Reforming Agricultural Markets In Africa:

Reforming agricultural markets in Africa Kherallah, Mylene, Delgado, Christopher L., Gabre-Madhin, Eleni Z., Minot, Nicholas, Johnson, Michael, 2002-01-01 The long term reduction of hunger and poverty in Sub Saharan Africa remains one of the great challenges for the international development community Eliminating hunger and promoting widespread growth in the region inevitably involves agriculture given its central role in the region s economies Over the past 20 years most African governments have carried out reforms to deregulate agricultural markets and reduce the role of state enterprises How much has the state actually withdrawn from agricultural markets Have well functioning private markets emerged How successful were these reforms in boosting agricultural production economic growth and the incomes of the rural poor What lessons can we learn from the reform process The authors of this book address these questions through an analysis based on an extensive review of experiences with reform focusing on three major agricultural markets fertilizer food crops and export crops They examine the historical rationales for intervention the factors contributing to reform the process of implementation and the impact of the reforms on farmers and consumers in Sub Saharan Africa The authors find that reforms have had many favorable results but that the impact has been muted by partial implementation and structural constraints They propose a new agenda for promoting the development of agricultural markets in Sub Saharan Africa identifying areas where governments can play a supportive role They argue that appropriate agricultural marketing policies and investments can improve livelihoods and the economic health of the region The Road Half Traveled Mylène Kherallah, Christopher L. Delgado, Eleni Gabre-Madhin, Nicholas Minot, Michael Johnson, 2000 The need for agricultural reform How far did reforms go Impact of the reforms The future of agricultural market reform in Sub Saharan Africa African Agricultural Reforms M. Ataman Aksoy, 2012-07-10 This volume analyzes the political economy of the successes and failures of the agricultural reform programs in Sub Saharan Africa It shows that in almost all cases reforms lead to a supply response but their sustainability in face of shocks depend on the consensus about the reform and the subsequent rent distribution Agricultural Marketing in Tropical Africa H. Laurens van der Laan, Tjalling Dijkstra, Aad van Tilburg, 2018-08-09 First published in 1999 this volume explores how African agriculture has always had a strong appeal for the people of the Netherlands This is due to 1 a long established interest in tropical agriculture going back to the days when Indonesia was a Dutch colony 2 a broad based desire to help the Third World and 3 the view that Tropical Africa is highly dependent on agriculture As practical expertise in Africa and systematic research on African agriculture grew specialization became both possible and necessary This volume reflects the specialization in marketing which has been welcomed by economists geographers and scholars of agricultural marketing In addition to a general introductory chapter this book includes five contributions on staple food grains two on export crops two on cattle and one on horticulture Nine of the chapters are country specific covering Benin Burkina Faso Cameroon Cote d'Ivoire Ghana Kenya Sierra Leone Tanzania and Zambia Analyzing the Distributional Impact of Reforms: A practitioner's guide to trade, monetary and exchange rate policy, utility provision, agricultural markets, land policy, and education World Bank, 2005 This publication is a practitioner's guide for analyzing the distributional impact of reforms to trade monetary and exchange rate policy utility provision agricultural markets land policy and education These six areas of policy reform are the ones most likely to have an impact on distribution and poverty Such analysis helps in policy formulation and development and for implementing poverty reduction strategies in developing countries Each chapter in this volume provides an overview and guidance on the specific issues arising in the analysis of the distributional impacts of policy and institutional reforms in selected sectors Agricultural Policy Monitoring and Evaluation 2022 Reforming Agricultural Policies for Climate Change Mitigation OECD, 2022-06-23 This annual report monitors and evaluates agricultural policies in 54 countries including the 38 OECD countries the five non OECD EU Member States and 11 emerging economies It finds that the continued rise in agricultural support has been slower than sector growth in recent years but has been driven to record highs mainly by temporary factors

Taking stock: Impacts of 50 years of policy research at IFPRI Hazell, Peter B. R., Place, Frank, 2025-10-14 As the International Food Policy Research Institute IFPRI marks its 50th anniversary the Institute and its key stakeholders pause to take stock of what is known about its policy influence and impact over the years What does the available evidence tell us about IFPRI's achievements as an international research institution Have its activities contributed to better policy and investment decisions by governments development agencies nongovernmental organizations the private sector and others involved in the economic and social development of low and middle income countries LMICs This report builds on a stocktaking paper published for IFPRI's 40th anniversary whose findings were generally favorable by using more recent external sources of evidence to provide updated answers to these questions It synthesizes bibliometric and download data as well as a series of independently conducted impact assessment studies of many of IFPRI's research programs and projects This task has been facilitated by the availability of 40 such evaluations commissioned by IFPRI the CGIAR Research Programs on Agriculture for Nutrition and Health and on Policies Institutions and Markets or project donors Additionally other agencies commissioned several evaluations of specific country and regional policies that IFPRI helped influence This wealth of independent assessments is rare for a policy research institution Moreover IFPRI's commissioning or co commissioning of 36 impact assessments over 25 years demonstrates a serious commitment to an impact evaluation culture and a willingness to learn from its experiences Technology, Sustainability, and Rural Development in Africa Maumbe, Blessing, Okello, Julius J., 2013-03-31 This book provides research analytical methods techniques and development policies in ICT adoption and diffusion in Africa and around the globe highlighting the major trends in ICT applications and rural development Provided by publisher World Bank Assistance to Agriculture in Sub-Saharan Africa, 2007-01-01 Sub Saharan Africa is a critical development priority it has some of the world's poorest countries and during the past two decades the number of poor in the Region has doubled to 300 million more than 40 percent of the Region's population Africa remains behind on most of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and is unlikely to reach them by 2015 With some of the world s poorest countries Africa is a development priority for the donor community A major drag on Africa s development is the underperformance of the critical agriculture sector which has been neglected both by donors and governments over the past two decades The sector faces a variety of constraints that are particular to agriculture in Africa and make its development a complex challenge Poor governance and conflict in several countries further complicate matters IEG has assessed the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance in addressing constraints to agricultural development in Africa over the period of fiscal 1991 2006
