Agricultural Trade Policy Timothy Edward Josling, Tim Josling, 1998 The Uruguay Round trade negotiations marked a historic turning point in the reform of agricultural trade The Uruguay Round Agreement on Agriculture URAA replaced nontariff barriers with bound tariffs curbed export subsidies and codified domestic agricultural programs Unfortunately the URAA bound many of the tariffs that replaced nontariff barriers too high it legitimized export subsidies and it left the domestic farm policies of the major industrial countries largely untouched Fortunately regional trade institutions have also begun to grapple with agricultural trade liberalization Agriculture was featured in the Mercosur agreement in recent agreements between the European Union and the countries of Central and Eastern Europe and in the North American Free Trade Area NAFTA Plans for broad supraregional trade structures such as the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC forum and the Free Trade Area of the Americas FTAA have also dealt with the inclusion of agricultural trade Meanwhile in developing and middle income countries unilateral agricultural policy reforms have been part of recent economic policy changes However in the industrial countries agricultural policy reform has languished in the face of much domestic opposition But the reform of the European Union's Common Agricultural Policy CAP in 1992 and the 1996 Farm Bill in the United States seems to have ushered in a new era of relations between government and agricultural groups The author points out ways that multilateral regional and unilateral paths could be coordinated to liberalized agricultural trade He proposes a set of multilateral talks that would benefit from agricultural reform at all levels and complete the job begun at the Uruguay Round

Trade Negotiations In The OECD David J. Blair, 2013-07-04 First published in 1993 This book is situated at the intersection of three main areas of international relations research The first of these areas is the study of international organisations The second area of inquiry is international relations theory the decisions reached within international organisations are generally the result of some form of bargaining among their members an examination of the negotiations that go on among member countries is necessary in order to understand the functioning of these organisations The choice of the OECD as a subject of investigation stemmed from an interest in a third area of study international political economy in particular the relations among countries in the field of international trade      Agricultural Trade, Policy Reforms, and Global Food Security Kym Anderson, 2016-11-25 This book explores the potential for policy reform as a short term low cost way to sustainably enhance global food security It argues that reforming policies that distort food prices and trade will promote the openness needed to maximize global food availability and reduce fluctuations in international food prices Beginning with an examination of historical trends in markets and policies Anderson assesses the prospects for further reforms and projects how they may develop over the next fifteen years He pays particular attention to domestic policy changes made possible by the information technology revolution which will complement global change to deal directly with farmer and consumer concerns      The World Rice Market--government Intervention and Multilateral Policy Reform Nathan W. Childs, 1990      National Policies and Agricultural Trade , 1987      World Agricultural Trade Institute for Research on Public Policy, Institute for International Economics (U.S.), 1988 In 1987 the two Institutes brought together a number of persons with considerable experience in agricultural policy from 20 countries representing both importers and exporters They participated in 4 meetings and approved the consensus policy statement published here with the background papers developed for the meetings These background studies include suggestions for reforming government policies worldwide a North American and European Community approach to decoupling the policy decisions that affect production from those that are pursued on social or environmental grounds agriculture in GATT negotiations and developing countries and exchange rates and their role in agricultural trade issues      The Political Economy Of Agricultural Trade And Policy Hans J Michelmann, Jack C Stabler, Gary Storey, 2019-07-11 This book presents a descriptive analysis of the political economy of the European Community the U S and Canada It describes the structural changes and the crises in agriculture and focuses on impact of GATT on agricultural policy and trade in the post Second World War era      To Establish a National Commission on Agricultural Trade and Export Policy United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Governmental Affairs, 1984      The Environment, Government Policies, and International Trade , 1993      Japan , 1987      Estimates of Producer and Consumer Subsidy Equivalents Alan J. Webb, 1990      Adding Value to Existing Models of International Agricultural Trade Thomas Warren Hertel, 1994
