National Income Theory and Its Price Theoretic Foundations William Henry Locke Anderson, 1979      Aggregate Economic Choice Harland W. Jr. Whitmore, 2012-12-06      International Economics Policies and Their Theoretical Foundations John M. Letiche, 2014-05-12

International Economics Policies and Their Theoretical Foundations A Source Book provides information pertinent to the increasing differentiation of international economic policies among the developed and developing market economies This book presents an analysis of fundamental principles of international economics Organized into nine parts encompassing 33 chapters this book begins with an overview of the certain elements of the relationship between the developing and the developed countries that the developing countries find particularly irksome This text then analyzes the determinants of secular changes in the terms of trade and attempt to assess the influence of these changes on the development of a poor country Other chapters consider the different concepts of the terms of trade including the gross barter income net barter or commodity and utility terms of trade The final chapter deals with the economic scenarios for the 1980s This book is a valuable resource for teachers students and government officials      Proceedings of the Board of Regents University of Michigan. Board of Regents, 1988      Regents' Proceedings University of Michigan. Board of Regents, 1988      Capitalism Anwar Shaikh, 2016-01-15

Orthodox economics operates within a hypothesized world of perfect competition in which perfect consumers and firms act to bring about supposedly optimal outcomes The discrepancies between this model and the reality it claims to address are then attributed to particular imperfections in reality itself Most heterodox economists seize on this fact and insist that the world is characterized by imperfect competition But this only ties them to the notion of perfect competition which remains as their point of departure and base of comparison There is no imperfection without perfection In Capitalism Anwar Shaikh takes a different approach He demonstrates that most of the central propositions of economic analysis can be derived without any reference to standard devices such as hyperrationality optimization perfect competition perfect information representative agents or so called rational expectations This perspective allows him to look afresh at virtually all the elements of economic analysis the laws of demand and supply the determination of wage and profit rates technological change relative prices interest rates bond and equity prices exchange rates terms and balance of trade growth unemployment inflation and long booms culminating in recurrent general crises In every case Shaikh s innovative theory is applied to modern empirical patterns and contrasted with neoclassical Keynesian and Post Keynesian approaches to the same issues Shaikh s object of analysis is the economics of capitalism and he explores the subject in this expansive light This is how the classical economists as well as Keynes and Kalecki approached the issue Anyone interested in capitalism and economics in general can gain a wealth of knowledge from this ground breaking text      International Economic Integration: Theory and measurement Miroslav Jovanovic, 1998      The Production of Money Ann Pettifor, 2017-03-28

What is money where does it come from and who controls it In this accessible brilliantly argued book leading political economist Ann Pettifor explains in straightforward terms history's most misunderstood invention the money system Pettifor argues that democracies can and indeed must reclaim control over money production and restrain the out of control finance sector so that it serves the interests of society as well as the needs of the ecosystem The Production of Money examines and assesses popular alternative debates on and innovations in money such as green QE and helicopter money She sets out the possibility of linking the money in our pockets or on our smartphones to the improvements we want to see in the world around us

Economic Semantics Fritz Machlup, 2020-03-06 When the original edition was first published in 1963 Machlup observed I hope that the availability of this collection will dispel semantic and conceptual fog and allow greater visibility The work is divided into five sections with a new essay in this edition on Are the Social Sciences Really Inferior There is also a new introduction by Mark Perlman University Professor of Economics at the University of Pittsburgh

A Macroeconomics Model and Stabilisation Policies for the OPEC Countries A. Khalik Salman, 2019-06-26 First published in 1999 this book focuses on the macroeconomics issues which directly affect OPEC countries aiming to set them in the context of the overall development effort The most extant theoretical and empirical aspects in macroeconomics are integrated smoothly with institutional issues and policy questions The analysis is illustrated through examples to show how the theories relate to the real world especially to ongoing debates on developing economies as well as debates that encompass both developing and OPEC and developed countries

The Minor Marshallians and Alfred Marshall Peter Groenewegen, 2013-03-01 Alfred Marshall Professor of Economics at Cambridge University 1885 1908 produced a distinguished crop of students many of them leaders in the economics profession in subsequent generations Pigou Keynes and Denis Robertson are undoubtedly the most famous of these Marshall pupils but there were many more even if more minor forces in the development of early twentieth century economics This book intends to examine the major work of ten of these minor Marshallians Sydney John Chapman 1871 1951 John Harold Clapham 1873 1946 Charles Ryle Fay 1884 1961 Alfred William Flux 1867 1942 Frederick Lavington 1881 1927 Walter Thomas Layton 1884 1966 David Huchinson MacGregor 1827 1953 Joseph Shield Nicholson 1850 1927 Charles Percy Sanger 1871 1930 and Gerald Francis Shove 1888 1947 to name them in alphabetical order The broad aim of this book is to evaluate the more important contributions of these minor Marshallians by selective examination of their major economic work That evaluation has at least two dimensions First it focuses on the significance of the author's individual contributions to the development of twentieth century economic thought Secondly it attempts to assess the Marshallian credentials of these contributions in order to indicate how Marshallian in their economics these pupils of Marshall's economics teaching actually stayed

Marx's Construction of Social Theory (RLE Marxism) J.M. Barbalet, 2015-04-17 This study first published in 1983 explores the connections between Marx's philosophy and his empirical analysis of society and state by showing the different meanings of many of Marx's concepts as their role in his theory changes and the theory itself develops Beginning with an examination of

Marx's search for a sound epistemological basis on which to build a social theory Dr Barbalet then gives an analysis of the way in which Marx continually modifies the concepts he uses and continues with an examination of the different functions they are given in different theoretical settings Various nuances of Marx's thought often obscured by the simplistic early/late dichotomy are revealed by Dr Barbalet's close attention to the progressive transformation of Marx's concepts and by his scrupulous analysis of them in not only their textual but also their theoretical context Finally the book examines the manner in which Marx's construction of social theory by its very nature means that some material is replaced by other theoretical fabric as the theoretical structure itself is in different ways dismantled and reorganised as Marx's thought evolves and develops

Secondary Impacts of Public Investment in Natural Resources, 1970 Presented here are proceedings of a symposium on secondary impacts on public resource development held in Washington D C September 25-27 1968 The symposium's principal objective was to summarize and evaluate effects of public investments in natural resources A subsidiary objective was to provide a setting wherein government and university economists might articulate the theoretical and practical issues in measuring secondary effects of resource development Such interaction should contribute to orientation and procedures for dealing with problems in the area
