Gabriel Faure Edward R. Phillips, 2011-04-14 First published in 2011 this research study includes a biography section as well as the works of Gabriel Urbain Faur born on 12 May 1845 Much of Faur's music especially the late pieces remain little played and little known as a result his reputation as a salon composer of pleasant music continues even among educated musicians The author suggests that it is more likely that the difficulty of much of Faur's music for the listener and the demands it places upon him or her are the principal reasons for its omission from concert programs and for a misunderstanding of Faur's place in the history of French music

The Faure Song Cycles Stephen Rumph, 2020-09-29 Gabriel Faur's melodies offer an inexhaustible variety of style and expression that have made them the foundation of the French art song repertoire During the second half of his long career Faur composed all but a handful of his songs within six carefully integrated cycles Faur moved systematically through his poetic contemporaries exhausting Baudelaire's Les fleurs du mal before immersing himself in the Parnassian poets He would set nine poems by Armand Silvestre in swift succession 1878-84 seventeen by Paul Verlaine 1887-94 and eighteen by Charles Van Lerberghe 1906-14 As an artist deeply engaged with some of the most important cultural issues of the period Faur reimagined his musical idiom with each new poet and school and his song cycles show the same sensitivity to the poetic material Far more than Debussy Ravel or Poulenc he crafted his song cycles as integrated works reordering poems freely and using narratives key schemes and even leitmotifs to unify the individual songs The Faur Song Cycles explores the peculiar vision behind each synthesis of music and verse revealing the astonishing imagination and insight of Faur's musical readings This book offers not only close readings of Faur's musical works but an interdisciplinary study of how he responded to the changing schools and aesthetic currents of French poetry
