Abstract

Objective: Early motherhood and its impact on mothers, children, families and communities is a prevalent health challenge in developing countries that needs to be urgently explored. The aim of this study was exploring the challenges encountered by Iranian adolescent mothers during the transition to motherhood.

Materials and methods: Inductive conventional content analysis approach was used in this qualitative study. Face to face in-depth semi-structured interviews were conducted with 16 Iranian teenage mothers in the Kerman province of Iran from March to December 2016. Data collection continued until the point of data saturation and MAXQDA software was utilized in the analysis of the data.

Results: Six main categories increasing burden of responsibility, experiencing physical problems, receiving insufficient support, inefficiency in maternal role, emotional and mental distress; and role conflict and 18 sub-categories were extracted from the data analysis.

Conclusion: The findings of this study showed that adolescent mothers experience many physical, psychological, mental and social challenges. Therefore, it is expedient that special attention and care support is made available to them by health care providers. Afaf Meleis the dean of the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing presents for the first time in a single volume her original transitions theory that integrates middle range theory to assist nurses in facilitating positive transitions for patients, families and communities. Nurses are consistently relied on to coach and support patients going through major life transitions such as illness, recovery, pregnancy, old age and many more. A collection of over 50 articles published from 1975 through 2007 and five newly commissioned articles. Transitions Theory covers developmental, situational, health and illness, organizational and therapeutic transitions. Each section includes an introduction written by Dr. Meleis in which she offers her historical and practical perspective on transitions. Many of the articles consider the transitional experiences of ethnically diverse patients, women, the elderly and other minority populations. Key Topics Discussed: Situational transitions including discharge and relocation; hospital to home; stroke recovery and immigration; transitions psychological adaptation and impact of migration on family health; Educational transitions including professional transitions from RN to BSN and student to professional; Health and illness transitions including self care post heart failure, living with chronic illness, living with early dementia and accepting palliative care; Organization transitions including role transitions from acute care to collaborative practice and hospital to community practice; Nursing therapeutics models of transition including role supplementation models and debriefing models. comprehensive and nuanced Women's Reproductive Mental Health Across the Lifespan captures the science, clinical observation, and collective wisdom of experts in the field. Professionals and laypersons alike are well advised to make room on their bookshelves for this one. Margaret Howard, Ph.D., Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University, Women Infants Hospital, Providence, RI. This outstanding collection of work is an important, timely, and much-needed resource. Dr. Diana Lynn Barnes has been instrumental in bringing attention to the needs of perinatal women for decades. In Women's Reproductive Health Across the Lifespan, she brilliantly unites the medical world of reproductive life events with the psychiatric and psychological world of mental health issues associated with them. Her expertise combined with contributions by distinguished leaders in the field create a volume of work that should be studied carefully by every medical and mental health provider who works with women. Karen Kleiman, MSW, The Postpartum Stress Center, Author of Therapy and the Postpartum Woman. Finally, a book that addresses the entire scope of women's reproductive mental health, spanning the gamut from puberty to menopause. The list of chapter contributors reads like a who's who of international experts. Unique to this book is its focus on the interaction of genetics, hormonal fluctuations, and the social environment. It is a must-addition for the libraries of clinicians and researchers in women's reproductive mental health. Cheryl Tatano Beck, DNSc, CNM, FAAN, Board of Trustees, Distinguished Professor, School of Nursing, University of Connecticut. Pregnancy and childbirth are generally viewed as joyous occasions. Yet for numerous women, these events instead bring anxiety, depression, and emotional distress. Increased interest in risk reduction and early clinical intervention is bringing reproductive issues to the forefront of women's mental health. The scope of Women's Reproductive Mental Health across the Lifespan begins long before the childbearing years and continues well after those years have ended. Empirical findings, case examples, and dispatches from emerging areas of the field illuminate representative issues across the continuum of women's lives, with the goal of more effective care benefitting women and their families. Chapter authors discuss advances in areas such as fertility treatment and contraception and present current thinking on the psychological impact of pregnancy loss, menopause, cancer, and other stressors. These expert contributors emphasize the connections between an individual's biology and psychology and cultural expectations in shaping women's mental health and the balance between a client's unique history and current clinical knowledge. Clinicians need to address disorders included in the coverage: The experience of puberty and emotional wellbeing, Body image issues and eating disorders in the childbearing years, Risk assessment and screening during pregnancy, Normal and pathological postpartum anxiety, Mood disorders and the transition to menopause, The evolution of reproductive psychiatry. A reference with an extended shelf life. Women's Reproductive Mental Health across the Lifespan enhances the work of researchers and practitioners in social work, clinical psychology, and psychiatry and has potential relevance to all health care professionals.

Like Mother, Like Daughter? Jill Armstrong, 2017-10-04. Women are encouraged to believe that they can occupy top jobs in society by the example of other women thriving in their careers. Who better to be a role model for career success than your mother Paradoxically this book shows that having a mother as a role model even for graduates of top universities does not predict daughters progressing in their own careers It finds that mothers with careers whilst highly influential in their daughters choice of career path rarely mentor their daughters as they progress This is partly explained by quiet ambition the tendency of women to be modest about their achievements Bigger issues are the twin pressures from contemporary motherhood and workplace culture that ironically lead career women s daughters to believe that being a good mother means working part time This stalls career progress Based on a large cross generational qualitative sample this book offers a timely and original perspective on the debate about gender equality in leadership positions A Guide to Mastery in Clinical

Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4
