S Andrea In Mantua The Building History:

S. Andrea in Mantua Eugene J. Johnson, 1975 S Andrea in Mantua is the final architectural work and the masterpiece of Leon Battista Alberti the great 15th century Italian humanist As a key monument of Renaissance architecture and a seminal work for later developments including the work of Bramante and endless repetitions in Baroque Europe the novelty of the spatial creation in S Andrea has long been recognized What has been obscured by the long period of construction over 300 years is the extent to which the existing building reflects Alberti's plan This book through a careful investigation of the church fabric and a sound interpretation of all relevant documents demonstrates the fidelity of the current building to Alberti's original design The author publishes all known documents relating to the building including previously unpublished material and presents new photographic documentation The book also discusses the place of the church in Alberti's work sources for its design in ancient medieval and Renaissance architecture and its role in the dynastic and civic ambitions of the ruling family of Mantua the Gonzaga The changes made in Alberti's plan particularly those of the 18th century Juvarras dome and Pozzo's neo quattrocento restoration of the interior are re-evaluated This is the first extensive treatment of the building in English and the first serious monograph on S Andrea since the 19th century

On Alberti and the Art of Building Robert Tavernor, 1998-01-01 Leon Battista Alberti 1404-72 writer painter and sculptor mathematician and most famously architectural theorist and architect came closer than anyone to the Renaissance ideal of the complete man Recognised by his contemporaries as an extraordinary person he helped to shape through his writings and his practical example in the arts the way in which the natural and artificial world was perceived and represented during the Renaissance

The Court Cities of Northern Italy Charles M. Rosenberg, 2010-06-21 This volume examines the painting sculpture decorative arts and architecture produced in nine important court cities of Italy during the course of the fourteenth fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Although each chapter represents a separate study of a particular geographical locale many common themes emerge This volume gives a multifaceted consideration of the art created for princes prelates confraternities and civic authorities works displayed in public squares private palaces churches and town halls Including six essays specially commissioned that explore the interaction of artists and their civic and or courtly patrons within the context of prevailing cultural political and religious circumstances The Court Cities of Northern Italy provides a rich supplement to traditional accounts of the artistic heritage of the Italian Renaissance which has traditionally focused on the Florentine Venetian and Roman traditions The book includes 35 color plates and 221 black and white illustrations

Music and Patronage in Sixteenth-Century Mantua: Volume 1 Iain Fenlon, 2008-10-30 Viewed traditionally the history of sixteenth century Mantuan music is almost a catalogue of some of the most distinguished composers of the age from Tromboncino and Cara via Jacquet of Mantua to Wert Palestrina Marenzio Pallavicino Gastoldi Rossi and Monteverdi The remarkable achievements of composers under Gonzaga patronage practically synonymous with Mantuan patronage during this period are treated here in their social context The arguments proceed not just from the music itself but from detailed examination of archival sources from which Dr Fenlon reconstructs employment patterns and describes the social structure and institutional life of the city The aim of the book is to show how the patterns of patronage and music and musicians reflect and illuminate the temperaments and prime preoccupations of successive rulers The book contains a substantial appendix of unpublished archival documents a small proportion only of the scholarly and comparative sources on which the study is based

The Books and the Life of Judith of Flanders Mary Dockray-Miller, 2016-12-05 In the first full length study of Judith of Flanders c 1032 1094 Mary Dockray Miller provides a narrative of Judith s life through analysis of the books and art objects she commissioned and collected Organizing her book chronologically by Judith s marriages and commissions Dockray Miller argues that Judith consciously and successfully deployed patronage to support her political and marital maneuverings in the eleventh century European political theater During her marriage to Tostig Godwinson Earl of Northumbria she commissioned at least four Gospel books for herself in addition to the numerous art objects that she gave to English churches as part of her devotional practices The multiple treasures Judith donated to Weingarten Abbey while she was married to Welf of Bavaria culminated in the posthumous gift of the relic of the Holy Blood still celebrated as the Abbey s most important holding Lavishly illustrated with never before published full color reproductions from Monte Cassino MS 437 and Fulda Landesbibliothek MS Aa 21 The Books and the Life of Judith of Flanders features English translations of relevant excerpts from the Vita Oswinii and De Translatione Sanguinis Christi Dockray Miller s book is a fascinating account of this intriguing woman who successfully negotiated the pitfalls of being on the losing side of both the Norman Conquest and the Investiture Controversy

Renaissance Architecture Christy Anderson, 2013-02-28 The Renaissance was a diverse phenomenon marked by innovation and economic expansion the rise of powerful rulers religious reforms and social change Encompassing the entire continent Renaissance Architecture examines the rich variety of buildings that emerged during these seminal centuries of European history Although marked by the rise of powerful individuals both patrons and architects the Renaissance was equally a time of growing group identities and communities and architecture provided the public face to these new identities Religious reforms in northern Europe spurred on by Martin Luther rejected traditional church function and decoration and proposed new models Political ambitions required new buildings to satisfy court rituals Territory nature and art intersected to shape new landscapes and building types Classicism came to be the international language of an educated architect and an ambitious patron drawing on the legacy of ancient Rome Yet the richness of the medieval tradition continued to be used throughout Europe often alongside classical buildings Examining each of these areas by turn this book offers a broad cultural history of the period as well as a completely new approach to the history of Renaissance architecture The work of well known architects such as Michelangelo and Andrea Palladio is examined alongside lesser known though no less innovative designers such as Juan Guas in Portugal and Benedikt Ried in Prague and Eastern Europe Drawing on the latest research it also covers more recent areas of interest such as the story of women as patrons and the emotional effect of Renaissance buildings as well as the impact of architectural publications and travel on the emerging new architectural culture across Europe As such it provides a compelling introduction to the subject for all those interested in the history of architecture society and culture in the Renaissance and European culture in general

Arts of Power Randolph Starn, Loren W. Partridge, 1992-01-01 Jacob Burckhardt claimed that the state in Renaissance Italy became a work of art In this book the authors illuminate the corollary that art in Italy became a work of state They study centres of power under three distinctive governments a civic republic of the 14th century a princely court of the 15th and an absolutist state of the 16th The authors argue that no less than armies laws and taxes painted halls of state were strategic instruments tactical weapons and technical machines of government

Anjou John McNeill, 2020-08-26 This volume serves as an essential reference for new thoughts interpretation and discussion of the rich architectural and archaeological heritage of Anjou It outlines the development of building techniques in Anjou and Touraine and concentrates on the medieval period

Leon Battista Alberti Caspar Pearson, 2022-07-06 A new account of the sui generis Renaissance writer and architect Leon Battista Alberti One of the most brilliant and original authors and architects of the entire Renaissance Leon Battista Alberti had an output encompassing engineering surveying cryptography poetry humor political commentary and more He employed irony satire and playful allusion in his written works and developed a sophisticated approach to architecture that combined the ancient and modern Born into the Florentine elite Alberti was nonetheless disadvantaged due to exile and illegitimacy As a result he became an acute analyst of the social institutions of his time as well as a profoundly existential writer who was intensely preoccupied with the human condition This new account explores Alberti's life and works examining how his personal and intellectual preoccupations continually pushed him to engage with an ever broader spectrum of Renaissance culture

Approaches to Drawing in Architectural and Urban Design Fabio Colonnese, Nuno Grancho, Robin Schaeffer, 2024-04-04 Architects draw for a variety of purposes they draw to assimilate places and precedents to generate ideas to develop a concept into a consistent project in a team to communicate ideas and solutions to patrons and clients and to guide building contractors during the construction stages as well as to produce further elaborations in order to publish their project in a treatise a journal or their own portfolio Most importantly architects draw to think and to manage complexity in a visual way By taking into account innovative and interdisciplinary uses of architectural drawing in the design process both historical and current the collection of chapters and interviews in this book frames a new critical perspective and a uniquely contextual appreciation of drawing as a way to encourage spatial thinking and practice in architecture and urbanism The authors take the discussion to a new level of philosophical sophistication while also considering drawing in relation to a series of specific engagements with urban development planning and architecture

Leonardo da Vinci - Nature and Architecture Constance Moffatt, Sara Tagliagamla, 2019-06-17 The second volume of Leonardo Studies explores a dual theme of nature and architecture offering a wide ranging overview of current Leonardo scholarship on these two abundant subjects While Leonardo worked on his Treatise on Painting he noted that understanding the physical properties of nature must precede individual projects of painting or designing buildings The volume begins with the Trattato and follows with physics geology painting that imitates architectural structure and vice versa and proceeds to architectural projects questions of attribution urban planning and the dissemination of Leonardo's writings in the Trattato and its historiography This impressive group of articles constitutes not only new research but also a departure point for future studies on these topics Contributors are Janis Bell Andrea Bernardoni Marco Carpiceci Paolo Cavagnero Fabio Colonnese Kay Etheridge Diane Ghirardo Claudio Giorgione Domenico Laurenza Catherine Luchek Silvio Mara Jill Pederson Richard Schofield Sara Tagliagamla Cristiano Tessari Marco Versiero and Raffaella Zama Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians, 1992 Includes special issues

The Renaissance in Italy Kenneth Bartlett, 2019-11-15 The Italian Renaissance has come to occupy an almost mythical place in the popular imagination The outsized reputations of the best known figures from the period Michelangelo Niccolò Machiavelli Lorenzo the Magnificent Pope Julius II Isabella d'Este and so many others engender a kind of wonder How could so many geniuses or exceptional characters be produced by one small territory near the extreme south of Europe at a moment when much of the rest of the continent still labored under the restrictions of the Middle Ages How did so many of the driving principles behind Western civilization emerge during this period and how were they defined and developed And why is it that geniuses such as Leonardo Raphael Petrarch Brunelleschi Bramante and Palladio all sustain their towering authority to this day To answer these questions Kenneth Bartlett delves into the lives and works of the artists patrons and intellectuals the privileged educated influential elites who created a rarefied world of power money and sophisticated talent in which individual curiosity and skill were prized above all else The result is a dynamic highly readable copiously illustrated history of the Renaissance in Italy and of the artists that gave birth to some of the most enduring ideas and artifacts of Western civilization

History of Architectural Theory Hanno-Walter Kruft, 1994 As the first comprehensive encyclopedic survey of Western architectural theory from Vitruvius to the present this book is an essential resource for architects students teachers historians and theorists Using only original sources Kruft has undertaken the monumental task of researching organizing and analyzing the significant statements put forth by architectural theorists over the last two thousand years The result is a text that is authoritative and complete easy to read without being reductive

Mantegna and Painting as Historical Narrative Jack M. Greenstein, 1992-06 In this study Jack M Greenstein draws on Early Renaissance art theory modern narratology translation studies critical theory the philosophy of history and biblical hermeneutics to explicate the sense and significance of one of Andrea Mantegna's most enigmatic and influential works the Uffizi Circumcision of Christ Faced with a work that resists established methods of iconographical analysis Greenstein reassesses the nature and goals of high humanist narrative painting The result is a new historically grounded theory of iconography that calls into question many widely held assumptions about the social and intellectual value of Early Renaissance art Greenstein's theory rests on a careful analysis of Leon Battista Alberti's commentary On Painting which equated both the form and the content of artistically composed painting with historia Situating this equation within a centuries old discourse on the multivalent significance of the Bible Greenstein shows that for Alberti historia was a mode of artistic narrative common to literature and painting in which moral truths were presented to the corporeal senses particularly to vision in the guise of plausible human actions In Greenstein's reading the painter's primary task was the construction of a visually plausible narrative that effectively conveyed the higher meanings of historia Having thus delineated the structure of significance in Albertian painting Greenstein shows what was at stake when a painter of Mantegna's historical bent undertook to produce a historia As one of the leading historical thinkers of his age Mantegna imbued his depicted scenes with the plausibility of historical events by employing those codes of evidence causality and historical distance that underlay the Renaissance sense of the past But the Circumcision of Christ resisted such treatment because the symbolic conventions developed by earlier artists for conveying the higher theological meanings of the theme were incompatible with the representational fidelity embraced by painters of historia Mantegna overcame these difficulties by arriving at a new understanding of the Circumcision which remained faithful to the narrative structure as well as the theological content of the biblical account His interpretation was widely adopted by later artists but was so pictorial in nature that despite its consistency with the biblical account it remained without parallel in theological literature Greenstein's discovery that artistic production of Albertian painting was a specialized and singularly visual form of thinking whose roots lay more in readerly hermeneutics than in perception commerce or common visual experience raises questions about narrative representation and the textuality of art that will interest a wide array of scholars

The World Created in the Image of Man Vladimir Evseevich Brodskii, 2010 The World Created in the Image of Man investigates the development of the third dimension in painting from the dramatic moment when spatial construction becomes charged with an external force antagonistic to the effort of forms or human figures to preserve their permanence The competitive contact between the external and internal worlds represented in the picture brings a vital element to the unfolding of art as it occurs in both the West and the East As the analysis of masterpieces from different historical periods and cultures demonstrates here this vital impulse becomes a necessary part of pictorial composition and the measure of the quality of the work of art It can reveal itself in a limitless and disparate variety of subject matter a scene from Japanese court life as depicted in the illustrations of the early twelfth century to the novel The Tale of Genji a representation of the maternal feeling of the Virgin anticipating the fate of her child in Byzantine icon painting Raphael's universal interior in The School of Athens Rembrandt's allegory of historic continuity in Aristotle with the Bust of Homer The progression of this dynamic eventually leads to the surrender of form to space with the Impressionists and to the conclusion of the book which considers Postmodern art in the form of the installation where the emphasis is put on the unprecedented role of the viewer as a component of the work and which suggests an environment that is totally alien or even hostile to him Art historians students of art history and the educated general reader with an interest in painting will find this book a rewarding and stimulating read The Transformation of Buildings and the City in the Renaissance, 1300-1550 Howard Saalman, 1996
