Shifting the Blame Nan Goodman, 2021-03-09

Drawing on legal cases legal debates and fiction including works by James Fenimore Cooper Mark Twain Stephen Crane and Charles Chesnutt Nan Goodman investigates changing notions of responsibility and agency in nineteenth century America By looking at accidents and accident law in the industrializing society Goodman shows how courts moved away from the doctrine of strict liability to a new notion of liability that emphasized fault and negligence Shifting the Blame reveals the pervasive impact of this radically new theory of responsibility in understandings of industrial hazards in manufacturing dangers and in the stories that were told and retold about accidents In exciting tales of the actions of good Samaritans or of sea steamboat or railroad accidents features of risk that might otherwise escape our attention such as the suddenness of impact the encounter between strangers and the debates over blame and responsibility were reconstructed in a manner that revealed both imagined and actual solutions to one of the most difficult philosophical and social conflicts in the nineteenth century United States Through literary and legal stories of accidents Goodman suggests we learn a great deal about what Americans thought about blame injury and individual responsibility in one of the most formative periods of our history

New to the Game Mark Schoedl,2020-08-18 There appears to be a distance between the person one presents and the real person hidden beneath the veneer Many more people from all walks of life have surrendered to their image to achieve recognition to make ends meet or to live the quiet life away from all the hullabaloo One cannot escape one s fate no matter how hard one tries So perhaps the impossible is possible just be yourself Many laugh behind their breath at this supposition However does winning a game or holding onto fractured relationships make your world a flawed yet wholesome endeavor that you can rest your hat on These are questions we all ask ourselves in our own private lives away from the hardened world around us Since we only have now perhaps it is time to feel the disparate sorrows and pitfalls we have created and to walk out into the world anew without all those pent up preconceived notions that we cannot seem to shed After all our egos are as fractured and sullen as everyone around us It s a new day Who knows what today will bring I too fall within this conundrum My stories reach into what I have seen and experienced throughout my life I cannot make sense of what the game of life has offered me Even in America things are quite bleak when I cannot seem to muster the effort to confront them just because I need to survive like everybody else It is hard for all of us So let us drop the supposition that just go along to get along is our calling card in this world After all it is only a world that we have accepted as the best of all possible worlds Voltaire I refuse to accept this as my path Path Is not this world a pathless land My sixteen stories from my new book New to the Game run over the same conflicts and escapism that many have held onto over the generations and yet some daring persons see their own masked reality feel its searing anguish and let it fall to touch and feel new worlds worlds they had no idea existed until they have had enough of their own biased and contrived ideals Kaapse bibliotekaris ,2009 Issues for Nov 1957 include section Accessions Aanwinste Sept 1957 Outing ,1902 Natty's violin Charles H.
