Natural Children's Health:

Our Children's Health Bonnie C. Minsky, Lisa E. Holk, 2002 Leading nutritionist Bonnie Minsky takes up the cause of the rapidly declining health of our nation's children. She provides much needed practical information to give back children their inherent state of good health, normal weight, and boundless good energy.

Children and the Environment Irwin Altman, 2012-12-06 In the first two volumes of the series we elected to cover a broad spectrum of topics in the environment and behavior field ranging from theoretical to applied and including disciplinary, interdisciplinary, and professionally related topics. Chapters in these earlier volumes dealt with leisure and recreation, the elderly, personal space, aesthetics, energy, behavioral approaches to environmental problems, methodological issues, social indicators, industrial settings, and the like. Chapters were written by psychologists, sociologists, geographers, and other social scientists, and by authors from professional design fields such as urban planning, operations research, landscape architecture, and so on. Our goal in these first two volumes was to present a sampling of areas in the emerging environment and behavior field and to give readers some insight into the diversity of research and theoretical perspectives that characterize the field. Beginning with the present volume, our efforts will be directed at a series of thematic volumes. The present collection of chapters is focused on children and the environment, and as much as possible we invited contributions that reflect a variety of theoretical and empirical perspectives on this topic. The next volume in the series, now in preparation, will address the area of culture and the environment.

Suggestions for possible future topics are welcome.

Children's Healthcare and Parental Media Engagement in Urban China Qian Gong, 2016-10-25 This book analyses parental anxieties about their children's healthcare issues in urban China, engaging with wider theoretical debates about modernity, risk, and anxiety. It examines the broader social, cultural, and historical contexts of parental anxiety by analysing a series of socio-economic changes and population policy changes in post-reform China that contextualise parental experiences. Drawing on Wilkinson's 2001 conceptualisation linking individual's risk consciousness to anxiety, this book analyses the situated risk experiences of parents and grandparents, looking particularly into their engagement with various types of media. It studies the representations of health issues and health-related risks in a parenting magazine, popular newspapers, commercial advertising, and new media, as well as parents and grandparents' engagement with, and response to, these media representations. By investigating a culture of anxiety among parents and grandparents in contemporary China, this book seeks to add to the scholarship of contemporary parenthood in a non-Western context.
