Natl Ism The Genealogical Imagin:

Genealogy and Ontology of the Western Image and its Digital Future John Lechte, 2012-04-27 With the emerging dominance of digital technology the time is ripe to reconsider the nature of the image Some say that there is no longer a phenomenal image only disembodied information 0 1 waiting to be configured For photography this implies that a faith in the principle of an evidential force of the impossibility of doubting that the subject was before the lens is no longer plausible Technologically speaking we have arrived at a point where the manipulation of the image is an ever present possibility when once it was difficult if not impossible What are the key moments in the genealogy of the Western image which might illuminate the present status of the image And what exactly is the situation to which we have arrived as far as the image is concerned These are the questions guiding the reflections in this book In it we move in Part 1 from a study of the Greek to the Byzantine image from the Renaissance image and the image in the Enlightenment to the image as it emerges in the Industrial Revolution Part 2 examines key aspects of the image today such as the digital and the cinema image as well as the work of philosophers of the image including Roland Barthes Walter Benjamin Gilles Deleuze Jean Paul Sartre and Bernard Stiegler *National Genealogical Society ... Genealogical Fictions Jobst Welge, 2015-02-16 Moving through time he uncovers often unsuspected novelistic continuities and international transformations and echoes from Maria Edgeworth's Castle Rackrent published in 1800 to G Tomasi di Lampedusa's 1958 book Il Gattopardo By revealing the family resemblance of novels from Great Britain Italy Spain Portugal and Brazil this volume shows how genealogical narratives take on special significance in contexts of cultural periphery Welge links private and public histories while simultaneously integrating detailed accounts of various literary fields across the globe In combining theories of the novel recent discussions of cultural geography and new approaches to genealogical narratives Genealogical Fictions addresses a significant part of European and Latin American literary history in which texts from different national cultures illuminate each other in unsuspected ways and reveal the repetition as well as the variation among them

Hayes,2000-04 The Maghreb Morocco Algeria Tunisia has been inhabited for millennia by a heterogeneous populace However in the wake of World War II when independence movements began to gain momentum in these French colonies the dominant national discourses attempted to define national identities by exclusion One rallying cry from the 1930s was Islam is my religion Arabic is my language Algeria is my fatherland In this incisive postcolonial study Jarrod Hayes uses literary analysis to examine how Francophone novelists from the Maghreb engaged in a diametric nation building project Their works imagined a diverse nation peopled by those who were excluded by the dominant political discourses especially those who did not conform to traditional sexual norms By incorporating representations of marginal sexualities sexual dissidence and gender insubordination Maghrebian novelists imagined an anticolonial struggle that would result in sexual liberation and envisioned nations that could be defined and developed inclusively A Genealogy of Literary Multiculturalism

Christopher Douglas,2011-08-15 As an anthropology student studying with Franz Boas Zora Neale Hurston recorded African American folklore in rural central Florida studied hoodoo in New Orleans and voodoo in Haiti talked with the last ex slave to survive the Middle Passage and collected music from Jamaica Her ethnographic work would serve as the basis for her novels and other writings in which she shaped a vision of African American Southern rural folk culture articulated through an antiracist concept of culture championed by Boas culture as plural relative and long lived Meanwhile a very different antiracist model of culture learned from Robert Park s sociology allowed Richard Wright to imagine African American culture in terms of severed traditions marginal consciousness and generation gaps In A Genealogy of Literary Multiculturalism Christopher Douglas uncovers the largely unacknowledged role played by ideas from sociology and anthropology in nourishing the politics and forms of minority writers from diverse backgrounds Douglas divides the history of multicultural writing in the United States into three periods The first which spans the 1920s and 1930s features minority writers such as Hurston and D Arcy McNickle who were indebted to the work of Boas and his attempts to detach culture from race The second period from 1940 to the mid 1960s was a time of assimilation and integration as seen in the work of authors such as Richard Wright Jade Snow Wong John Okada and Ralph Ellison who were influenced by currents in sociological thought The third period focuses on the writers we associate with contemporary literary multiculturalism including Toni Morrison N Scott Momaday Frank Chin Ishmael Reed and Gloria Anzald a Douglas shows that these more recent writers advocated a literary nationalism that was based on a modified Boasian anthropology and that laid the pluralist grounds for our current conception of literary multiculturalism Ultimately Douglas s unified field theory of multicultural literature brings together divergent African American Asian American Mexican American and Native American literary traditions into one story of how we moved

Sound, Image, and National Imaginary in the Construction of Latin/o American Identities Héctor Fernández L'Hoeste, Pablo Vila, 2017-12-26 Sound Image and National Imaginary in the Construction of Latin o American Identities addresses a gap in the many narratives discussing the cultural histories of Latin American nations particularly in terms of the birth configuration and perpetuation of national identities It argues that these processes were not as gradual or constrained as traditionally conceived The actual circumstances dictating the adoption of particular technologies for the representation of national ideas shifted and varied according to many factors including local circumstances political singularities economic disparities and highly individualized cultural transitions This book proposes a model of chronology that is valid not only for nations that underwent strong processes of nationalism during the early or mid twentieth century but also for those that experienced highly idiosyncratic cultural economic and political development into the early twenty first century
