Black Seminoles in the Bahamas Rosalyn Howard, 2023-05-01 An excellent case study of a little studied and poorly known community experiencing the processes of identity formation and culture change Brent R Weisman University of South Florida This is the first full length ethnography of a unique community within the African diaspora Rosalyn Howard traces the history of the isolated Red Bays community of the Bahamas from their escape from the plantations of the American South through their utilization of social memory in the construction of new identity and community Some of the many African slaves escaping from southern plantations traveled to Florida and joined the Seminole Indians intermarried and came to call themselves Black Seminoles In 1821 pursued and harassed by European Americans through the First Seminole War approximately 200 members of this group fled to Andros Island where they remained essentially isolated for nearly 150 years Drawing on archival and secondary sources in the United States and the Bahamas as well as interviews with members of the present day Black Seminole community on Andros Island Howard reconstructs the story of the Red Bays people She chronicles their struggles as they adapt to a new environment and forge a new identity in this insular community and analyzes the former slaves relationship with their Native American companions Black Seminoles in contemporary Red Bays number approximately 290 the majority of whom are descended directly from the original settlers As part of her research Howard lived for a year in this small community recording its oral history and analyzing the ways in which that history informed the evolving identity of the people Her treatment dispels the air of mystery surrounding the Black Seminoles of Andros and provides a foundation for further anthropological and historical investigations The Also Ran: But a

Champion Alfred Fitzgerald Brathwaite, 2024-06-10 Join in the adventures of someone whose boyhood was spent on the Caribbean Grenadine island of Carriacou one filled with the culture brought from Africa via the Middle Passage and maintained despite the hardships of the plantations Continue with him as he pursues medical education whilst rafting and reggae dancing in Jamaica then enjoying junkanoo in the Bahamas following the Knicks in New York admiring the majesty of the Hawaiian scenery and bracing himself against the cold winds of Ottawa Return with him to practise in Grenada then onwards to South America to teach in Suriname where different races unite but with time for football in Brazil tango in Argentina and savouring the rums of Guyana Follow him to Dominica the Nature Island to the carnival in Trinidad and to the yachting capital the BVI in the Antilles Settle with him and his family as they garden and dine on stew conch in Freeport Bahamas Come sail and fly with me Benjamin Lightbourne/Lightburn of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania and His Descendants Robert C Lightburn, 2019-03-16 I first became interested in genealogy when I was about twelve It was then that my paternal grandmother first introduced me to a book entitled Genealogy of the Fell Family in America Descended from Joseph Fell This book which was published in 1891 included my grandfather Charles McConnell Lightburn I was struck by the time span covered by the book nearly three hundred years and was fascinated by the fact that all of the people in that book were related to one another and to me either by blood or marriage My grandmother later gave me that book and it became the first book in my genealogical library My grandfather and my great aunt Mary told me that their father had fought for the North during the Civil War by the side of his older brother who was a brigadier general This fascinated me They also told me that there was a town in West Virginia called Lightburn I couldn't wait to find it on a map My own genealogical research did not begin until the late 1970s when I requested the Civil War records of my great grandfather Calvin Luther Lightburn and his brothers from the National Archives During the 1980s I continued my research albeit at a very low level of activity It was not until the early 1990s when I moved to the Washington DC area that I became intensively involved in some might even say addicted to genealogy The resources in the Washington DC area are extensive and I ended up spending many happy and sometimes frustrating hours conducting research in the National Archives Library of Congress and the library of the Daughters of the American Revolution By 1999 I had amassed a great deal of genealogical information most of which was stuffed in cardboard boxes I was encouraged to put what I had on paper by Faye M Brown Lightburn who had published her book Revolutionary Soldier Samuel Brown and Some of his Family in 1993 So after attending several related sessions at the National Genealogical Society Conference in the States which was held that year in Providence Rhode Island I finally screwed up my courage and plunged in I published the original book in 2003 This book is the second and probably last edition

Jacqui Alexander, Chandra Talpade Mohanty, 2013-09-05 Feminist Genealogies Colonial Legacies Democratic Futures provides a feminist analysis of the questions of sexual and gender politics economic and cultural marginality and anti racist and anti colonial practices both in the West and in the Third World This collection edited by Jacqui Alexander and Chandra Talpade Mohanty charts the underlying theoretical perspectives and organization practices of the different varieties of feminism that take on questions of colonialism imperialism and the repressive rule of colonial post colonial and advanced capitalist nation states It provides a comparative relational historically grounded conception of feminist praxis that differs markedly from the liberal pluralist multicultural understanding that sheapes some of the dominant version of Euro American feminism As a whole the collection poses a unique challenge to the naturalization of gender based in the experiences histories and practices of Euro American women

A History of the Bahamian People Michael Craton, Gail Saunders, 1992 The present work concludes the important and monumental undertaking of Islanders in the Stream A History of the Bahamian People creating the most thorough and comprehensive history yet written of a Caribbean country and its people In the first volume Michael Craton and Gail Saunders traced the developments of a unique archipelagic nation from aboriginal times to the period just before emancipation This long awaited second volume offers a description and interpretation of the social developments of the Bahamas in the years from 1830 to the present Volume Two divides this period into three chronological sections dealing first with adjustments to emancipation by former masters and former slaves between 1834 and 1900 followed by a study of the slow process of modernization between 1900 and 1973 that combines a systematic study of the stimulus of social change a candid examination of current problems and a penetrating but sympathetic analysis of what makes the Bahamas and Bahamians distinctive in the world This work is an eminent product of the New Social History intended for Bahamians others interested in the Bahamas and scholars alike It skillfully interweaves generalizations and regional comparisons with particular examples drawn from travelers accounts autobiographies private letters and the imaginative reconstruction of official dispatches and newspaper reports Lavishly illustrated with contemporary photographs and original maps it stands as a model for forthcoming histories of similar small ex colonial nations in the region Background Notes, the Bahamas ,1990

Political Ecology and Tourism Sanjay Nepal,Jarkko Saarinen,2016-02-26 Political ecology explicitly addresses the relations between the social and the natural arguing that social and environmental conditions are deeply and inextricably linked Its emphasis on the material state of nature as the outcome of political processes as well as the construction and understanding of nature itself as political is greatly relevant to tourism Very few tourism scholars have used political ecology as a lens to examine tourism centric natural resource management issues This book brings together experts in the field with a foreword from Piers Blaikie to provide a global exploration of the application of political ecology to tourism It addresses the underlying issues of power ownership and policies that determine the ways in which tourism development decisions are made and implemented Furthermore contributions document the complex array of relationships between tourism stakeholders including indigenous communities and multiple scales of potential conflicts and compromises This groundbreaking book covers 15 contributions organized around four cross cutting themes of communities and livelihoods class representation and power dispossession and displacement and environmental justice and community empowerment This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in tourism geography anthropology sociology environmental studies and natural resources management
