Nationalism And Ethnoregional Identities In China:

Nationalism and Ethnoregional Identities in China Safran William, 2013-05-13 Western political scientists have tended to neglect the ethnic dimension in China and have overemphasized the development from large empire to unified nation This book brings together a number of case studies on the ethnic and regional dimensions of Chinese politics and society

Special Issue Nationalism and Ethnoregional Identities in China William Safran, 1998 Overseas Chinese, Ethnic Minorities and Nationalism Elena Barabantseva, 2010-09-13 Elena Barabantseva looks at the close relationship between state led nationalism and modernisation with specific reference to discourses on the overseas Chinese and minority nationalities The interplay between modernisation programmes and nationalist discourses has shaped China's national project whose membership criteria have evolved historically By looking specifically at the ascribed roles of China's ethnic minorities and overseas Chinese in successive state led modernisation efforts This book offers new perspectives on the changing boundaries of the Chinese nation It places domestic nation building and transnational identity politics in a single analytical framework and examines how they interact to frame the national project of the Chinese state By exploring the processes taking place at the ethnic and territorial margins of the Chinese nation state the author provides a new perspective on China's national modernisation project clarifying the processes occurring across national boundaries and illustrating how China has negotiated the basis for belonging to its national project under the challenge to modernise amid both domestic and global transformations This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian politics Chinese politics nationalism transnationalism and regionalism

Exploring Nationalisms of China C. X. George Wei, Xiaoyuan Liu, 2002-12-30 China is a site for the evolution not only of Chinese nationalism but the nationalism of various non Han ethnic groups During the 20th century these ethnic groups constructed and expressed their own identities and nationalism through interaction with one another and with outside influences This interdisciplinary anthology contains nine original works that pluralize our understanding of nationalism in China by illustrating the various intellectual strains of China's nationalist discourse the dichotomy between the political authorities and grass roots experiences and the nationalizing efforts by various ethnic and political groups along China's inland and maritime frontiers First contributors explore the controversy surrounding the contested issue of China's national and international identity from pre modern times to the present Next the authors examine China's nationalist encounters with foreign influences such as U S Marines in Shandong Soviet experts in Manchuria and recent friction between the United States and the PRC Finally essays expand beyond the ethnographic regions of the Han Chinese and the political domain of the PRC to discuss the odyssey of Taiwan's nationalism in both a political and a cultural sense Many selections are based on newly declassified archival materials

Where China Meets India Thant Myint-U, 2011-09-13 Thant Myint U's Where China Meets India is a vivid searching timely book about the remote region that is suddenly a geopolitical center of the world From their very beginnings China and India have been walled off from each other by the towering summits of the Himalayas by a vast and impenetrable jungle by hostile tribes and remote inland kingdoms stretching a thousand miles from Calcutta across Burma to the upper Yangtze River Soon this last great frontier will vanish the forests cut down dirt roads replaced by superhighways insurgencies crushed leaving China and India exposed to each other as never before This basic shift in geography as sudden and profound as the opening of the Suez Canal will lead to unprecedented connections among the three billion people of Southeast Asia and the Far East What will this change mean Thant Myint U is in a unique position to know Over the past few years he has traveled extensively across this vast territory where high speed trains and gleaming new shopping malls are now coming within striking distance of the last far flung rebellions and impoverished mountain communities And he has explored the new strategic centrality of Burma where Asia's two rising giant powers appear to be vying for supremacy At once a travelogue a work of history and an informed look into the future Where China Meets India takes us across the fast changing Asian frontier giving us a masterful account of the region's long and rich history and its sudden significance for the rest of the world

Multilingualism in China Minglang Zhou, 2012-10-24 Minglang Zhou's highly erudite and well researched volume on the policies concerning writing reforms for China's minorities since 1949 provides an original and well reasoned summary of a complex process It documents how different script reforms meet dramatically different fates according to local preferences history cross border ties and the vitality of previously used scripts It convincingly shows that no single variable is decisive in the success of a script and that language planners' fixation with technical details is doomed to failure without careful coordination of extra code factors It also documents the little known Sino Soviet cooperation in the area of writing reforms In a style accessible to both undergraduate and graduate students Zhou's book is of interest to language planners sinologists applied linguists writing theorists and ethnologists

Never Forget National Humiliation

Zheng Wang, 2014-03-04 How could the Chinese Communist Party CCP not only survive but even thrive regaining the support of many Chinese citizens after the Tiananmen Square crackdown of 1989 Why has popular sentiment turned toward anti Western nationalism despite the anti dictatorship democratic movements of the 1980s And why has China been more assertive toward the United States and Japan in foreign policy but relatively conciliatory toward smaller countries in conflict Offering an explanation for these unexpected trends Zheng Wang follows the Communist government's ideological reeducation of the public which relentlessly portrays China as the victim of foreign imperialist bullying during one hundred years of humiliation By concentrating on the telling and teaching of history in today's China Wang illuminates the thinking of the young patriots who will lead this rising power in the twenty first century Wang visits China's primary schools and memory sites and reads its history textbooks arguing that China's rise should not be viewed through a single lens such as economics or military growth but from a more comprehensive perspective that takes national identity and domestic discourse into account Since it is the prime raw material for constructing China's national identity historical memory is the key to unlocking the inner mystery of the Chinese From this vantage point Wang tracks the CCP's use of history education to glorify the party reestablish its legitimacy consolidate national identity and justify one party rule in the post Tiananmen and post Cold War era The institutionalization of this manipulated historical consciousness now directs political discourse and foreign policy and Wang demonstrates its important role in China's rise

Language Power and Hierarchy Linda

Tsung, 2014-10-27 Shunning polemicism and fashioning a new agenda for a critically informed yet practically orientated approach this book explores aspects of multilingual education in the People's Republic of China PRC Amongst other issues it also looks at the challenges associated with bilingual and trilingual education in Xinjiang and Tibet as well as the mediation between religion and culture in multi ethnic schools covering these issues from a range of perspectives Korean Uyghur Tibetan Mongolian and Yi The PRC promotes itself as a harmonious stable multicultural mosaic with over 50 distinct ethnic groups striving for common prosperity Beneath this rhetoric there is also inter ethnic discord with scenes of ethnic violence in Lhasa and Urumqi over the last few years China has a complex system of multilingual education with dual pathway curricula bilingual and trilingual instruction specialised ethnic schools This education system is a lynchpin in the Communist party state's efforts to keep a lid on simmering tensions and transform a rhetoric of harmony into a critical pluralistic harmonious multiculturalism This book examines this supposed lynchpin

Identity, Policy, and Prosperity Jeongwon

Bourdais Park, 2017-08-11 This book offers a rare glimpse into China's Korean minority which dominates the area bordering North Korea even as Korea is riven into capitalist and communist societies China's Koreans register this dilemma as one internal to the society they live in in China's postindustrial Northeast As this research makes clear once driven by state investment in industry the Northeast is now struggling to define its identity as a post industrial region the ethnic Koreans there even more so This monograph provides a distinctive look at a group shaped by political turmoil economic transformation and cultural struggle the study may offer an idea of what the future of the Korean peninsula itself might be disentangling the puzzling contradictions and synergies between nationality locality and development in China

Educational Development in Western China John Chi-kin Lee,Zeyuan Yu,Xianhan Huang,Edmond Hau-Fai Law,2016-03-22 In 2000 the Western Development plan of the Chinese Mainland attracted attention of educators and policy makers Around that period the Chinese government also launched large scale and systemic curriculum reforms in basic education and secondary education in achieving quality education across the vast country Despite significant progress that has been made in educational investments and attainments in China issues of quality and regional disparities across China remain especially in the less developed western part of China where the significance of ethnic diversity urban rural disparity and variations in school development exists In addition there have been entrenched problems of teacher and teaching quality resources inadequacy and left behind children Written by a group of Chinese and international scholars the book provides an updated analysis and discussion of educational development and related issues in the less developed part of Western China These chapters cover broad contextual issues of educational development and reforms issues of quality and equality in different sectors of education as well as curriculum implementation teaching innovations and professional development of teachers

Communist Multiculturalism Susan McCarthy,2011-12-01 The communist Chinese state promotes the distinctiveness of the many minorities within its borders At the same time it is vigilant in suppressing groups that threaten the nation s unity or its modernizing goals In Communist Multiculturalism Susan K McCarthy examines three minority groups in the province of Yunnan focusing on the ways in which they have adapted to the government s nationbuilding and minority nationalities policies since the 1980s She reveals that Chinese government policy is shaped by perceptions of what constitutes an authentic cultural group and of the threat ethnic minorities may constitute to national interests These minority groups fit no clear categories but rather are practicing both their Chinese citizenship and the revival of their distinct cultural identities For these groups being minority is or can be one way of being national Minorities in the Chinese state face a paradox modern cosmopolitan sophisticated people good Chinese citizens in other words do not engage in unmodern behaviors Minorities however are expected to engage in them

The Global and Regional in China's Nation-Formation Prasenjit Duara,2008-12-01 China s history tends to be studied from a national perspective only The Global and Regional in China s Nation Formation attempts to train our eyes to see the picture of China less as a self contained entity a geobody than as part of a broader set of global and regional processes from the outside in It covers the major historical problems of China in the twentieth century namely imperialism nationalism state building religion and the role of history Part I views imperialism and nationalism in China from the perspective of global and regional circulations and interactions It also examines the changing role of history over the twentieth century from the same perspective Part II focuses on how myth religion and Chinese conceptions of society and polity are re shaped by external influences and forces as well as how these internal practices themselves shape the external impact Part III is a comparative section examining how global processes become unique developments in China The Global and Regional in China s Nation Formation is an ideal resource for anyone studying China s history society and culture      Ethnic China Xiaobing Li,Patrick Fuliang Shan,2015-10-16 There are some serious concerns and critical questions about the on going minority protesting in China such as Tibetan monks self immolations Muslims suicide bombings and Uyghur large scale demonstrations Why are minorities such as the Uyghur dissatisfied when China is rising as a world power What kind of struggle must they go through to maintain their identity heritage and rights How does the government deal with this ethnic dissatisfaction and minority riots And what is ethnic China s future in the 21st century Ethnic China examines these issues from the perspective of Chinese American scholars from fields such as economics political science criminal justice law anthropology sociology and education The contributors introduce and explore the theory and practice of policy patterns political systems and social institutions by identifying key issues in Chinese government society and ethnic community contained within the larger framework of the international sphere Their endeavors move beyond the existing scholarship and seek to spark new debates and proposed solutions while reflecting on established schools of history religion linguistics and gender studies      Gender, China and the World Trade

Organization Günseli Berik,Xiao-yuan Dong,Gale Summerfield,2013-09-13 China s joining the World Trade Organization at the end of 2001 signifies a milestone in the country s global integration after two decades of economic reforms that have fundamentally transformed the economic organization of China This collection seeks to identify the gendered implications within China of the country s transition from socialism to a market economy and its opening up to international trade and investment The changes have created greater wealth for some while at the same time serious gender class ethnic and regional disparities have also emerged Drawing from historical analytical and policy oriented work the essays in this collection explore women s well being relative to men s in rural and urban China by looking at land rights labor market status and labor rights household decision making health the representation of women in advertising and beauty pageants This book was previously published as a special issue of the journal Feminist Economics the official journal of the International Association for Feminist Economics IAFFE All contributions have been subjected to the journal s rigorous peer review process and comply with the journal s editorial policies as overseen by the editor Diana Strassmann and the journal s editorial team including the associate editors the editorial board numerous volunteer reviewers and the journal s in house editorial staff and freelance style editors The special issue and book have been made possible by the generous financial support of Rice University and the Ford Foundation Beijing      Modern Tibetan Literature and Social Change Luran R.

Hartley,Patricia Schiaffini-Vedani,2008-07-16 The first systematic and detailed overview of modern Tibetan literature      Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China Lawrence R. Sullivan,2016-08-03 When the Chinese Communist Party CCP assumed power in October 1949 China was one of the poorest nations in the world and so weak it had been conquered in the late 1930s and early 1940s by its neighbor Japan a country one 10th its size More than five decades later the People's Republic of China PRC is an emerging economic political and major military power with the world's fastest growing economy and largest population 1.35 billion in 2015 A member of the United Nations Security Council since the early 1970s and a nuclear power China wields enormous influence in the world community while at home what was once a nation of largely poverty stricken peasants and urban areas with little to no industry has been transformed into an increasingly urbanized society with a growing middle class and an industrial and service sector that leads the world in such industries as steel and textiles while becoming a major player in computers and telecommunications All the while the country has remained under the tight political control of a one party system dominated by the Chinese Communist Party that despite periods of intense political conflict and turmoil governs China with a membership in 2014 of 88 million people the largest single organization on earth This third edition of Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about China

Preferential Education Policies in Multi-ethnic China Naomi C.F. Yamada, 2020-10-29 Preferential Education Policies in Multi-ethnic China National Rhetoric Local Realities explores the cultural logic of China's preferential policy measures Similar in premise but different in practice and philosophy to American affirmative action the preferential policies evoke controversy on all sides from those who see the measures as insufficient to address problems of educational disparities between ethnic groups and from those who see the measures as reverse discrimination Yamada shows how the policy measures attempt to manage ethnic based contradictions and appease both majority and minority populations

Between Foreign and Family Helene K. Lee, 2018-01-31 Winner of the 2019 ASA Book Award Asia Asian American Section Between Foreign and Family explores the impact of inconsistent rules of ethnic inclusion and exclusion on the economic and social lives of Korean Americans and Korean Chinese living in Seoul These actors are part of a growing number of return migrants members of an ethnic diaspora who migrate back to the ancestral homeland from which their families emigrated Drawing on ethnographic observations and interview data Helene K Lee highlights the logics of transnationalism that shape the relationships between these return migrants and their employers co-workers friends family and the South Korean state While Koreanness marks these return migrants as outsiders who never truly feel at home in the United States and China it simultaneously traps them into a liminal space in which they are neither fully family nor fully foreign in South Korea Return migration reveals how ethnic identity construction is not an indisputable and universal fact defined by blood and ancestry but a contested and uneven process informed by the interplay of ethnicity nationality citizenship gender and history

Language, Culture, and Identity Among Minority Students in China Yuxiang Wang, 2013 This book explores Hui one of the Muslim minority groups in China students lived experiences in an elementary school in central P R China from the perspectives of philosophical foundations of education and the sociology of education the impact of their experiences on their identity construction and what schooling means to Hui students The book describes a vivid picture of how the Hui construct their own identities in the public school setting and how the state curricula teachers and parents play roles in student identity construction The objectives of the book are to discover factors that impact Hui students identity construction and have caused Hui students to know little about their own culture and language and to explore what should be done to help teachers administrators and policy makers appreciate minority culture and include minority culture and knowledge in school curriculum in order to meet the needs of Hui students The book provides historical policy and curricular contexts for readers to understand Hui students experiences in central China and discusses the cultural differences between Han and Hui from a philosophical level The book uses postcolonial theory to critique the assimilative nature of school education the construction of Hui students identity from Han ideology and the cultural hegemony of the mainstream Han group It also discusses curriculum reconceptualization both in China and globally and the possibility of multicultural education in China
