The Chinese in Papua New Guinea Anna Hayes, Rosita Henry, Michael Wood, 2024-05-16 Papua New Guinean Chinese and Australian people have long been entangled in the creation of complex histories and political debates concerning the similarities and differences of each group These debates are fundamental to understanding how a sense of national unity in Papua New Guinea is formed as well as within analyses of the wider world of strategic power dynamics and influence The Chinese in Papua New Guinea offers a comprehensive and nuanced examination of the Chinese in Papua New Guinea Chinese Papua New Guinean and Australian interactions are analysed in the context of ongoing shifts in colonial power increased regional engagement with China and current political instabilities across the Indo Pacific region The many ways the Chinese have been defined as actors in PNG s history and politics are analysed against the backdrop of a rapidly changing global order The complexity of Chinese experiences within Papua New Guinea is given expression here with chapters that stress political and historical heterogeneity the importance of language for understanding Chinese social relations and that articulate rich personal experiences of race relations

IꞑUꞑr'evna Aïkhenval'd, R. M. W. Dixon, 2014-02 This book explores the expression of information source inferences assumptions probability and possibility and gradations of doubt and beliefs across a wide range of languages in different cultural settings Like others in the series it will interest both linguists and linguistically minded anthropologists A Witch's Hand William E. Mitchell, 2024-05-29 William E Mitchell revisits his early fieldwork with a three part study of the history of colonial rule in Papua New Guinea From 1971 to 1972 William E Mitchell undertook fieldwork on suffering and healing among the Lujere of Papua New Guinea s Upper Sepik River Basin At a time when it was not yet common to make colonial agencies a subject of anthropological study Mitchell carefully located his research on Lujere practices in the framework of a history of colonization that surrounded the Lujere with a shifting array of Western institutions dramatically changing their society forever Mitchell s work has been well known among anthropologists of Oceania but the material in this book has remained unpublished until now In this major new work Mitchell revisits his early fieldwork with a three part study of the history of colonial rule in the region the social organization of Lujere life at the time and the forms of affliction witchcraft and curing that preoccupied them Furthermore Mitchell offers the first sweeping cross cultural survey of sanguma magical murder in Oceania The book presents a vivid portrait of a society that has since changed dramatically as well as an approach to anthropology that was typical of the era This is a significant contribution to the ethnography of Papua New Guinea and is sure to be an invaluable source for researchers of Melanesia medical anthropologists and scholars of kinship myth and ritual

Geological Survey Professional Paper ,1949 Australian National Bibliography ,1994-05 South Pacific Bibliography ,1996 Island Rivers John R. Wagner, Jerry K. Jacka, 2018-06-19 Anthropologists have written a great deal about the coastal adaptations and seafaring traditions of Pacific Islanders but have had much less to say about the significance of rivers for Pacific island culture livelihood and identity The authors of this collection seek to fill that gap in the ethnographic record by drawing attention to the deep historical attachments of island communities to rivers and the ways in which those attachments are changing in response to various forms of economic development and social change In addition to making a unique contribution to Pacific island ethnography the authors of this volume speak to a global set of issues of immense importance to a world in which water scarcity conflict pollution and the degradation of riparian environments afflict growing numbers of people Several authors take a political ecology approach to their topic but the emphasis here is less on hydro politics than on the cultural meaning of rivers to the communities we describe How has the cultural significance of rivers shifted as a result of colonisation development and nation building How do people whose identities are fundamentally rooted in their relationship to a particular river renegotiate that relationship when the river is dammed to generate hydro power or polluted by mining activities How do blockages in the flow of rivers and underground springs interrupt the intergenerational transmission of local ecological knowledge and hence the ability of local communities to construct collective identities rooted in a sense of place
