National Gallery Washington Great Museum:

America's National Gallery of Art Philip Kopper, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), 2016-10-04 America's National Gallery of Art a 75th anniversary history of the nation's art museum founded by Andrew W Mellon and opened to the public on March 17 1941 Presenting an overview of the Gallery's first fifty years and a thematic look at the transformation the museum has undergone since 1992 the book offers extensive photographic essays that highlight the West Building newly renovated East Building and Sculpture Garden as well as the magnificent art collection and selected special exhibitions The book includes accounts of the founding benefactors and four directors David Finley John Walker J Carter Brown and now Earl A Powell III and discusses the Gallery's historic 2014 agreement to accept custody of the collections of the Corcoran Gallery of Art A Design and Prospectus for a National Gallery of History and Art at Washington Franklin Webster Smith, 1891 National Galleries Simon Knell, 2016-01-22 Are national galleries different from other kinds of art gallery or museum What value is there for the nation in a collection of international masterpieces How are national galleries involved in the construction national art National Galleries is the first book to undertake a panoramic view of a type of national institution which are sometimes called national museums of fine art that is now found in almost every nation on earth Adopting a richly illustrated globally inclusive comparative view Simon Knell argues that national galleries should not be understood as great galleries but as peculiar sites where art is made to perform in acts of nation building A book that fundamentally rewrites the history of these institutions and encourages the reader to dispense with elitist views of their worth Knell reveals an unseen geography and a rich complexity of performance He considers the ways the national galleries entangle art and nation and the differing trajectories and purposes of international and national art Exploring galleries artists and artworks from around the world National Galleries is an argument about how we think about and study these institutions Privileging the situatedness of each national gallery performance and valuing localism over universalism Knell looks particularly at how national art is constructed and represented He ends with examples that show the mutability of national art and by questioning the necessity of art nationalism

Capital Culture Neil Harris, 2013-09-30 American art museums flourished in the late twentieth century and the impresario leading much of this growth was J Carter Brown director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington DC from 1969 to 1992 Along with S Dillon Ripley who served as Smithsonian secretary for much of this time Brown reinvented the museum experience in ways that had important consequences for the cultural life of Washington and its visitors as well as for American museums in general In Capital Culture distinguished historian Neil Harris provides a wide ranging look at Brown's achievement and the growth of museum culture during this crucial period Harris combines his in depth knowledge of American history and culture with extensive archival research and he has interviewed dozens of key players to reveal how Brown's showmanship transformed the National Gallery At the time of the Cold War Washington itself was growing into a global destination with Brown as its devoted booster Harris describes Brown's major role in the birth of blockbuster exhibitions such as the King Tut show of the late 1970s and the National Gallery's immensely successful Treasure Houses of Britain which helped inspire similarly popular exhibitions around the country He recounts Brown's role in creating the award winning East Building by architect I M Pei and the subsequent renovation of the West building Harris also explores the politics of exhibition planning describing Brown's courtship of corporate leaders politicians and international dignitaries In this monumental book Harris brings to life this dynamic era and exposes the creation of Brown's impressive but costly legacy one that changed the face of American museums forever The Chautauquan, 1913 National Museums Simon Knell, Peter Aronsson, Arne Bugge Amundsen, 2014-05-22 National Museums is the first book to explore the national museum as a cultural institution in a range of contrasting national contexts Composed of new studies of countries that rarely make a showing in the English language studies of museums this book reveals how these national museums have been used to create a sense of national self place the nation in the arts deal with the consequences of political change remake difficult pasts and confront those issues of nationalism ethnicity and multiculturalism which have come to the fore in national politics in recent decades National Museums combines research from both leading and new researchers in the fields of history museum studies cultural studies sociology history of art media studies science and technology studies and anthropology It is an interrogation of the origins purpose organisation politics narratives and philosophies of national museums Art and History of Washington D.C. Bruce R. Smith, 2008 National Gallery of Canada Douglas Ord, 2003-05-26 Ord looks at the gallery's historical and intellectual context from 1910 when Eric Brown became the gallery's founding director through Jean Sutherland Boggs to Shirley Thomson shedding light on its acquisitions government policy towards the arts and the public's deep rooted suspicion of avant garde art In showing how Canadian art came to be housed in a building whose architectural and ideological sources include Gothic cathedrals Islamic mosques Egyptian temples St Peter's Basilica and the squared stone facades of the Holy City of Jerusalem The National Gallery of Canada insightfully explores the relationship of Canada's art and its National Gallery to the project of the Canadian nation state Museum Studies Bettina Messias Carbonell, 2012-04-23 Updated to reflect the latest developments in twenty first century museum scholarship the new Second Edition of Museum Studies An Anthology of Contexts presents a comprehensive collection of approaches to museums and their relation to history culture and philosophy Unique in its deep range of historical sources and by its inclusion of primary texts by museum makers Places current praxis and theory in its broader and deeper historical context with the collection of primary and secondary sources spanning more than 200 years Features the latest developments in museum scholarship concerning issues of inclusion and exclusion repatriation indigenous models of collection and display museums in an age of globalization visitor studies and interactive technologies Includes a new section on relationships interactions and responsibilities Offers an updated bibliography and list of resources devoted to museum studies that makes the volume an authoritative guide on the subject New entries by Victoria E M Cain Neil G W Curtis Catherine Ingraham Gwyneira Isaac
