National Register Of Historic Places 197:

The National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings ,1976 Naval Sea Systems Command Headquarters (NAVSEA), Base Realignment and Closure Action, Relocation to Washington Navy Yard (WNY) ,1997 Crafting Preservation Criteria John H. Sprinkle, Jr.,2014-03-05 In 1966 American historic preservation was transformed by the passage of the National Historic Preservation Act which created a National Register of Historic Places Now comprising more than 1 4 million historic properties across the country the National Register is the official federal list of places in the United States thought to be worthy of preservation One of the fundamental principles of the National Register is that every property is evaluated according to a standard set of criteria that provide the framework for understanding why a property is significant in American history The origins of these criteria are important because they provide the threshold for consideration by a broad range of federal preservation programs from planning for continued adaptive use to eligibility for grants and inclusion in heritage tourism and educational programs Crafting Preservation Criteria sets out these preservation criteria for students explaining how they got added to the equation and elucidating the test cases that allowed for their use From artworks to churches from the fifty year rule to the historic scene students will learn how places have been historically evaluated to be placed on the National Register and how the criteria evolved over time America's Religious

Architecture Marilyn J. Chiat,1997-10-07 From the Moorish synagogue in small Texas town to the New England meetinghouse nestled in the palm trees of Hawaii this comprehensive historical survey of America s religious architecture celebrates the country s ethnic and spiritual diversity through the magnificent breadth of these community landmarks The first comprehensive architectural and cultural history of its kind the book features 500 places of worship nationwide many listed on the National Register of Historic Places Includes over 300 black and white photographs and foreword by Bill Moyers creator of the PBS Genesis series Everyone's Country Estate Roy Willard Meyer,1991 In 1891 Minnesota established its first state park at Lake Itasca the headwaters of the Mississippi River In the century that followed Minnesotans and tourists from other states have enjoyed hiking picnicking fishing camping canoeing and skiing at Itasca and Minnesota s 64 other state parks This helpful guide to the past in the parks will be welcomed by people who regularly visit a favorite Minnesota park people who have set out to visit every park and people who are newly discovering the parks wonders

Communities of Ludlow Fawn-Amber Montoya, Karin Larkin, 2022-07-15 For more than one hundred years people have come to the Ludlow Massacre Memorial site to remember the dead to place themselves within a larger narrative of labor history and to learn about what occurred there Communities of Ludlow reveals the perseverance memory and work that has been done to enrich and share the narratives of the people of Ludlow and the experiences of those who commemorate it The history of the Ludlow Massacre encompasses the stories of immigrant groups women the working class and people of color as much as the story of that tragedy and the continued relevance of these issues creates a need for remembrance and discussion of how to make the events of the Ludlow Massacre available to contemporary society The book outlines recent efforts to remember and commemorate this important historical event documenting the unique collaborations in public scholarship and outreach among the diverse group of people involved in marking the 100 year anniversary of the Ludlow Massacre The chapters relate the tales of the stewards of the Ludlow Massacre the various communities that rallied together to keep this history alive and show its relevance including lineal descendants members of the United Mine Workers of America historians archaeologists scholars artists interpreters authors playwrights and politicians The book also offers tips strategies and cautionary tales for practicing engaged public scholarship The history of the Ludlow Massacre has been told as a tragedy of striking miners in the West that occurred during a turbulent time in US labor relations but it is so much more than that Communities of Ludlow explores the intersections of public scholarship advocacy and personal experience weaving these perspectives together with models for practicing public scholarship to illustrate the power of creating spaces for sharing ideas and information in an environment that encourages creativity open dialogue public outreach political action and alternative narratives Contributors Robert Butero Robin Henry Michael Jacobson Elizabeth Jameson Linda Linville Matthew Maher Yolanda Romero

New Orleans on Parade J. Mark Souther, 2013-10-07 New Orleans on Parade tells the story of the Big Easy in the twentieth century In this urban biography J Mark Souther explores the Crescent City s architecture music food and alcohol folklore and spiritualism Mardi Gras festivities and illicit sex commerce in revealing how New Orleans became a city that parades itself to visitors and residents alike Stagnant between the Civil War and World War II a period of great expansion nationally New Orleans unintentionally preserved its distinctive physical appearance and culture Though business civic and government leaders tried to pursue conventional modernization in the 1940s competition from other Sunbelt cities as well as a national economic shift from production to consumption gradually led them to seize on tourism as the growth engine for future prosperity giving rise to a veritable gumbo of sensory attractions. A trend in historic preservation and the influence of outsiders helped fan this newfound identity and the city's residents learned to embrace rather than disdain their past. A growing reliance on the tourist trade fundamentally affected social relations in New Orleans. African Americans were cast as actors who shaped the culture that made tourism possible while at the same time they were exploited by the local power structure. As black leaders' influence increased, the white elite attempted to keep its traditions, including racial inequality, intact, and race and class issues often lay at the heart of controversies over progress. Once the most tolerant, diverse city in the South and the nation, New Orleans came to lag behind the rest of the country in pursuing racial equity. Souther traces the ascendancy of tourism in New Orleans through the final decades of the twentieth century and beyond, examining the 1984 World's Fair, the collapse of Louisiana's oil industry in the eighties, and the devastating blow dealt by Hurricane Katrina in 2005. Narrated in a lively style and resting on a bedrock of research, New Orleans on Parade is a landmark book that allows readers to fully understand the image making of the Big Easy.

Transforming Heritage Practice in the 21st Century John H. Jameson, Sergiu Musteață, 2019-06-14 Recent years have witnessed a rapid increase in the fields of cultural heritage studies and community archaeology worldwide, with expanding discussions about the mechanisms and consequences of community participation. This trend has brought to the forefront debates about who owns the past, who has knowledge, and how heritage values can be shared more effectively with communities who then ascribe meaning and value to heritage materials. Globalization forces have created a need for contextualizing knowledge to address complex issues and collaboration across and beyond academic disciplines, using more integrated methodologies that include the participation of non-academics and increased stakeholder involvement. Successful programs provide power sharing mechanisms and motivation that effect more active involvement by lay persons in archaeological fieldwork as well as interpretation and information dissemination processes. With the contents of this volume, we envision community archaeology to go beyond descriptions of outreach and public engagement to more critical and reflexive actions and thinking. The volume is presented in the context of the evolution of cultural heritage studies from the 20th century expert approach to the 21st century people-centered approach with public participation and community involvement at all phases of the decision making process. The volume contains contributions of 28 chapters and 59 authors covering an extensive geographical range including Africa, South America, Central America, Western Europe, Eastern Europe, North America, and Australasia. Chapters provide exemplary cases in a growing lexicon of public archaeology where power is shared within frameworks of voluntary activism in a wide diversity of cooperative settings and stakeholder interactions.

NEPA and Environmental Planning Charles H. Eccleston, 2008-03-18 A tool for predicting environmental impacts, the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) can also be used to predict the impacts of natural disasters and potential terrorist attacks. This book demonstrates how to use NEPA as a framework to support decision making. It includes examples that demonstrate how NEPA can be efficiently integrated with other processes such as ISO 14001. P2 and Adaptive Management It provides proven tools techniques and approaches for streamlining NEPA and environmental planning strategies that reduce the potential for controversy and criticism It is the first text that covers recent changes to NEPA and the new CEQ guidance expected to be issued Main Street to Miracle Mile Chester Liebs,1995-08 Traces the transformation of commercial development as it has moved from centralized main streets out along the street car lines to form the miracle miles and shopping malls of today Also explores the evolution of roadside buildings Back cover Central Bradford County Traffic Improvement Project, US 6 Highway Through Towanda Borough and North Towanda Township to US 220, Bradford County ,1999 Indian Mounds of Wisconsin Robert A.
