Reforming Mary Beth Kreitzer, 2004-03-18 Catholics and Protestants have since the earliest days of the Reformation held markedly different views about the Virgin Mary In Reforming Mary Beth Kreitzer examines the development of Lutheran views on this subject as expressed in 16th century Lutheran published sermons starting with the earliest of Luther's own Reformation sermons She shows that from the beginning Lutherans rejected much of the theology and piety that surrounded Mary in Catholicism especially her status as heavenly queen and intercessor with Christ They affirmed those orthodox teachings about Mary that related to Christ the Virgin's role as Theotokos the virgin birth and by extension Mary's purity or perpetual virginity As time went on Lutheran preachers showed less interest in Mary as a topic and by the later part of the century showed an increasingly harsh and critical view of her These later sermons reveal a new willingness in opposition to received tradition to impute sin to Mary Kreitzer attributes this changed attitude to the increasing distance of Lutherans from their Catholic roots the logical results of theological changes in the Reformation and a perception of an increased threat of re-catholicization Finally she shows Mary was pressed into service by preachers who endeavored to instruct the laity in both what to believe and how to live making a causal connection between being a good Christian and being a good citizen of society In this context Mary was used as a role model and was often promoted as an exemplar for females in ways that served to constrain and domesticate women placing them more firmly under male authority But despite the attempts by preachers to domesticate and mold her Kreitzer argues the Lutheran Mary remains a complex and paradoxical figure

Simon Episcopius' Doctrine of Original Sin Mark A. Ellis, 2006 Simon Episcopius 1583-1643 who began his theological career as the protégé of Jacobus Arminius led the Arminians at the Synod of Dort and was instrumental in guaranteeing Arminianism's survival This book breaks new ground by clearly showing how in the process of working out the implications of the theological trajectories which Arminius established Episcopius introduced significant changes in his master's theology It begins by demonstrating changes between Episcopius' early theological works and Arminius' writings and then even greater changes in his mature theological work Institutiones Theologicae It defends the idea that Arminianism represented a pre-Calvinist movement within the Netherlands which not only rejected Geneva predestination but also intentionally moved away from Reformed Scholasticism This book is useful for seminars in early Arminian theology and the Arminian controversy in the Netherlands
