Sg Sociology In A Changing World:

The Making of Singapore Sociology Tong Chee-Kiong, Lian Kwen-Fee, 2021-11-08 This book presents a collection of essays of how the city state of Singapore's societal dynamics have evolved from the time of its birth as a nation in 1965 to the present. Key areas of Singapore society are explored contributing to the understanding of the social organisation of the city. This study reveals a shift from the modernisation studies in the 1970s to a more political economic turn as a consequence of the influence of dependency and world systems theories. Topics covered include urban studies, family, education, medical care, class and social stratification, work, language, ethnic groups, religion, and crime and deviance. Sociologies in Dialogue

Sari Hanafi, Chin-Chun Yi, 2020-07-21 Sociologies in Dialogue brings together expert contributions from international scholars who reflect on the importance of collaboration between diverse sociological perspectives to enhance our understanding of the role of sociology as an academic discipline and as a vehicle for social change. By exploring the distinctive practices and research of a range of sociologists, the book shows how an open dialogue between sociologists is critical to addressing major sociological issues across the globe such as inequality and ethnocentrism and challenging the hierarchies of knowledge production and circulation. Contributors also discuss novel strands in theory and methodology such as multicultural sociology, cosmopolitanism and multiple modernities. An important contribution for researchers and students interested in global sociology, sociological theories and methodologies. Globalization and the Evolving World Society, 2021-11-01 The societies of the present world are experiencing many turbulent changes. New forces of change and modernization are driving people, business and cultures across borders. The world has become a home to a new generation of homo sapiens who are curious about others but at the same time cherish to preserve their own cultures. What is the nature of this evolving world society? Is the world driving toward a new global civilization, an end of history or an inevitable civilizational clash? The present volume has brought together leading scholars in the field to examine the concept of globalization, deliberate on the character of its multifaceted nature and expressions and delineate its impact on the emerging world economy, politics, culture and science. A number of substantive issues such as the emergence of new global economic inequality, culture and the role of the transnationals, nature of the emerging global environmental regimes, rise of the NICs and the conflicting role of the nation states in the face of the advancing forces of globalization are addressed. It is contended that globalization should be perceived neither as an unbounded economic progress nor as an expansion of western domination. Globalization is rather defined as a new development strategy, a process of change that can be planned, guided and controlled. For national political and business leaders of the world, the volume provides a blueprint of the emerging areas of policy concerns and guidance. For the world of social science, it presents a road map of the emerging intellectual issues and challenges. Contributors are Alessandro Bonanno, Stephen W K Chiu, Douglas Constance, Richard J Estes, R Scott Frey, Archibald O Haller, George A Miller, Proshanta K Nandi, Winifred R Poster, J Timmons Roberts, Shahid M Shahidullah, Bam Dev Sharda and Alvin Y So. The Contemporary Family

Managing Diversity In Singapore: Policies And Prospects Mathews Mathew, Wai Fong Chiang, 2016-05-11

Singapore society is increasingly becoming diverse. During the first few decades of nation building, policies were designed to homogenise aspects of Singaporean society while enshrining principles to allow restricted amounts of diversity. Fast forward to the present and fifty years after independence, the number of areas where diversity is profoundly apparent remains copious and its manifestations more varied. This book provides an updated account on the tensions posed by diversity in Singapore and how this is being managed primarily by the state through policies and programmes but also by communities who attempt to negotiate these tensions. Such an enquiry is crucial especially at this juncture when the nation is finding ways to embrace the different forms of diversity brought about through external impetuses as well as manage internal reactions from the various communities. The book chapters highlight important considerations if Singapore's diversity management strategies will hold promise for the future.
