M. Montgomery Liz Rosenberg, 2018-06-12 An affecting biography of the author of Anne of Green Gables is the first for young readers to include revelations about her last days and to encompass the complexity of a brilliant and sometimes troubled life Once upon a time there was a girl named Maud who adored stories When she was fourteen years old Maud wrote in her journal I love books I hope when I grow up to be able to have lots of them Not only did Maud grow up to own lots of books she wrote twenty four of them herself as L M Montgomery the world renowned author of Anne of Green Gables For many years not a great deal was known about Maud's personal life Her childhood was spent with strict undemonstrative grandparents and her reflections on writing her lifelong struggles with anxiety and depression her year of mad passion and her difficult married life remained locked away buried deep within her unpublished personal journals Through this revealing and deeply moving biography kindred spirits of all ages who like Maud never gave up the substance of things hoped for will be captivated anew by the words of this remarkable woman A World of Songs L.M. Basements and Attics, Closets and Cyberspace Linda M. Morra, Jessica Schagerl, 2013-01-24 Women's letters and memoirs were until recently considered to have little historical significance Many of these materials have disappeared or remain unarchived often dismissed as ephemera and relegated to basements attics closets and increasingly cyberspace rather than public institutions. This collection showcases the range of critical debates that animate thinking about women s archives in Canada The essays in Basements and Attics Closets and Cyberspace consider a series of central questions What are the challenges that affect archival work about women in Canada today What are some of the ethical dilemmas that arise over the course of archival research How do researchers read and make sense of the materials available to them How does one approach the shifting unstable forms of new technologies What principles inform the decisions not only to research the lives of women but to create archival deposits The contributors focus on how a supple research process might allow for greater engagement with unique archival forms and critical absences in narratives of past and present From questions of acquisition deposition and preservation to challenges related to the interpretation of material the contributors track at various stages how fonds are created or sidestepped in response to national and other imperatives and to feminist commitments how archival material is organized restricted accessed and interpreted how alternative and immediate archives might be conceived and approached and how exchanges might be read when there are peculiar lacunae missing or fragmented documents or gaps in communication that then require imaginative leaps on the part of the researcher After
