Wintz, 1996 Twenty nine collected essays represent a critical history of Shakespeare's play as text and as theater beginning with Samuel Johnson in 1765 and ending with a review of the Royal Shakespeare Company production in 1991 The criticism centers on three aspects of the play the love friendship debate Faithful Vision James W. Coleman, 2009-08-01 This is a marvelous and sustained discussion of faithful vision and its significant influence on African American literature American Literature In Faithful Vision James W. Coleman places under his critical lens a wide array of African American novels written during the last half of the twentieth century In doing so he demonstrates that religious vision not only informs black literature but also serves as a foundation for black culture generally The Judeo Christian tradition according to Coleman is the primary component of the African American spiritual perspective though its syncretism with voodoo hoodoo a religion transported from West Africa through the West Indies and New Orleans to the rest of black America also figures largely Reviewing novels written mainly since 1950 by writers including James Baldwin Randall Kenan Toni Morrison John Edgar Wideman Alice Walker Gloria Naylor Erna Brodber and Ishmael Reed among others Coleman explores how black authors have addressed the relevance of faith especially as it relates to an oppressive Christian tradition He shows that their novels no matter how critical of the sacred or supernatural or how skeptical the characters viewpoints ultimately never reject the vision of faith With its focus on religious experience and tradition and its wider discussion of history philosophy gender and postmodernism Faithful Vision brings a bold critical dimension to African American literary studies An insightful interrogation of the complexities of religious discourse in the African American literary tradition Because it superbly translates complex spiritual ethos into literary tradition this remarkable book is a must for anyone interested in intersections of the sacred and the secular in black cultural productions Southern Literary Journal Faithful Vision both looks intently into faith and shows us how to look Christianity and Literature

American novel by Richard Wright American Literature in Transition, 1950–1960 Steven Belletto, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1950 1960 explores the under recognized complexity and variety of 1950s American literature by focalizing discussions through a series of keywords and formats that encourage readers to draw fresh connections among literary form and concepts institutions cultures and social phenomena important to the decade The first section draws attention to the relationship between literature and cultural phenomena that were new to the 1950s The second section demonstrates the range of subject positions important in the 1950s but still not visible in many accounts of the era The third section explores key literary schools or movements associated with the decade and explains how and why they developed at this particular cultural moment The final section focuses on specific forms or genres that grew to special prominence during the 1950s Taken together the chapters in the four sections not only encourage us to rethink familiar texts and figures in new lights but they also propose new archives for future study of the decade Raising the Dead Sharon Patricia Holland, 2000-03-29 Through a series of literary and cultural readings argues that African Americans have a special relation to death arising from their death like social marginality
