The Music of Michael Nyman Pwyll ap Siôn, 2017-07-05 Nyman's rise to international prominence during the last three decades has made him one of the world's most successful living composers His music has nevertheless been criticized for its parasitic borrowing of other composers' ideas and for its relentless self-borrowing In this first book-length study in English Pwyll ap Siôn places Nyman's writings within the general context of Anglo-American experimentalism minimalism and post-minimalism and provides a series of useful contexts from which controversial aspects of Nyman's musical language can be more clearly understood and appreciated Drawing upon terms informed by intertextual theory in general appropriation and borrowing are first introduced within the context of twentieth-century art music and theory Intertextual concepts are explained and their terms defined before Nyman's musical language is considered in relation to a series of intertextual classifications and types These types then form the basis of a more in-depth study of his works during the second half of the book ranging from opera and chamber music to film Rather than restricting style and technique Nyman's intertextual approach on the contrary is shown to provide his music with an almost infinite amount of variety flexibility and diversity and this has been used to illustrate a wide range of technical aesthetic and expressive forms He composes with his ear towards the past as if it were a rich quarry to mine working like a musical archaeologist uncovering artefacts and chiselling fresh and vibrant sonic edifices out of them

Staging Tourism Jane Desmond,1999 From Shamu the dancing whale at Sea World to Hawaiian lu au shows Staging Tourism analyzes issues of performance in a wide range of tourist venues Jane C Desmond argues that the public display of bodies how they look what they do where they do it who watches and under what conditions is profoundly important in structuring identity categories of race gender and cultural affiliation These fantastic spectacles of corporeality form the basis of hugely profitable tourist industries which in turn form crucial arenas of public culture where embodied notions of identity are sold enacted and debated Gathering together written accounts postcards photographs advertisements films and oral histories as well as her own interpretations of these displays Desmond gives us a vibrant account of U S tourism in Waikiki from 1900 to the present

She then juxtaposes cultural tourism with animal tourism in the United States which takes place at zoos aquariums and animal theme parks In each case Desmond argues the relationship between the viewer and the viewed is ultimately based on concepts of physical difference harking back to the nineteenth century Big Dead Place Nicholas Johnson,2005 In the desolate continent of Antarctica the United States Government has set up three bases operated by the Raytheon corporation These alleged ports of high science have seen little if any technical endeavours this century nevertheless the charade continues and many dozens of workers are cooped up together in high tech communes Harassed by a tic tac bureaucracy that makes the Soviet Union look free and easy these bases are filled with highly neurotic individuals who use their free time playing mind games with one another
