Nastawgan The Canadian North By Canoe Snowshoe A Collection Of Historical Essays:

Nastawgan Bruce W. Hodgins, Margaret Helen Hobbs, 1985 14 essays each focussing on a different aspect of wilderness travel in the Canadian North The authors review the early explorations of the north the origins and development of recreational canoeing the wilderness traveller's motives the meaning of The North and its impact on Canadians

Nastawgan Bruce W. Hodgins, Margaret Hobbs, 1987-06-30 A rich history of Canadian wilderness travel an utterly compelling collection said The Globe and Mail and a gem it absolutely sparkles according to Canadian Geographic Declared by the Canadian Historical Association to be the best book published of its year on the regional history of Canada's North With essays by William C James C E S Franks George Luste Margaret Hobbs John Jennings Shelagh Grant Gwyneth Hoyle Bruce W Hodgins Jamie Bendickson Craig Macdonald Jean Murray Cole John Marsh and John Wadland Canada and the Idea of North Sherrill E Grace, 2002-04-15 Canada and the Idea of North examines the ways in which Canadians have defined themselves as a northern people in their literature art music drama history geography politics and popular culture From the Franklin Mystery to the comic book superheroine Nelvana Glenn Gould's documentaries the paintings of Lawren Harris and Molson beer ads the idea of the north has been central to the Canadian imagination Sherrill Grace argues that Canadians have always used ideas of Canada as North to promote a distinct national identity and national unity In a penultimate chapter The North Writes Back Grace presents newly emerging northern voices and shows how they view the long tradition of representing the North by southern activists artists and scholars With the recent creation of Nunavut increasing concern about northern ecosystems and social challenges and renewed attention to Canada's role as a circumpolar nation Canada and the Idea of North shows that nordicity still plays an urgent and central role in Canada at the start of the twenty first century

Paddling Partners Bruce W. Hodgins, Carol Hodgins, 2008-01-01 Carol and Bruce Hodgins began leading canoe trips in 1957 in northern Ontario Paddling Partners tells the story of their shared canoe travel over the past 50 years Every Trail Has a Story Bob Henderson, 2005-03-07 Canada is packed with intriguing destinations where heritage and landscape interact Bob Henderson captures our living history and its relationship to the land Bob Henderson's Trails and Tales 4-Book Bundle Bob Henderson, 2016-05-30 Hit the trails with naturalist and raconteur Bob Henderson in this four book bundle From folklore to heritage with a hefty dose of the Scandinavian outdoor living ethos of friluftsliv Henderson fires the imagination urging Ontarians to reignite their relationship with nature Includes Every Trail Has a Story More Trails More Tales Nature First Pike's Portage Masculinity and the Other Heather Ellis, Jessica Meyer, 2009-01-14 Histories of masculinity have generally examined both social ideologies of masculinity and subjective male identities within frameworks that define them against the feminine Yet historians and sociologists have increasingly argued that men have been and continue to be defined both socially and subjectively as much by their relations to other men as in relation to women This collection brings together the work of scholars of masculinities working in a variety of fields including literature history and art history to examine some of the forms of otherness against which ideas of masculinity have been defined throughout history The collection reflects the current breadth of scholarship relating to the study of masculine alterity While the subjects addressed are largely historical the time span covered is broad and the disciplinary approaches to the subject matter are equally wide ranging A huge variety of men masculine behaviours and definitions of masculinity are considered in an exciting and invigorating collection that showcases both established academics and emerging scholars in the field

Technology, Disease and Colonial Conquests, Sixteenth to Eighteenth Centuries George Raudzens, 2022-10-04 The eight essays in this study reassess evidence about the plausibility of the widely accepted guns and germs theories which put forward firepower advantages and inadvertent disease importation as the two main causes of European imperial expansion overseas during the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries All argue that these theories are important but oversimplified The effectiveness of firepower and disease impacts on specific groups of New World indigenes were always conditioned by time place and cultural characteristics Long range communication control was sometimes more important Above all motives driving invasions and conquests were often more influential than means and methodologies This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

This Elusive Land Melody Hessing, Rebecca Raglon, Catriona Sandilands, 2005 This Elusive Land provides an introduction to the literature about women and the environment in Canada It looks at the ways in which women integrate the social and biophysical settings of their lives and features a range of contexts in which gender mediates inspires and informs a sense of belonging to and in this land Drawing from geographical historical and cultural perspectives the volume reveals the significance of women's experiences in various landscapes Jacket

Beyond Wilderness John O'Brian, Peter White, 2017-12-30 The great purpose of landscape art is to make us at home in our own country was the nationalist maxim motivating the Group of Seven's artistic project The empty landscape paintings of the Group played a significant role in the nationalization of nature in Canada particularly in the development of ideas about northernness wilderness and identity In Beyond Wilderness contributors pick up where the Group of Seven left off They demonstrate that since the 1960s a growing body of both art and critical writing has looked beyond wilderness to re-imagine landscape in a world of vastly altered political technological and environmental circumstances By emphasizing social relationships changing identity politics and issues of colonial power and dispossession contemporary artists have produced landscape art that explores what was absent in the work of their predecessors Beyond Wilderness expands the public understanding of Canadian landscape representation tracing debates about the place of landscape in Canadian art and the national imagination through the twentieth century to the present Critical writings from both contemporary and historically significant curators historians feminists media theorists and cultural critics and exactly reproduced artworks by contemporary and historical artists are brought together in productive dialogue Beyond Wilderness explains why landscape art in Canada had to be reinvented and what forms the reinvention took

Cross-Currents Jean L. Manore, 2006-01-01 Most activities in our lives involve electricity Yet how often do we recall that even the simple act of turning on a light is supported by a long history of debates over group vs individual rights environmental impact political agendas and technological innovations Using the image of cross currents as the organizing metaphor this book details the many and often turbulent interactions and interconnections that occurred among the various people and events during the building of the northeastern Ontario hydroelectric system Special focus is on Native and non Native interests southern business and political elites northern natural resources and the interactions between technology and the environment Manore concentrates on the co operation that existed among the various interest groups during periods of expansion and amalgamation In today s environment of limited energy resources respect for the rights of First Nations and ecological concerns this book is a reminder that co operation rather than conquest is a more realistic approach to development

An Ethnohistorian in Rupert's Land Jennifer S. H. Brown, 2017-08-10 In 1670 the ancient homeland of the Cree and Ojibwe people of Hudson Bay became known to the English entrepreneurs of the Hudson s Bay Company as Rupert s Land after the founder and absentee landlord Prince Rupert For four decades Jennifer S H Brown has examined the complex relationships that developed among the newcomers and the Algonquian communities who hosted and tolerated the fur traders and later the missionaries anthropologists and others who found their way into Indigenous lives and territories The eighteen essays gathered in this book explore Brown s investigations into the surprising range of interactions among Indigenous people and newcomers as they met or observed one another from a distance and as they competed compromised and rejected or adapted to change While diverse in their subject matter the essays have thematic unity in their focus on the old HBC territory and its peoples from the 1600s to the present More than an anthology the chapters of An Ethnohistorian in Rupert's Land provide examples of Brown's exceptional skill in the close study of texts including oral documents images artifacts and other cultural expressions The volume as a whole represents the scholarly evolution of one of the leading ethnohistorians in Canada and the United States

Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks Hallie E. Bond, 1998-08-01 Adirondack history is a tale written on the water In the Adirondacks people have traveled conducted warfare hunted and fished gone to church proposed marriage and driven logs in on from or by water Without boats small and large Adirondack history social recreational commercial and environmental would be an affair entirely different from what we have come to know In this lavishly illustrated account Hallie E Bond presents a history of these boats canoes sailboats power launches outboards and the indigenous guideboat that figure prominently in the overall history of the Adirondacks The pre contact Indians paddled dugout and bark canoes in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries these craft were joined by skiffs and bateaux Between 1820 and World War II a distinctive tradition of boat building developed culminating in the famous Adirondack guideboat As the nineteenth century progressed a variety of small fresh water musclepowered boats was produced in the Adirondacks an assemblage matched by only a few places in the country There were the canoes and the men that made them famous John Henry Rushton and Nessmuk and the guideboats and their builders H Dwight Grant and Willard Hanmer In the early twentieth century the development of the internal combustion engine irrevocably changed not only boat use and design but life and leisure in the Adirondacks Bond skillfully captures the whole panorama of boats and boating in the Adirondacks from early dugouts and bateaux to the highpowered inboards that won Gold Cup races on Lake George and the Kevlar pack canoes of today Drawing on her experience as an historian and Curator of Collections and Boats at the Adirondack Museum Bond places events and trends of the region in the context of national and international history and describes the significant contribution of the Adirondacks in the early twentieth century development of recreation and travel in America Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks also includes a descriptive catalog of boats from the museum's own collection with nearly two hundred illustrations in addition to those in the narrative a list of boatbuilders active in the North Country before 1975 and a valuable glossary of terms

Appalachia, 1988

The Travellers Elizabeth Waterston, 1989

The Last Wilderness Peter Browning, 1989 North of the sixtieth parallel east of Great Slave Lake and west of Hudson Bay is a vast sweep of pure unspoiled land It is the least accessible region in North America a wilderness that has been seen by few and traversed by fewer still and is inhabited by no one There is only the land carved and molded by the glaciers scoured boulders ridges and low hills of white sand the sparkling waters of myriad lakes In 1964 Peter Browning and John Blunt went by canoe from northern Saskatchewan to the village of Snowdrift on Great Slave Lake They started in early June and traveled 600 miles on lakes and rivers and across agonizing portages through a land devoid of other people They saw no one else for 74 days During their long journey they suffered storms hordes of insects exhausting labor and hunger They were rewarded by being totally independent amidst the beauty and serenity of the last great wilderness in North America Included in this modern odyssey are 59 striking photographs of the virgin lakes and forests and tundra of the Northwest Territories
