Part Two. A History of the United States Since 1865 John Morton Blum, 1977 Color-Line to Borderlands Johnella E. Butler, 2011-07-01 Ethnic Studies has drawn higher education usually kicking and screaming into the borderlands of scholarship pedagogy faculty collegiality and institutional development Johnella E Butler writes in her Introduction to this collection of lively and insightful essays Some of the most prominent scholars in Ethnic Studies today explore varying approaches multiple methodologies and contrasting perspectives within the field Essays trace the historical development of Ethnic Studies its place in American universities and the curriculum and new directions in contemporary scholarship The legitimization of the field the need for institutional support and the changing relations between academic scholarship and community activism are also discussed The institutional structure of Ethnic Studies continues to be affected by national regional and local attitudes and events and Ronald Takaki s essay explores the contested terrains of these culture wars Manning Marable delves into theoretical aspects of writing about race and ethnicity while John C Walter surveys the influence of African American history on U S history textbooks Elizabeth

Cook Lynn and Craig Howe explain why American Indian Studies does not fit into the Ethnic Studies model and Lauro H Flores traces the historical development of Chicano a Studies forged from the student and community activism of the late 1960s Ethnic Studies is simultaneously discipline based and interdisciplinary self containing and overlapping This volume captures that dichotomy as contributors raise questions that traditional disciplines ignore Essays include Lane Ryo Hirabayashi and Marilyn Caballero Alquizola on the gulf between postmodernism and political and institutional realities Rhett S Jones on the evolution of Africana Studies and Judith Newton on the trajectories of Ethnic Studies and Women s Studies and their relations with marginalized communities Shirley Hune and Evelyn Hu DeHart each make a case for the separation of Asian American Studies from Asian Studies while Edna Acosta Bel n argues for a hemispheric approach to Latin American and U S Latino a Studies T V Reed rounds out the volume by offering through cultural studies bridges to the twenty first century

History in the Making Kyle Ward, 2007-10-01 The popular thought provoking study that explores how contemporary prejudices change the way each generation looks at the nation s past Library Journal Historian Kyle Ward the acclaimed co author of History Lessons offers another fascinating look at the biases inherent in the way we think about write about and teach our own history Juxtaposing passages from US history textbooks of different eras History in the Making provides new perspectives on familiar historical events and sheds light on the ways they have been represented over generations Covering subjects that span two hundred years from Columbus s arrival to the Boston Massacre from women s suffrage to Japanese internment History in the Making exposes the changing values priorities and points of view that have framed and reframed our past Interesting and useful convincingly illustrates how texts change as social and political attitudes evolve Booklist Students teachers and general readers will learn more about the past from these passages than from any single work however current that purports to monopolize the truth Ray Raphael author of Founding Myths
