Ancient Greek Portrait Sculpture Sheila Dillon, 2006-04-24 This book offers a new approach to the history of Greek portraiture by focusing on portraits without names Comprehensively illustrated it brings together a wide range of evidence that has never before been studied as a group Sheila Dillon considers the few original bronze and marble portrait statues preserved from the Classical and Hellenistic periods together with the large number of Greek portraits known only through Roman copies In focusing on a series of images that have previously been ignored Dillon investigates the range of strategies and modes utilized in these portraits to construct their subject's identity Her methods undermine two basic tenets of Greek portraiture first that it was only in the late Hellenistic period under Roman influence that Greek portraits exhibited a wide range of styles including descriptive realism and second that in most cases one can easily tell a subject's public role that is whether he is a philosopher or an orator from the visual traits used in this portrait The sculptures studied here instead show that the proliferation of portrait styles takes place much earlier in the late Classical period and that the identity encoded in these portraits is much more complex and layered than has previously been realized Despite the fact that these portraits lack the one feature most prized by scholars of ancient portraiture a name they are evidence of utmost importance for the history of Greek portraiture

Marist Evangelizing Action in Higher Education Instituto Marista, 2022-04-04 The celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of our Institute is an exceptional occasion to bring to light this document The Marist Evangelizing Action in Higher Education Just as two centuries ago Marcellin Champagnat and his early brothers contemplated and responded to the clamors of the youth in need of post revolutionary France of the XVIII century the present Marist generations are invited to meet the urgencies of the young world in its context and to be proclamation of the Good News and the project dreamed by God from always Thus we find in the following pages a guiding text that offers in the light of the Gospel and the recent teaching of Pope Francis some of the main keys to what Marist evangelizing action should be in its higher education institutions for the coming times

Roman Imperial Portrait Practice in the Second Century AD Christian Niederhuber, 2022-06-16 It has long been thought that imperial portrait types were officially commissioned to commemorate specific historical moments and that they were made available to both the mint and the marble workshops in Rome assuming a close correspondence between portraits on coins and in the round All of this however has never been clearly proven nor has it been disproven by a close systematic examination of the evidence on a broad material basis by those scholars who have questioned it Through systematic case studies of Faustina the Younger s and Marcus Aurelius portraits on coins and in sculpture this book provides new insights into the functioning of the imperial image in Rome in the second century AD that move a difficult much discussed subject forward decisively The new evidence presented here has made it necessary to adjust the established model more flexibility is needed to describe the processes and practices behind the phenomenon of repeated imperial portraits and how the imperial portrait worked in the mint of Rome and in the metropolitan marble workshops
