tunisia have reacted to political unrest and social dissatisfaction Jane Hiddleston offers a compelling reflection on literature's ability to interrogate the postcolonial nation as well as on its own uncertain role in the current context The book sets out both to situate the recent generation of francophone writers in North Africa in relation to contemporary politics to postcolonial theory and evolving notions of world literature and to probe the ways in which a new and highly sophisticated set of writers reflect on the very notion of the literary during this period of transition

The Short Story after Apartheid Graham K. Riach, 2023-10-15 Honourable Mention in the 2023 British Association for Contemporary Literary Studies Monograph Prize The Short Story after Apartheid offers the first major study of the anglophone short story in South Africa since apartheid's end By focusing on the short story this book complicates models of South African literature dominated by the novel and contributes to a much needed generic and formalist turn in postcolonial studies Literary texts are sites of productive struggle between formal and extra formal concerns and these brief fragmentary elliptical formally innovative stories offer perspectives that reframe or revise important concerns of post apartheid literature the aesthetics of engaged writing the politics of the past class and race the legacies of violence and the struggle over the land Through an analysis of key texts from the period by Nadine Gordimer Ivan Vladislavi Zo Wicomb Phaswane Mpe and Henrietta Rose Innes this book assesses the place of the short story in post apartheid writing and develops a fuller model of how artworks allow and disallow forms of social thought

Postcolonial Poetics Elleke Boehmer, 2018-06-27 Postcolonial Poetics is about how we read postcolonial and world literatures today and about how the structures of that writing shape our reading The book's eight chapters explore the ways in which postcolonial writing in English from various 21st century contexts including southern and West Africa and Black and Asian Britain interacts with our imaginative understanding of the world Throughout the focus is on reading practices where reading is taken as an inventive border traversing activity one that postcolonial writing with its interests in margins intersections subversions and crossings specifically encourages This close sustained focus on reading reception and literariness is an outstanding feature of the study as is its wide generic range embracing poetry essays and life writing as well as fiction The field defining scholar Elleke Boehmer holds that literature has the capacity to keep reimagining and refreshing how we understand ourselves in relation to the world and to some of the most pressing questions of our time including resistance reconciliation survival after terror and migration

The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy and Literature Richard Eldridge, 2009-03-27 This title investigates literature as a form of attention to human life Various forms of attention are considered and in each case the effort is to track and evaluate how specific modes and works of imaginative literature answer to important needs of human subjects

Anticolonial Form Alexandra Reza, 2024 Raza examines key literary journals published in French English and Portuguese by African writers in Europe in the period of decolonization mainly between 1940 and 1970 to understand how writers understood Empire as a political and cultural structure and what conceptions of freedom culture and society underpinned anti colonial thinking
