A Room with a View and Howard's End E.M. Forster, 2000-11-01 Selected by the Modern Library as two of the 100 best novels of all time To me D H Lawrence once wrote to E M forster you are the last Englishman Indeed Forster s novels offer contemporary readers clear vibrant portraits of life in Edwardian England Published in 1908 to both critical and popular acclaim A Room with a View is a whimsical comedy of manners that owes more to Jane Austen than perhaps any other of his works The central character is a muddled young girl named Lucy Honeychurch who runs away from the man who stirs her emotions remaining engaged to a rich snob Forster considered it his nicest novel and today it remains probably his most well liked Its moral is utterly simple Throw away your etiquette book and listen to your heart But it was Forster s next book Howards End a story about who would inhabit a charming old country house and who in a larger sense would inherit England that earned him recognition as a major writer Centered around the conflict between the wealthy materialistic Wilcox family and the cultured idealistic Schlegel sisters and informed by Forster s famous dictum Only connect it is full of tenderness towards favorite characters Howards End is a classic English novel superb and wholly cherishable one that admirers have no trouble reading over and over again said Alfred Kazin

'Light that Dances in the Mind' Graham Smith, 2007 This book is concerned with the presence of familiar objects in unfamiliar places It examines the literary practice of inserting imaginary photographs of art architecture and people into novels and short stories These photographs are fictive objects although some especially those of art and architecture have equivalents in real life The book examines the presence of invented photographs in the writings of six authors who made extensive use of this practice The first part of the book concentrates on E M Forster while also including some discussion of imaginary photographs in Sinclair Lewis s novel Main Street The second part of the book analyses the uses of photographs in the writings of Forster s near contemporaries with separate chapters being devoted to Henry James Marcel Proust James Joyce and Virginia Woolf An epilogue touches on Christopher Isherwood a member of the next generation of British writers The book focuses upon largely unexplored areas in the writings of these authors what Virginia Woolf in Modern Fiction styled unexpected places

one of his most famous and popular The story is set in Florence Italy and Surrey England and centers on young Lucy Honeychurch s choice between propriety and love It is an accomplished and beautiful love story full of generous insights

English middle class girl Lucy Honeychurch is wooed by two men George Emerson and Cecil Vyse One represents social acceptance the other love and the whole stories is intertwined with irony The novel takes us through the transformation of Lucy from innocent to wounded to unlikeable to unemotional and then to passionate How Forster does this is a mystery and it the novel is pure magic Howards End This novel is a work of art Howard s End is a country home but it represents England the fate of both being uncertain due to extreme upheavals in social and economic changes in the post Victorian era Forster is profound and witty in equal measure and he loves each of his characters and treats them with compassion as they fall helplessly towards the inevitable tragic end The Longest Journey This novel is the one Forster said he was most pleased to have written It is a novel that grapples with some deep philosophical questions What is the right way to live and what the wrong Can anyone ever tell us how to live our life Forster once again plunges us into a world of conventions and fakery he pulls off the veneer of politeness and shows the rottenness inside It challenges us never to stop questioning and to never be complacent with our morality Where Angels Fear to Tread This was Forster s first novel and is short but remarkably mature The story is based around Lilia Herriton who takes a trip to Italy gets married and is pregnant with her first child before her family have a chance to stop it Sadly Lilia dies in childbirth and so the family see fit to try to recuse the child from being brought up as an Italian preferring him to be groomed to be an English gentleman It is a comedy of manners exposing the English superiority complex and obsession with class The Celestial Omnibus and other Stories A series of short stories exposing once again Forster s genius and wit The Cambridge Companion to E. M. Forster David Bradshaw, 2007-04-12 A collection of essays on the life and work of E M Forster
