Rock, 2012-11-07 This book seeks to demonstrate that the Letter to the Romans may be seen as an attempt by a subordinate group to redress actual and potential issues of confrontation with the Empire and to offer hope even in the crisis of facing death Paul demonstrates that it is God's peace and not Rome's peace that is important that loyalty to the exalted Jesus as Lord and to the kingdom of God not Jupiter and Rome leads to salvation that grace flows from Jesus as Christ and Lord and not from the benefactions of the Emperor If the resurrection of Jesus the crucified criminal of the Roman Empire demonstrates God's power over the universe and death the very instrument of Roman control then the Christ believer is encouraged to face suffering and death in the hope of salvation through this power Paul's theology emerges from and is inextricably bound to the politics of his day the Scriptures of his people and to the critical fact that the God who is one and Lord of all is still in charge of the world Romans: Three Exegetical Interpretations and the History of Reception Daniel Patte, 2018-07-26 In the first of a three volume work Daniel Patte presents three very different critical exegeses of Romans 1 arguing that all are equally legitimate and hermeneutically plausible By expanding upon and respecting the exegeses of many erudite scholars of the last two centuries Patte concludes that three families of vastly different critical interpretations are fully justified traditional philological and epistolary studies rhetorical and sociocultural studies and figurative studies of the coherence of

Paul's teaching arising from a long standing interdisciplinary investigation of many receptions of Romans in light of recent diversification of exegetical methodologies Patte concludes that the interpretation of a scriptural text necessarily involves making a choice among equally legitimate and plausible alternatives and second that this choice is always contextual and ethical When these points are denied by failing to respect the interpretations of others and absolutizing one's interpretation instead of being a scriptural blessing Romans becomes a deadly weapon against others heretics Jews Shoah and many others The result is a threefold commentary of Romans 1 that is unique in its scope and thorough going exegesis
