chronicles the Roman de Brut and the Roman de Rou Wace one of the great pioneers of twelfth century French writing is also the author of three hagiographical works the Conception Nostre Dame and the Lives of St Margaret and St Nicholas The Conception is the first vernacular work to focus on the life of the Virgin Mary Emphasising Margaret's concern for women in labour the Margaret seemingly contributed to the saint's broad popularity The Nicholas with its many miracles involving children equally played a key role in popularising its protagonist's cult The present volume brings these works together for the first time and provides the original texts the first translations into English notes and substantial introductions The

White Lady. A Romance ... Caroline von Woltmann, 1845 Thinking Medieval Romance Katherine C. Little, Nicola McDonald, 2018-10-17 Medieval romances with their magic fountains brave knights and beautiful maidens have come to stand for the Middle Ages more generally This close connection between the medieval and the romance has had consequences for popular conceptions of the Middle Ages an idealized fantasy of chivalry and hierarchy and also for our understanding of romances as always already archaic part of a half forgotten past And yet romances were one of the most influential and long lasting innovations of the medieval period To emphasize their novelty is to see the resources medieval people had for thinking about their contemporary concern and controversies whether social order Jewish Christian relations the Crusades the connectivity of the Mediterranean women's roles as mothers and how to write a national past This volume takes up the challenge to think romance investigating the various ways that romances imagine reflect and describe the challenges of the medieval world The Hermit's Cave; Or the Fugitive's Retreat. A Romance Zara

WENTWORTH, 1821 Great Sacred Music Samuel Wells, Andrew Earis, 2025-01-16 Great Sacred Music a free lunchtime event of spoken word and music for choirs and congregations is a regular feature of the life at witness of St Martin in the Fields Each week a themed programme is offered which combines music with stories of how the pieces came to be written and some reflections on the theme As well as a celebration of music it has proved to be instrumental in the mission of St Martin's attracting many people to the church The Queens of Love and War Ellen Jones, 2013-05-21 Three engrossing historical novels in one volume bring the Plantagenets and the splendor and scheming of twelfth century Europe to vivid life In The Fatal Crown set against the seething political intrigues of twelfth century Europe two royal heirs surrender to passion as they vie for the most glittering treacherous prize of all the English throne At twenty five the widowed Maud must marry once again this time to fourteen year old Geoffrey Plantagenet But it is with Stephen of Blois Maud's fiercest rival for the British throne that the headstrong princess discovers the true meaning of desire In Beloved Enemy Aquitaine is under the French king's safekeeping and Eleanor the Duke of Aquitaine's eldest daughter knows she must wed Prince Louis in order to insure the future of her beloved duchy Fiercely independent filled with untapped desire the woman who would be queen must provide Louis VII her monkish husband with heirs But it is young Henry of Anjou who catches Eleanor's eye and sets fire to her heart And in Gilded Cages Eleanor of Aquitaine and Henry Plantagenet whose marriage was born of power politics and an all consuming fiery love rule a vast kingdom At first they work to unify and repair their war torn lands before being torn apart by intrigue adultery and deadly revenge

The English Romance in Time Helen Cooper,2004-06-17 The English Romance in Time is a study of English romance across the Middle Ages and the Renaissance It explores romance motifs quests and fairy mistresses passionate heroines and rudderless boats and missing heirs from the first emergence of the genre in French and Anglo Norman in the twelfth century down to the early seventeenth This is a continuous story since the same romances that constituted the largest and most sophisticated body of secular fiction in the Middle Ages went on to enjoy a new and vibrant popularity at all social levels in black letter prints as the pulp fiction of the Tudor age This embedded culture was reworked for political and Reformation propaganda and for the writing of England as well as providing a generous reservoir of good stories and dramatic plots The different ways in which the same texts were read over several centuries or the same motifs shifted meaning as understanding and usage altered provide a revealing and sensitive measure of historical and cultural change The book accordingly looks at those processes of change as well as at how the motifs themselves work to offer a historical semantics of the language of romance conventions It also looks at how politics and romance intersect the point where romance comes true The historicizing of the study of literature is belatedly leading to a wider recognition that the early modern world is built on medieval foundations This book explores both the foundations and the building Similarly generic theory which previously tended to operate on transhistorical assumptions is now acknowledging that genre interacts crucially with cultural context with changing audiences and ideologies and means of dissemination The generation into which Spenser and Shakespeare were born was the last to be brought up on a wide range of medieval romances in their original forms and they could therefore exploit their generic codings in new texts aimed at both elite and popular audiences Romance may since then have lost much of its cultural centrality but the universal appeal of these same stories has continued to fuel later works from Bunyan s Pilgrim s Progress to C S Lewis and Tolkien

Binding Words Don C. Skemer,2010-11-01 In the Middle Ages textual amulets short texts written on parchment or paper and worn on the body were thought to protect the bearer against enemies to heal afflictions caused by demonic invasions and to bring the wearer good fortune In Binding Words Don C Skemer provides the first book length study of this once common means of harnessing the magical power of words Textual amulets were a unique source of empowerment promising the believer safe passage through a precarious world by means of an ever changing mix of scriptural quotations divine names common prayers and liturgical formulas Although theologians and canon lawyers frequently derided textual amulets as ignorant superstition many literate clergy played a central role in producing and disseminating them The texts were in turn embraced by a broad cross section of Western Europe Saints and parish priests physicians and village healers landowners and peasants alike believed in their efficacy Skemer offers careful analysis of several dozen surviving textual amulets along with other contemporary medieval source materials In the process Binding Words enriches our understanding of popular religion and magic in everyday medieval life Character Sketches of Romance, Fiction and the Drama Ebenezer Cobham Brewer,1892

Communal Discord, Child Abduction, and Rape in the Later Middle Ages J. Goldberg,2007-12-25 Did medieval women have the power to choose This is a question at the heart of this book which explores three court cases from Yorkshire in the decades after the Black Death Alice de Rouclif was a child heiress made to marry the illegitimate son of the local abbot and then abducted by her feudal superior Agnes Grantham was a successful businesswoman ambushed and assaulted in a forest whilst on her way to dine with the Master of St Leonard s Hospital Alice Brathwell was a respectable widow who attracted the attentions of a supposedly aristocratic conman These are their stories All the Year Round ,1866 The Monthly Epitome ,1802
