Nattering On The Net:

Nattering on the Net Dale Spender, 1996 Dale Spender promises to change the way we think about computers

Cyberlines 2.0 Donna Gibbs, Kerri-Lee Krause, 2006 As one of the most significant and original cross cultural analyses of the distinctive language and culture of the internet this book offers an exciting and original critique of the futuristic synthesis of the linguistic visual spatial and digital dimensions which characterise the world of the internet Recognising that information technology and languages and cultures of the internet continue to expand almost exponentially the authors provide a timely analysis of the themes and key concepts necessary for understanding the new languages of the internet The book is organised around four interrelated themes The languages of cyberspace New literacies Gaming and socialising and Culture and communities in cyberspace The authors build on the new tech discourses and tech cultures of the internet Internationally acclaimed authors examine the cultural dimensions of cyberlanguage screen reading and critical literacy negotiating the web literacy and technology pedagogy of education entertainment children and CD Rom technology identity and mobile phones cyberself and identity on the internet and the new literacies of blogging and SMS messaging This insightful and provocative study demonstrates the profound effects of information technology on the evolving global cultures and subcultures caused by these new forms of thinking perceiving and communication Cyberlines 2.0 Languages and cultures of the internet is an essential text for teachers students IT professionals media analysts and marketing directors Handbook of Open, Distance and Digital Education Olaf Zawacki-Richter, Insung Jung, 2023-01-01 This open access handbook offers a one stop shop for both new and established researchers educators policy makers and administrators in the field of open distance and digital education ODDE to gain a comprehensive overview of the history theory and practice at all levels of ODDE and at the same time stimulates in depth discussions on various themes and issues of ODDE for today and future Researchers scholars and students in the field of ODDE can use this handbook as a major reference to conduct their own research and learning agendas To cover the field comprehensively the handbook is structured following the 3M framework developed by one of the chief editors Zawacki Richter The 3M framework categorizes the major research areas and issues in ODDE on three levels Accordingly the handbook is divided into six sections in total two sections at each of the three levels 1 Macro Level ODDE Systems and Theories 2 Meso Level Institutional Perspectives Management and Organization and 3 Micro Level Learning and Teaching in ODDE This is an open access book Infidelity on the Internet Marlene M. Maheu, Rona Subotnik, 2001 Discusses the social effects of virtual infidelity on those in committed relationships analyzing how such affairs develop different types of sexual activity on the Internet and how to recover from cyber infidelity Elusive Consumption Karin M. Ekström, Helene Brembeck, 2020-05-27 In the context of rising consumerism and globalization books on consumption are numerous These tend to be firmly rooted in particular disciplines however sociology anthropology business or cultural studies and as a result often present a blinkered view Charged with the mission of unravelling what consumption means and how it operates the worlds leading experts were flown to a secluded location in Sweden to battle it out This pioneering book represents the outcome Ranging from the little black dress to on line communities Elusive Consumption challenges our very understanding of consumerism How successful is the advertising world in manipulating our buying patterns Does the global marketplace promote cultural homogeneity or heterogeneity Is the West really more of a consumerist civilization than other countries Does the advertising of certain products influence a voters choice of political party How are products associated and marketed to different genders These controversial topics and many more are discussed Covering virtually every aspect of the word consumerism Elusive Consumption provides a state of the art view of the highly commercialized society we inhabit today Some might have it that consumers are unwitting pawns completely lacking in agency Others might argue that consumer choices are empowering and subtly shape production Richard Wilk Colin Campbell John F Sherry Richard Elliott Russell Belk and Daniel Miller who offers the most persuasive argument in this battle royal

Communication Technology Darin Barney, 2011-11-01 When the Internet began to emerge as a popular new mode of communication many political scientists and social commentators believed that it would revolutionize our democratic institutions Today voter turnout is at an historic low and Internet usage is at an all time high Can we still make the claim that new information and communication technologies ICTs enhance democratic life in Canada What effect does the technological mediation of political communication have on the practice of Canadian politics How have such technologies affected the distribution of power in society Darin Barney investigates the links between ICTs and democratic processes arguing that the potential of digital technologies to contribute to a more democratic political system will remain largely untapped unless the more conventional dimensions of Canadian politics the economy and modes of governance are reoriented

The A-Z of Social Research Robert Lee Miller, John D Brewer, 2003-03-21 A detailed and valuable addition to the literature that will be a very useful resource for lecturers as well as having a wide appeal among students Tim May University of Salford Have you ever wondered what a concise comprehensive book providing critical guidance to the whole expanse of social science research methods and issues might look like The A Z is a collection of 94 entries ranging from qualitative research techniques to statistical testing and the practicalities of using the Internet as a research tool Alphabetically arranged in accessible reader friendly formats the shortest entries are 800 words long and the longest are 3000 Most entries are approximately 1500 words in length and are supported by suggestions for further reading The book Answers the demand for a practical fast and concise introduction to the key concepts and methods in social research Supplies students with impeccable information that can be used in essays exams and research projects Demystifies a field that students often find daunting This is a refreshing book on social research methods which understands the pressures that modern students face in their work load and seeks to supply an authoritative study guide to the field It should fulfil a long standing need in undergraduate research methods courses for an unpatronising utterly reliable aid to making sense of research methods

Feminist International Relations Through a Technospacial Lens Gillian Youngs, 2024-11-14 Feminist International Relations Through a Technospacial Lens is a rich thought provoking and wide ranging assessment of power and empowerment in the digital age Artificial intelligence AI innovations have launched a new era of policy and public engagement with the workings of digital economy and the scale of its possibilities and risks How beneficial will its data driven technological advances be across scientific medical and commercial sectors and what are the dangers of its increasing capacities to replace human presence and interactions with convincing replications These are the kinds of big new questions societies confront Answers will need to draw on deep understanding of technospacial and technosocial dimensions of digital economy and how it has extended deepened and transformed automation as a continuing feature of earlier industrial economy transitions These are the central themes addressed in this book which presents a new analysis supported by a range of material related to more than a quarter of a century of Gillian Youngs applied research and practice on power and empowerment in the digital world The book examines the complex masculinist abstractions and structures that have framed technology as intrinsic to the momentum of change in unquestioned ways in political economy and its state and market drivers including in research policy corporate and profit driven strategies To transcend these abstractions and open up pathways for full sociotechnical interrogation of the promise and hazards of advances such as AI the author's distinctive critical approach combines insights from feminist theory and practice political economy and media and communications Contributing to advancing feminist international relations and consolidating its distinctive place in cutting edge social and political science this book will speak to scholars and students of international relations politics women's and gender studies as well as geography sociology and media and communications

The Church as Salt and Light Stan Chu Ilo, Joseph Ogbonnaya, Alex Ojacor, 2012-10-01 At once prophetic pastoral and personal this book applies the symbols of salt and light as ecclesiological images for reimagining the African Church for today and tomorrow The proposal of this book is to reconsider the path towards abundant life for God's people in the challenging context of African continent and through the agency of African Christianity The contributors stress the necessity of de Westernizing African Christianity and ask these fundamental questions What is the face of Jesus in African Christianity What is the face and identity of the Church in Africa What positive imprint is Christianity leaving on the lives and societies of African Christians Does the Christian message have the potential of positively affecting African civilization as it once did in Europe What is the relevance and place of African Christianity as a significant voice in shaping both the future of Africa and that of world Christianity

Technology and In/equality Flis Henwood, Nod Miller, Peter Senker, Sally Wyatt, 2002-01-04 Technology and In/equality explores the diverse implications of the new information and communication technologies through case studies of their applications in three main areas media education and training and work Questions of access to and control over crucial resources such as information knowledge skills and income are addressed drawing upon insights from science and technology studies innovation theory sociology and cultural studies All of the chapters question the meanings of the terms technology and inequality and of the widespread association of technology with progress Written with a non specialist readership in mind all complex theories and key concepts are carefully explained making the book easily accessible and relevant to a wide range of courses

Digital Decision Making Ray Corrigan,2007-06-11 Since the mid 1990s when the general public began using the Internet governments and commerce have made vast investments in digital communications technology There has been confusion and sometimes controversy over these for example the proposed UK identity card system The far reaching commercial and social implications of decisions made in invisible or opaque specialist fields should concern every citizen This book argues that decisions should be based on an understanding of the systems technology and environment within which they operate that experts and ordinary people should work together and that technology and law are evolving in restrictive rather than enabling ways

Dangerous Territories Leslie G. Roman,Linda Eyre,2013-10-11 With the recent conservative retrenchment educational institutions have witnessed a backlash against the gains made by feminist and antiracist activists Dangerous Territories examines higher education as one site of this backlash at the same time challenging the binary framing of discourse as reactionary vs progressive or Right vs Left Contributors are scholars working within and across a variety of disciplines including law history sociology education literature women s studies queer theory cultural politics and postcolonialism

Women, Work and Computerization Ellen Balka,Richard Smith,2013-11-11 ELLENBALKA Simon Fraser University ebalka Sfu ca 1 INTRODUCTION In developing the call for papers for the 7th International Federation of Information Processors IFIP Women Work and Computerization Conference we sought to cast our net widely We wanted to encourage presenters to think broadly about women work and computerization Towards this end the programme committee developed a call for papers that in its final form requested paper submissions around four related themes These are 1 Setting the Course Taking Stock of Where We Are and Where We re Going 2 Charting Undiscovered Terrain Creating Models Tools and Theories 3 Navigating the Unknown Sex Time Space and Place and 4 Taking the Helm Education and Pedagogy Our overall conference theme Charting a Course to the Future was inspired in part by Vancouver s geography which is both coastal and mountainous As such navigation plays an important part in the lives of many as we seek to enjoy our environs In addition as the first Women Work and Computerization conference of the new millennium we hoped to encourage the broad community of scholars that has made past Women Work and Computerization conferences a success to actively engage in imagining and working towards a better future for women in relation to computers The contributions to this volume are both a reflection of the hard work undertaken by many to improve the situation of women in relation to computerization and a testament to how much work is yet to be done

Virtual Ethnicity Linda Leung,2017-09-08 Where is the ethnic minority presence in cyberspace In this book Linda Leung makes a pioneering exploration of ethnic minority presence in cyberspace She finds that despite the apparent white Western male middle class profile of cyberspace there is significant ethnic minority activity The work draws on the author's empirical research amongst ethnic minority women and incorporates discussion of media and web texts from the US Canada Britain and Australia This is a fascinating interdisciplinary examination of the web participation of ethnic communities which sheds light on how ethnic identities are articulated in cyberspace and contemporary society in both predictable and surprising ways

Educating Young Adolescent Girls Patricia

O'Reilly, Elizabeth M. Penn, Kathleen B. deMarrais, 2001-06-01 This text for preservice and in service teacher education courses shows how schools can educate girls and promote their positive self esteem at the same time Its purpose is to help teachers facilitate the development of gender equitable schools and classrooms Taking a feminist developmental approach the text draws on an interdisciplinary knowledge base synthesizing research from psychology anthropology sociology and education While it is rooted in scholarly research the focus is on clarifying the connection between theory and practice with an emphasis on practical applications The text is organized in two sections Growth and Development and Teaching and Learning and includes a variety of engaging pedagogical features Underscoring the need for teachers school administrators and parents to become aware of the intersection of development and education Educating Young Adolescent Girls combines gender growth and development demonstrates how schooling can facilitate the total development of young adolescent girls and addresses a multiplicity of issues including adolescent girls of color and young adolescents girls sexuality

Implementing Computer Supported Cooperative Learning David McConnell, 2000 A BOOK THAT TELLS HOW TO THE COMPUTER AND THE INTERNET TO ENHANCE GROUP LEARNING Culture, Technology, Communication Charles Ess, 2001-06-07 Stability and success in our electronic global village increasingly depends on the complex interactions of culture communication and technology This book offers both theoretical approaches and case studies of these interactions from diverse cultural domains including Europe the Middle East Asia and the United States This global perspective helps to counteract the Anglo American presumptions that have dominated discussion and literature on computer mediated communication CMC technologies The contributors uncover and challenge the culture bound values and communicative preferences inherent in CMC technologies including values and preferences related to gender and also document non Western examples of implementing these technologies in ways that catalyze global communication while preserving and enhancing local cultures Taken together these essays articulate the interdisciplinary foundations and practical models necessary to design and use CMC technologies in ways that help us to avoid the choice between a global but culturally homogenous McWorld and fragmented local cultures whose identities are preserved only in their opposition to globalization

ICT: Changing Education Chris Abbott, 2003-09-02 In this timely and accessible book Chris Abbott examines the process by which ICT and in particular its role in relation to literacy has become central to national educational policies

Virtual Gender Alison Adam, Eileen Green, 2005-08-03 As yet there has been relatively little published on women's activities in relation to new digital technologies Virtual Gender brings together theoretical perspectives from feminist theory

the sociology of technology and gender studies with well designed empirical studies to throw new light on the impact of ICTs on contemporary social life A line up of authors from around the world looks at the gender and technology issues related to leisure pleasure and consumption identity and self Their research is set against a backcloth of renewed interest in citizenship and ethics and how these concepts are recreated in an on line situation particularly in local settings With chapters on subjects ranging from gender switching on line computer games and cyberstalking to the use of the domestic telephone this stimulating collection challenges the stereotype of woman as a passive victim of technology It offers new ways of looking at the many dimensions in which ICTs can be said to be gendered and will be a rich resource for students and teachers in this expanding field of study

Technospaces Sally Munt, 2001-06-20 Science and technology have had a profound effect on the way humans perceive space and time In this book an international team of authors explore themes of depth and surface of real and conceptual space and of human machine interaction The collection is organized around the concept of Technospace the temporal realm where technology meets human practice In exploring this intersection the contributors initiate debate on a number of important conceptual questions Is there a clear distinction between the real spaces of the body or the city and the conceptual space of virtual reality How are real and metaphorical spaces of electronic cultures quantified and regulated Is there an ethics of technospace Historically the reception of new technologies has been invested with romantic idealism on the one hand and panic on the other The authors argue that in order for utopian dreams to be tempered by ethical humanistic needs we have an urgent need to reveal reflect upon and evaluate technospace and our relationship to it
