Love's Shadow Paul A. Bové, 2021-01-12 A case for literary critics and other humanists to stop wallowing in their aestheticized helplessness and instead turn to poetry comedy and love Literary criticism is an agent of despair and its poster child is Walter Benjamin Critics have spent decades stewing in his melancholy What if instead we dared to love poetry to choose comedy over Hamlet's tragedy or to pursue romance over Benjamin's suicide on the edge of France of Europe and of civilization itself Paul A. Bové challenges young lit critters to throw away their shades and let the sun shine in Love's Shadow is his three step manifesto for a new literary criticism that risks sentimentality and melodrama and eschews self consciousness The first step is to choose poetry There has been since the time of Plato a battle between philosophy and poetry Philosophy has championed misogyny while poetry has championed women like Shakespeare's Rosalind Philosophy is ever so stringent try instead the sober cheerfulness of Wallace Stevens Bové's second step is to choose the essay He praises Benjamin's great friend and sometime antagonist Theodor Adorno who gloried in writing essays not dissertations and treatises The third step is to choose love If you want a Baroque hero make that hero Rembrandt who brought lovers to life in his paintings Putting aside passivity and cynicism would amount to a revolution in literary studies Bové seeks nothing less and he has a program for achieving it

Marienbad My Love With Mango Extracts Mark Leach (writer.),2011 Exiled on a deserted island a Christ haunted journalist turned filmmaker attempts to persuade a married women from his past to help him produce a skin care themed

pastiche to the 1960s French New Wave classic Last Year at Marienbad Through this act of artistic creation he expects to carry out the will of God by prophesizing the death of time and the birth of a new religion If only he can make the woman remember him Marienbad My Love With Mango Extracts is a 285 000 word reboot of Marienbad My Love the world's longest novel at 17 million words      Evanescent Love Ion Manta, 2014-10-10 Evanescent Love is the latest English language literary attempt by Ion Manta a Romanian American author The story evokes the illicit love between a couple of middle aged immigrants and its unraveling during a back and forth journey across The United States At another level the story tries to be also a comment on some seemingly paradoxical intersections of the American societal cultural philosophic and urban landscape in the 1990s as these transpire diametrically opposed through the interplay of the main characters Didonna and Dorel both naturalized Americans and members of the Romanian community settled around Washington DC The affair comes alive as a direct confession of the main male character thus the author takes pains for staying impartial by limiting his role simply to that of the story's recorder stage setter and puppet master ruling over only the moves frames and sequencing of episodes but intent on withholding his personal opinions as much as possible in a most relativistic post modern fashion

Relentless Love Edwin Carl Smith, 2004 Ed Smith defines enchantment as that place where our life and our deepest dreams merge and he maintains that it is our true nature In Relentless Love he proposes that we can live lives of enchantment through the practice of relentless love He inspires us to create a world based on our intention to love and our faith in life and contends that evolution is propelling us to do so He defines evolution as events you do not like that converge to create a possibility you could not anticipate This is an original lucid voice with something very compelling and vital to say that can change all of our lives      A Philosophical History of Love Wayne Cristaudo, 2017-07-28 A Philosophical History of Love explores the importance and development of love in the Western world Wayne Cristaudo argues that love is a materializing force a force consisting of various distinctive qualities or spirits He argues that we cannot understand Western civilization unless we realize that within its philosophical and religious heritage there is a deep and profound recognition of love's creative and redemptive power Cristaudo explores philosophical love the love of wisdom and the love of God and neighbor The history of the West is equally a history of phantasmic versions of love and the thwarting of love Thus the history of our hells may be seen as the history of love's distortions and the repeated pseudo victories of our preferences for the phantasms of love Cristaudo argues that the catastrophes from our phantasmic loves threaten to extinguish us forcing us repeatedly to open ourselves to new possibilities of love to new spirits Fusing philosophy literature theology psychology and anthropology the volume reviews major thinkers in the field from Plato and Freud to Pierce Shakespeare and Flaubert Cristaudo explores the major themes of love of the Church romantic love and the return of the feminine the conflict between familial and romantic love love in a meaningless world and the love of evil and the evolutionary idea of love With Cristaudo the reader embarks on a journey not just through time but also through the different kinds origins and spirits of love
