

A misty landscape with a large tree reflected in water. The scene is serene and atmospheric, with soft light and a calm body of water. The tree on the right is a large, leafy deciduous tree, and its reflection is clearly visible in the still water. In the background, there are more trees and a small building, all shrouded in a light mist. The overall color palette is muted, with greens, blues, and greys.

Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you.

Allan, 2025-01-01 Do you doubt whether there s more to the world than what we can see in the natural At Ethan s house Aaron struggled to understand why Ethan had helped him The reasons sounded crazy like nothing he d ever heard of before His friend s unique behaviour had created within Aaron a hunger to hear more He hadn t deserved Ethan s help In a small city in northwestern Ontario a close knit family of believers finds themselves challenged to unconditionally love an enemy who seeks to kill one of their own But is their enemy truly lost to them or to God Along the way these brothers and sisters in Christ discover that they have more in common with this man than it initially appears despite the powerful unseen forces involved For in this world there are two rival families one whose purpose is to destroy and the one whose purpose is to restore everything back to the original design of creation Love Your Enemies Sharon Salzberg, Robert

Traditional Christian Ethics David W. T. Brattston, 2014-10-01 Traditional Christian Ethics features two exhaustive alphabetical lists of affirmative commandments and prohibitions from the earliest Christian ethics as found in writers before the mass apostasy of 249-251 AD The affirmatives or positives list consists of what Christians are were commanded or encouraged to do The other list is of negatives or prohibitions i.e. what Christians are were discouraged from doing similarly arranged The source material for the work encompasses far more than the ten volume Ante Nicene Fathers edited by Roberts and Donaldson It also draws from all writings of the period Christian Jewish and pagan available in English or French translation plus a few Latin translations Some translations have been published only in scholarly journals and some only in the twenty first century Volumes Two and Three form a single exhaustive alphabetical list of affirmative commandments or precepts including mental attitudes i.e. what Christian ethics commanded or encouraged according to writers on Christian ethics before 250 AD Using earlier drafts of this set of books Dr Brattston's articles and booklets synthesizing early and contemporary Christianity have been published by a wide variety of denominations and ministries in every major English speaking country He hopes readers will use them as a starting point for writing articles papers and sermons of their own

Loving Our Enemies James H. Forest, Jim Forest, 2014 Not everything Jesus taught must be regarded as a commandment Counsels on voluntary poverty or celibacy for instance have been seen as an option for a small minority of Christ's followers The same cannot be said about the love of enemies This does not fall in the if you would be perfect category It is instead basic Christianity which Jesus taught through direct instruction through parables and by the example given with his own life And yet it is undoubtedly the hardest commandment of all one that runs counter to our natural inclinations It is as Jim Forest shows a commandment that calls for prayer discernment and constant practice Along with reflections drawn from scripture the lives of the saints and modern history Forest offers nine disciplines of active love including praying for enemies turning the other cheek forgiveness and recognizing Jesus in others that make the love of enemies if not an easier task then a goal worth striving toward in our daily lives      Love Your Enemies Lisa Sowle Cahill, 1994 The author examines the theological bases of just war theory and pacifism especially in the light of the concept of God as that motif illuminates Christian discipleship Differences between the theory of just war and the practice of pacifism

The Neighbor Slavoj Žižek, Eric L. Santner, Kenneth Reinhard, 2010-06-08 In Civilization and Its Discontents Freud made abundantly clear what he thought about the biblical injunction first articulated in Leviticus 19 18 and then elaborated in Christian teachings to love one s neighbor as oneself Let us adopt a naive attitude towards it he proposed as though we were hearing it for the first time we shall be unable then to suppress a feeling of surprise and bewilderment After the horrors of World War II the Holocaust Stalinism and Yugoslavia Leviticus 19 18 seems even less conceivable but all the more urgent now than Freud imagined In The Neighbor three of the most significant intellectuals working in psychoanalysis and critical theory collaborate to show how this problem of neighbor love opens questions that are fundamental to ethical inquiry and that suggest a new theological configuration of political theory Their three extended essays explore today s central historical problem the persistence of the theological in the political In Towards a Political Theology of the Neighbor Kenneth Reinhard supplements Carl Schmitt s political theology of the enemy and friend with a political theology of the neighbor based in psychoanalysis In Miracles Happen Eric L. Santner extends the book s exploration of neighbor love through a bracing reassessment of Benjamin and Rosenzweig And in an impassioned plea for ethical violence Slavoj Žižek s Neighbors and Other Monsters reconsiders the idea of excess to rehabilitate a positive sense of the inhuman and challenge the influence of Levinas on contemporary ethical thought A rich and suggestive account of the interplay between love and hate self and other personal and political The Neighbor will prove to be a touchstone across the humanities and a crucial text for understanding the persistence of political theology in secular modernity
