Lost Generation:

Twenty-five Years After Malcolm Cowley, Lost generation today, Exile's return, 1951 The Generation of 1914 Robert Wohl, 1979 A study of the generation of French German English Spanish and Italian young men who fought in World War I

Generations of Lucky Devils and Unlucky Dogs Henk A. Becker, 2015-06-17 Silver grey manpower is a gold mine to society One by one the baby boom cohorts will reach the age of 65 starting from 2010 They are large cohorts relatively well educated and healthy with considerable pension and health care rights In short they are lucky devils As a result of ageing cohorts that were born in 1985 onwards and that enter the labour market as from approximately 2010 will be required to pay many additional taxes during the course of their entire working life spanning more than forty years They are in short unlucky dogs Redistribution of joys and burdens could trigger conflicts between generations A better solution is to identify and deploy society's hidden resources Taking this issue as a basis the book in hand explores strategies that enable senior citizens and young people to give meaning to solidarity among generations for a start in 2012 as the European Year for Active Ageing but also as part of Europe 2020 the European Commission's 2010-2020 strategy With these two strategies journalists and television producers will swing into action In secondary and higher education as well as in universities more papers on life courses and patterns of generations will be written than ever before Senior citizens unions but actually all social organizations will organize lectures Educated laymen will wish to go deeply into this issue Henk A Becker 1933 is Professor Emeritus of Sociology at Utrecht University in the Netherlands He has worked on a research project focusing on generations since 1985 The Cambridge History of American Literature: Volume 6, Prose Writing, 1910-1950 Sacvan

Bercovitch, Cyrus R. K. Patell, 1994 Volume 6 of The Cambridge History of American Literature explores the emergence and flowering of modernism in the United States David Minter provides a cultural history of the American novel from the lyric years to World War I through post World War I disillusionment to the consolidation of the Left in response to the mire of the Great Depression Rafia Zafar tells the story of the Harlem Renaissance detailing the artistic accomplishments of such diverse figures as Zora Neal Hurston W E B Du Bois Langston Hughes Nella Larsen and Richard Wright Werner Sollors examines canonical texts as well as popular magazines and hitherto unknown immigrant writing from the period Taken together these narratives cover the entire range of literary prose written in the first half of the twentieth century offering a model of literary history for our times focusing as they do on the intricate interplay between text and context Edinburgh Companion to

The Face of Africa Stan Chu Ilo, 2006 This book is a call on Africans and non Africans to once more believe in the possibility of a better future for Africa In these pages Stan Chu Ilo writes of his experience and the experiences of many young Africans like himself who are disturbed by the present condition of Africa He writes about the challenges facing most Africans who are growing up in the African continent without any hope of quality education without any guarantee of adequate food water housing and clothing without any hope of getting a job and without any prospect of living in peace with their neighbors He writes of the sad situation of millions of young Africans who are dying of malaria and HIV AIDS and the African women whose fate and fortune have been shackled by a male dominated society He questions the bases of the existence of the failed states of Africa who are caught up in a cycle of violence and disorder and who are not asking the right questions about the future of their nations He argues that corruption excessive authoritarianism a stubborn hold on power and lack of openness to consensus building among some African leaders insult the cultural value of Africans with regard to a sense of community love and solidarity He also writes of the pain of globalization the debt burden immigration and trade restrictions on Africans and African countries exploitation of ordinary Africans by fellow Africans and Western governments and business conglomerates He wonders why many Western nations should turn their backs on Africa when they all share some responsibility in bringing Africa to her knees However even though many Africans have become exhausted in the battle for national survival and for a living space to pursue their ordered ends this book proposes that Africans should not claim perpetual victimhood rather they should stand up once more and work for a better tomorrow which is possible and within their reach Ilo insists that the imposing mountains of economic and social ruin the rising moans and groans of numberless Africans should not weaken the inner energy and ardent hopes of millions of Africans struggling against the untested assumption that the cracking social political and economic foundations of present day Africa are incapable of supporting the structures of a new Africa The face of Africa today is ugly but behind the ugly face is the beauty that has been distorted by historical and cultural factors The present condition of Africa is only the sign of the urgent need for the peoples of Africa to brace up for the long and hard journey to reclaim their future Ilo outlines how non Africans who are interested in the African condition can be involved with the peoples of Africa A proper understanding of the African continent and her peoples her history and cultural evolution is a necessary first step for those who wish to be engaged with the Africans His total picture approach model as the key to interpreting the African condition and in comprehensively addressing the challenges facing Africa offers a helpful and original tool in understanding Africa It helps to overcome the stereotypes prejudices and paternalism which non Africans apply in their reading of African history and their relation with the African reality With masterly skills a keen sense of history a balanced perspective and objectivity Ilo identifies the constraints to growth and innovation in Africa in terms of the low stocks in the human capital and cultural development He introduces a new concept in the interpretation of the African condition homelessness in terms of cultural and existential crises that confront Africans today His conclusion is that cultural and human development is the irreducible decimal in any proposal for the transformation of the continent that grassroots village based action should be preferred over bogus and unworkable national approaches to African development

American Fiction, American Myth Philip Young, David Morrell, Sandra Spanier, 2010-11 Few experts in American literature have written as insightfully and brilliantly as did Philip Young renowned Hemingway critic and scholar at large His unique work bursts with a joy in the humanities with a sensibility a humor and a style that communicate to academics and general readers alike Although Young died in 1991 he survives in his remarkable prose American Fiction American Myth features nineteen groundbreaking essays in which Young masterfully reveals the so what that he insisted all literary studies ought to have In the first section he demonstrates his fascination with such American myths as Pocahontas and Rip Van Winkle reaching powerful conclusions about America and its people In the second section he becomes Our Hemingway Man explaining his germinal and still provocative theory that Hemingway's severe wounding in World War I so traumatized the novelist that his fiction was to a great degree unwitting self psychoanalysis Young's book on Hemingway was the first of its kind but Young was more than a one author critic as his essays demonstrate in the third section exploring such diverse topics as Hawthorne's secret love the Lost Generation that was never lost F Scott Fitzgerald's debt to T S Eliot and the relationship between American fiction and American life What Hemingway once said about himself can be equally applied to Young I am a very serious but not a solemn writer The reader comes away from these essays dazzled by the power of Young's observations and the grace with which he expresses them
