Handbook of Regional Innovation and Growth Philip Cooke, Bjørn Asheim, Ron Boschma, Ron Martin, Dafna Schwartz, Franz Tötting, 2011-01-01 Today economic growth is widely understood to be conditioned by productivity increases which are in turn profoundly affected by innovation This volume explores these key relationships between innovation and growth bringing together experts from both fields to compile a unique Handbook The Handbook considers innovation from fresh perspectives encompassing topics such as services innovation inward investment and innovation creative industry innovation and green innovation It is divided into seven sections dealing with regional innovation and growth theory dynamics evolution agglomeration innovation worlds innovation system institutions and innovation governance and policy This definitive compendium on regional innovation and growth will undoubtedly appeal to teachers students researchers and practitioners of innovation and growth dynamics worldwide Handbook of Social Indicators and Quality of Life Research Kenneth C. Land, Alex C. Michalos, M. Joseph Sirgy, 2011-11-25 The aim of the Handbook of Social Indicators and Quality of Life Research is to create an overview of the field of Quality of Life QOL studies in the early years of the 21st century that can be updated and improved upon as the field evolves and the century unfolds Social indicators are statistical time series used to monitor the social system helping to identify changes and to guide intervention to alter the course of social change Examples include unemployment rates crime rates estimates of life expectancy health status indices school enrollment rates average achievement scores election voting rates and measures of subjective well being such as satisfaction with life as a whole and with specific domains or aspects of life This book provides a review of the historical development of the field including the history of QOL in medicine and mental health as well as the research related to quality of work life QWL programs It discusses several of QOL main concepts happiness positive psychology and subjective wellbeing Relations between spirituality and religiousness and QOL are examined as are the effects of educational attainment on QOL and marketing and the associations with economic growth The book goes on to investigate methodological approaches and issues that should be considered in measuring and analysing quality of life from a quantitative perspective The final chapters are dedicated to research on elements of QOL in a broad range of countries and populations The Modern Prison Paradox Amy E. Lerman, 2013-08-19 In The Modern Prison Paradox Amy E Lerman examines the shift from rehabilitation to punitivism that has taken place in the politics and practice of American corrections She argues that this punitive turn has had profoundly negative consequences for both crime control and American community life Professor Lerman's research shows that spending time in America's increasingly violent and castigatory prisons strengthens inmates criminal networks and fosters attitudes that increase the likelihood of criminal activity following parole Additionally Professor Lerman assesses whether America's more punitive prisons similarly shape the social attitudes and behaviors of correctional staff Her analysis reveals that working in more punitive prisons causes correctional officers to develop an us against them mentality while on the job and that the stress and wariness officers acquire at work carries over into their personal lives straining relationships with partners children and friends      The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright Neil Levine,2016 This is the first book devoted to Frank Lloyd Wright s designs for remaking the modern city Stunningly comprehensive The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright presents a radically new interpretation of the architect s work and offers new and important perspectives on the history of modernism Neil Levine places Wright s projects produced over more than fifty years within their historical cultural and physical contexts while relating them to the theory and practice of urbanism as it evolved over the twentieth century Levine overturns the conventional view of Wright as an architect who deplored the city and whose urban vision was limited to a utopian plan for a network of agrarian communities he called Broadacre City Rather Levine reveals Wright s larger more varied interesting and complex urbanism demonstrated across the span of his lengthy career Beginning with Wright s plans from the late 1890s through the early 1910s for reforming residential urban neighborhoods mainly in Chicago and continuing through projects from the 1920s through the 1950s for commercial mixed use civic and cultural centers for Chicago Madison Washington Pittsburgh and Baghdad Levine demonstrates Wright s place among the leading contributors to the creation of the modern city Wright s often spectacular designs are shown to be those of an innovative precursor and creative participant in the world of ideas that shaped the modern metropolis Lavishly illustrated with drawings plans maps and photographs this book features the first extensive new photography of materials from the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation Archives The Urbanism of Frank Lloyd Wright will serve as one of the most important books on the architect for years to come      The Griffin Legacy Australia. National Capital Authority,2004 The Griffin Legacy sets a new course for Canberra as the nation s capital with it s strategic framework for the city s development in the 21st century      Resources in Education ,1992

Designing the Civic Commons Jennifer Jean Sloan,2020 In modern America people gather in civic public spaces for many reasons to celebrate family gather as a community engage in commerce or protest injustices The design of these spaces is critical to their ability to foster civic participation Jan Gehl has argued that public spaces should be designed for people and encourage social interactions that build social capital Gehl 2006 Social capital is beneficial to individuals and communities in many ways including political engagement the economic prosperity of individuals and communities and the safety and security of the community Putnam 1995 It has been said that in public spaces we learn to be citizens Kaufman Tepper 1999 and therefore we can say good citizens are made in good places While sociologists have emphasized the connections between public space and social capital there is little research that looks specifically at the design features and programming that make these connections possible This research focuses on the role of design in creating public civic spaces that encourage social interaction and build social capital While architects and planners have established formal typologies for civic space in large cities there is little research that evaluates their success in supporting social interaction What is the role of the government in the creation of civic public spaces that encourage social interaction and build social capital Are there civic space typologies that are more successful than others for building social capital Which design features are most successful in bringing people together and thus creating social capital These questions are addressed through the development of an audit framework to allow the study of three case study investigations of Texas edge cities on the northern urban fringe of the Dallas Fort Worth metropolitan area Denton Southlake and Frisco This original framework combines a study of the physical layer code layer and content layer Nemeth with a Public Space Index Vikas and applies them to three case studies These case studies will include qualitative and quantitative data gained through public space audits behavior mapping survey data and participant observation The intended result of this research is to determine how successful each civic public space is in regards to building social capital and what role the government plays in facilitating and maintaining it Additionally this research seeks to understand the space typology and features present in the most successful public spaces both from the perspective of policy and of design proposing new ways for these separate disciplines to communicate about their shared concerns If you build a good place people will gather in it Walljasper 2005 Local governments have a vested interest in building social capital with their citizens As public administrators understand the ways that civic space can be designed and used the better designed spaces will be
