

Gender-Blindness in the Study of Nationalism

- Nationalism: 'it is hard to think of any political phenomenon which remains so puzzling and about which there is less analytic consensus' (Anderson 1996 in Mapping the Nation).
- Literature on nationalism has not been interested in questions of gender or the differential participation of women and men.
- Texts on nationalism that try to incorporate a gendered perspective usually just 'tack on' gender.

Nationalism And Gender:

Nationalism and Gender Chizuko Ueno, 2004 Ueno humanities and sociology U of Tokyo Japan explores interrelated issues of gender war history and public memory She first looks at Japanese women's support for aggressive war and their acceptance of the gender strategy for nationalizing women through mobilization She next turns to the discursive battle over the Japanese treatment of

Feminist Time Against Nation Time Victoria Hesford, Lisa Diedrich, 2009-12-01 Feminist Time Against Nation Time offers a series of essays that explore the complex and oftentimes contradictory relationship between feminism and nationalism through a problematization of temporality Although there has been much recent discussion in the U S of the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq and the War on Terror as signaling a new period of permanent war feminist voices have not been at all prominent in this discussion This collection considers not only the ways in which public spaces for dissent are limited but also the ways in which the time for such dissent is cut short Feminist Time Against Nation Time combines philosophical examinations of Women's Time by Julia Kristeva and The Time of Thought by Elizabeth Grosz with essays offering case studies of particular events including Kelly Oliver's essay on the media coverage of the U S wars on terror and in Afghanistan and Iraq and Betty Joseph's on the anti colonial uses of women's time in the creation of nineteenth century Indian nationalism Feminist Time Against Nation Time juxtaposes feminist time against nation time in order to consider temporalities that are at once contrary to but also drawing toward each other Yet Hesford and Diedrich also argue that because as an untimely project feminism necessarily operates in a different temporality from that of the nation againstness is also used to provoke a rupture a momentary opening up of a disjuncture between the two that will allow us to explore the possibilities of creating a space and time for feminists to think against the current of the present moment

Egypt as a woman : nationalism, gender, and politics Beth Baron, 2005 Gender, Nationalism and Conflict Transformation Fidelma Ashe, 2019-03-07 Utilising Northern Ireland as a case study this book presents an analysis of the gender and sexual politics of conflict transformation The book synthesises a vast array of international sources with the author's empirical and theoretical research to produce a powerful gendered critique of conflict transformation in Northern Ireland It maps the negative effects of the region's violent conflict on gender and sexual equality and explores the potential of the conflict transformational processes set in motion by the 1998 Peace Agreement to transform relationships between different genders and sexualities Starting from the feminist proposition that building peace requires the inclusion of issues of gender and sexual equality the author analyses how the new institutional and semantic structures of conflict transformation in Northern Ireland preserved older conservative narratives about gender and sexuality As older narratives clashed with progressive forms of sexual and gender politics the core sites of conflict transformation became arenas of gender and sexual struggles The book outlines these struggles and charts the positive and inclusive visions of peace developed by activists throughout the period of conflict transformation This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies conflict

Gendering Nationalism Jon Mulholland, Nicola

Montagna, Erin Sanders-McDonagh, 2018-05-24 This volume offers an empirically rich theoretically informed study of the shifting intersections of nation alism gender and sexuality Challenging a scholarly legacy that has overly focused on the masculinist character of nationalism it pays particular attention to the people and issues less commonly considered in the context of nationalist projects namely women and sexual minorities Bringing together both established and emerging researchers from across the globe this multidisciplinary and comparison rich volume provides a multi sited exploration of the shifting contours of belonging and Otherness generated by multifarious nationalisms The diverse and context specific positionings of men and women masculinities and femininities and hegemonic and non normative sexualities vis vis nation alism are illuminated through a vibrant array of contemporary theoretical lenses These include historical and feminist institutionalism post colonial theory critical race approaches transnational and migration theory and semiotics

Nationbuilding, Gender and War Crimes in South Asia Bina D'Costa, 2012-07-26 This book gives a detailed political analysis of nationbuilding processes and how these are closely linked to statebuilding and to issues of war crime gender and sexuality and marginalization of minority groups With a focus on the Indian subcontinent the author demonstrates how the state itself is involved in the construction of a gendered identity and how control of women and their sexuality is central to the nationbuilding project She applies a critical feminist approach to two major conflicts in the Indian subcontinent the Partition of India in 1947 and the Liberation War of Bangladesh in 1971 and offers suggestions for addressing historical injustices and war crimes in the context of modern Bangladesh Addressing how the social and political elites were able to construct and legitimize a history of the state that ignored these issues the author suggests a critical re examination of the national narrative of the creation of Bangladesh which takes into account the rise of Islamic rights and their alleged involvement in war crimes Looking at the impact that notions of nation state and nationalism have on women from a critical feminist perspective the book will be an important addition to the literature on gender studies international relations and South Asian politics

Gender Ironies of Nationalism Tamar Mayer, 2012-10-12 This book provides a unique social science reading on the construction of nation gender and sexuality and on the interactions among them It includes international case studies from Indonesia Ireland former Yugoslavia Liberia Sri Lanka Australia the USA Turkey China India and the Caribbean The contributors offer both the masculine and feminine perspective exposing how nations are comprised of sexed bodies and exploring the gender ironies of nationalism and how sexuality plays a key role in nation building and in sustaining national identity The contributors conclude that control over access to the benefits of belonging to the nation is invariably gendered nationalism becomes the language through which sexual control and repression is justified masculine prowess is expressed and exercised Whilst it is men who claim the prerogatives of nation and nation building it is for the most part women who actually accept the obligation of nation and nation building

Gender, Nation and State in Modern Japan Andrea Germer, Vera Mackie, Ulrike Wöhr, 2014-07-25 Gender Nation and State in Modern Japan makes a unique contribution to the international literature on the formation of modern nation states in its focus on the

gendering of the modern Japanese nation state from the late nineteenth century to the present References to gender relations are deeply embedded in the historical concepts of nation and nationalism and in the related symbols metaphors and arguments Moreover the development of the binary opposition between masculinity and femininity and the development of the modern nation state are processes which occurred simultaneously They were the product of a shift from a stratified hereditary class society to a functionally differentiated social body This volume includes the work of an international group of scholars from Japan the United States Australia and Germany which in many cases appears in English for the first time It provides an interdisciplinary perspective on the formation of the modern Japanese nation state including comparative perspectives from research on the formation of the modern nation state in Europe thus bringing research on Japan into a transnational dialogue This volume will be of interest in the fields of modern Japanese history gender studies political science and comparative studies of nationalism Art, Nation and Gender Síghle Bhreathnach-Lynch, 2018-01-18 This title was first published in 2003 The essay collection explores the conjunctions of nation gender and visual representation in a number of countries including Ireland Scotland Britain Canada Finland Russia and Germany during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The contributors show visual imagery to be a particularly productive focus for analysing the intersections of nation and gender since the nation and nationalism as abstract concepts have to be embodied in ways that make them imaginable especially through the means of art They explore how allegorical female figures personify the nation across a wide range of visual media from sculpture to political cartoons and how national architectures may also be gendered They show how through such representations art reveals the ethno cultural bases of nationalisms Through the study of such images the essays in this volume cast new light on the significance of gender in the construction of nationalist ideology and the constitution of the nation state In tackling the conjunctions of nation gender and visual representation the case studies presented in this publication can be seen to provide exciting new perspectives on the study of nations of gender and the history of art The range of countries chosen and the variety of images scrutinised create a broad arena for further debate

Reel Gender Sa'ed Atshan, Katharina Galor, 2022-10-20 Reel Gender is a groundbreaking collection that addresses the collective realities and the filmic representations of Palestinian and Israeli societies The eight essays by leading scholars demonstrate how Palestinian and Israeli film production despite obvious overlaps and similarities and while keeping in mind the inherent asymmetry of power dynamics are at the forefront of engaging gender and sexuality The scholars of this volume construct and deconstruct still and moving images characters and stories that create an entanglement of Palestinian and Israeli cinema Together they portray the region's diverse but unexpectedly intermingled ethnic religious and national communities framed or countered by various societal norms laws and expectations while also defined by colonial realities The essays draw methodologically from the fields of media and cultural studies critical and postcolonial theory feminism post feminism and queer theory Women's Lived Landscapes of War and Liberation in Mozambique Jonna

Katto,2019-11-11 This book tells the history of the changing gendered landscapes of northern Mozambique from the perspective of women who fought in the armed struggle for national independence diverting from the often told narrative of women in nationalist wars that emphasizes a linear plot of liberation Taking a novel approach in focusing on the body senses and landscape Jonna Katto through a study of the women ex combatants lived landscapes shows how their life trajectories unfold as nonlinear spatial histories This brings into focus the women s shifting and multilayered negotiations for personal space and belonging This book explores the life memories of the now aging female ex combatants in the province of Niassa in northern Mozambique looking at how the female ex combatants experiences of living in these northern landscapes have shaped their sense of socio spatial belonging and attachment It builds on the premise that individual embodied memory cannot be separated from social memory personal lives are culturally shaped Thus the book does not only tell the history of a small and rather unique group of women but also speaks about wider cultural histories of body landscape relations in northern Mozambique and especially changes in those relations Enriching our understanding of the gendered history of the liberation struggle in Mozambique and informing broader discussions on gender and nationalism this book will be of interest to students and scholars of African history especially the colonial and postcolonial history of Lusophone Africa as well as gender women s history and peace and conflict studies      The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics Georgina Waylen,Karen Celis,Johanna Kantola,S. Laurel Weldon,2013-03-11 As a field of scholarship gender and politics has exploded over the last fifty years and is now global institutionalized and ever expanding The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics brings to political science an accessible and comprehensive overview of the key contributions of gender scholars to the study of politics and shows how these contributions produce a richer understanding of politics and societies Like the field it represents the handbook has a broad understanding of what counts as political and is based on a notion of gender that highlights masculinities as well as femininities thereby moving feminist debates in politics beyond the focus on women It engages with some of the key aspects of political science as well as important themes in gender and feminist research such as sexuality and body politics thereby forging a dialogue between gender studies in politics and mainstream political science The handbook is organized in sections that look at sexuality and body politics political economy civil society participation representation and policymaking institutions states and governance as well as nation citizenship and identity The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Politics contains and reflects the best scholarship in its field
