An Introduction to Indonesian Historiography Soedjatmoko, 2007. In the first major work on Indonesian historiography to have appeared in any language, twenty-two outstanding scholars survey available source materials in Asia and Europe and discuss the current state of Indonesian historical scholarship, the approaches and methods that might be fruitful for future research, and the problems that confront Indonesian historians today. The contributions, which can be made to historical studies by other disciplines such as economics, sociology, anthropology, and international law, are discussed by specialists in these fields. Problems of Indonesian historiography are presented not only from points of view of the different social sciences but also from those of historians who differ in approach and interpretation from one another. This unique work, now brought back to life in Equinox Publishing's Classic Indonesia series, proves to be of great value to historians and social scientists as an introduction to both sources and different approaches to the history of an important part of the world. Edited by one of Indonesia's leading scholars, Soedjatmoko, as well as Mohamad Ali G J Resnik and George McT Kahin. An Introduction to Indonesian Historiography features contributions from John Bastin, C C Berg, Buchari J C, Bottoms C R, Boxer L Ch, Damais Hoesein Djajadiningrat H J, de Graf Graham Irwan Koichi Kishi Koentjaraningrat Ruth T, McVey J, Noorduyn J M, Romein R, Soekmono Tjan Tjoe Som F J, E Tan W F, Wertheim and P J Zoetmulder

History Of The International: World Socialism 1943-1968 Julius Braunthal, 2019-03-20. With this volume, the history of the first century of the International reaches its conclusion. Originally, I had intended that the trilogy would come to a close with the centenary of the founding of the First International in September 1964. But before I could finish writing the third volume, the tragedy of the Communist revolution in Czechoslovakia had played itself out. The Spring of Prague of 1968, having set in motion a process of change from a Communist dictatorship to a Socialist democracy was followed within a few months by the invasion of the armies of the five Warsaw Pact powers to forestall reformation in Czechoslovakia Both revolution and counter revolution were events of the utmost significance for the history of Socialism the revolution for showing that it was possible for a Communist system of totalitarian dictatorship to be transformed without resort to force and the counter revolution for showing how the regime in the Soviet Union has remained essentially unaltered since Stalin's death The invasion of Czechoslovakia brutally called in question any optimistic perspective of development within the Soviet Union itself

Intellectuals and Nationalism in Indonesia J. D. Legge, 2010 It has always been a matter of national pride that independence came to Indonesia not as the result of a negotiated transfer of sovereignty though the process was completed in that way but through a struggle of heroic proportions in whose fires the nation itself was forged The revolution indeed is central to the Republic's perception of itself To call it a revolution is of course to beg a number of important questions What is a revolution Is the concept developed in modern thought on the models of the French and Russian revolutions applicable to a nationalist struggle for independence Or must a revolution involve also a transfer of power from one social class to another and a subsequent social transformation For Indonesians looking back to the birth of the nation however such questions do not arise For them there is no question but that the events of 1945-49 constituted a revolution a revolution that is seen as the supreme act of national will the symbol of national self reliance and for those caught up in it as a vast emotional experience in which the people the people as a whole participated directly The exploration of Sjahrir's recruitment of a group of followers during the Japanese Occupation and of the character and attitudes of the group is based in large measure on interviews with its surviving members A highly articulate body of people they clearly enjoyed recalling their youth remembering particular experiences and thinking back on the issues that had preoccupied them and the ideas that had excited them as students For many of them it had obviously been a golden age perceived all the more vividly now because the world they had hoped for had never come into being There is perhaps a good deal of nostalgia in their memories of what it was like to be a part of a crucial period in their country's history and no doubt some misjudgment about the parts they played Oral history is a risky business given the fallibility of human memory and the tendency for interviewer and subject alike to collaborate in re-shaping the past in the light of their later perspectives The dangers of such a method are discussed below Nevertheless provided it is kept in mind that memories are documents of the present and not of the period with which they deal it is important to gather these recollections while members of the generation in question are still alive

Indonesia, Islam, and the International Political Economy Mark Williams, 2017-04-21 The Republic of Indonesia is a rising great power in the Asia Pacific set to become the eighth largest economy in the world in the coming decades It is the most populous Muslim majority country in the world The largest Islamic organizations and parties have supported Indonesia's participation with global markets but this has not come from an ideological support for capitalism or economic liberalization Islamic political culture has denounced the injustices caused by global capitalism and its excesses In fact support for Indonesia's engagement with the international political economy is born from political pragmatism and from Indonesia's struggles to achieve economic development This book examines the role of Islamic identity in Indonesia's foreign economic relations and in its engagement with the world order There is no single expression of Islam in Indonesia the politics espoused by Islamic parties and organizations are far from monolithic Islamic sentiment has been invoked by the state to justify heinous acts of brutality as well as by violent subnational revolutionary groups However these expressions of Islam have deviated from the dominant narrative which is in favour of international cooperation and economic development Economic exploitation political alienation financial volatility and aggression toward Muslims around the world that has caused some

Islamic groups to radicalize The political culture of Islam in Indonesia is a social force that is helping to foster a peaceful rise for Indonesia However a peaceful expression of Islam is not inevitable for the republic nor can it be assumed that Islamic identity in Indonesia will unwaveringly support the global economic order regardless of what might occur in global politics

The Soviet View of the Indonesian Revolution Ruth T. McVey, 2009 Although in recent years there have been an increasing number of studies of the Indonesian Communist Party and of the Indonesian revolution 1945-49 there has been relatively little attention paid specifically to the role of the party in the revolutionary period and its relationship during that period with the Soviet Union Furthermore virtually no studies have been made of the perceptions of the Soviet Union of the character of the Indonesian revolution and the level of sophistication and understanding which its Indonesian specialists brought to the study of Indonesian affairs of this period We believe that with this Interim Report Ruth McVey has made an important beginning in overcoming our ignorance of this most important subject Her study makes a significant contribution both to our understanding of Indonesian Communism and of Soviet relations with Asian Communist parties in the critical period after World War II From 1954 to 1956 Miss McVey undertook intensive research on Soviet materials available in the United States and Western Europe and on Dutch Communist and Indonesian Communist publications available in the Netherlands and at Cornell This study first published in 1957 is based on her analysis of these documents and covers the period 1945-1950 About the Author Ruth McVey received her M A in 1954 from the Harvard Soviet Area Program Subsequently under the auspices of the Cornell Modern Indonesia Project she carried on research for fifteen months in the Netherlands and England and it was following this that she wrote this Interim Report After further graduate work at Cornell McVey was awarded a Ford Foundation fellowship for additional research in the Netherlands and Indonesia She received her Ph D from Cornell University in 1961

Counterinsurgency and the United States Marine Corps Leo J. Daugherty III, Rhonda L. Smith-Daugherty, 2018-02-08 Volume 2 continues the history of the U S Marine Corps involvement in small wars after World War II beginning with advisory efforts with the Netherlands Marine Corps 1943-1946 The authors describe counterinsurgency efforts during the Korean War 1950-1953 the development of vertical assault tactics in the late 1940s 1950s and 1960s counterinsurgency in Southeast Asia 1962-1975 involvement in Central America 1983-1989 and present day conflicts including the War on Terror and operations in Iraq and Libya

The Women's Movement in Postcolonial Indonesia Elizabeth Martyn, 2004-11-10 This book examines women's activism in the early years of independent Indonesia when new attitudes to gender nationalism citizenship and democratization were forming It questions the meaning of democratization for women and their relationship to national sovereignty within the new Indonesian state and discusses women's organizations and their activities women's social and economic roles and the different cultural regional and ethnic attitudes towards women while showing the failure of political change to fully address women's gender interests and needs The author argues that both the role of nationalism in defining gender identity and the role of gender in defining national identity need equal recognition      Interpreting Indonesian Politics Benedict R O'g Anderson, Audrey Kahin, 2009-12 Over the past two decades there has been a continuing debate among Western scholars concerning the nature of Indonesian politics and the best approaches for understanding them Several of the most important contributions to this debate were never published and others have gone out of print Thus it has been difficult for a new generation of students of Indonesia to be aware of the range of opinions and discussion in Western academic circles concerning the character of postrevolutionary Indonesian politics For this reason it appeared to us useful to bring together a series of articles that can provide a framework for understanding the evolution of these perspectives Clearly we could not include all the important contributions to the debate and this selection has been made on the basis of the best representation of differing views over time In general the pieces appear in chronological sequence in order to delineate more clearly the evolution of the debate To maintain this chronological development we have also made no changes in the arguments as originally presented nor with one exception permitted the authors to do so even when they have altered their opinions since originally writing the essays Passages however have occasionally been cut from published articles where they are too repetitive or where they are not relevant to the major themes being presented here All such omissions are indicated by a series of dots Because of the continuing nature of the debate the collection is being published as an Interim Report which we hope will stimulate further reactions and analyses

Indonesia's Ascent C. Roberts, A. Habir, L. Sebastian, 2015-03-10 This volume explores the domestic and transnational considerations associated with Indonesia's ascent referring to its rise in terms of hard and soft power and its likely trajectory in the future The range of contributors analyse economic resources religious harmony security regional relations leadership and foreign policy

Democracy and Authoritarianism in Indonesia and Malaysia S. Alatas, 1997-10-29 The fact that the Malaysian state has managed to maintain a relatively democratic regime while an authoritarian regime came to power in Indonesia has never been the focus of historical and comparative analyses despite certain cultural social and historical affinities between these two countries This book takes a look at contrasting class structures and alliances elite cohesion state strength as well as differences in political challenges to the state in order to understand two different paths to post colonial state formation
