Refugees Resources Reunion Australias Immigration Dilemmas:

Refugees, Resources, Reunion Robert Birrell, 1979 This book examines Australia's immigration programme with particular emphasis on refugees. It is based on papers presented at the seminar on Australia's Immigration Responsibilities Melbourne February 1979. The aim of the editors is to clarify differences of attitude in Australia towards immigration and indicate ethical and sociological premises upon which the differences are based. The book is divided into three sections: the first is based on the seminar discussions; the second further develops the issues raised in the first section; and the third deals with background issues and the views of the Government and the Opposition on policy implications. The specific chapters dealing with refugees include Australia's Immigration Policy and Refugees; Family Reunion and the Refugees Crisis; Family Reunion and Refugees; and Population Immigration and the Domestic Market and Indochinese Refugees. The editors conclude that considering the current unemployment situation and the absence of proper manpower programmes there is no good case for recruiting immigrants to fill alleged gaps in the workforce. They also conclude that the system of selection of immigrants does not meet effectively any of the varying priorities. They recommend for strong humanitarian reasons giving priority to refugees and family reunion cases and in addition discontinuing the arrangement whereby New Zealand citizens have a free right of entry and settlement.

Critical Years in Immigration Freda Hawkins, 1991 With the new introduction Freda Hawkins brings Critical Years in Immigration up to date by discussing the directions taken by the Canadian and Australian governments since 1984. She also clarifies the implications of the recently announced Canadian immigration levels for 1991-95, discussing the government's reasoning and future plans.

Population and Political Theory James S. Fishkin, Robert E. Goodin, 2010-03-08 Part of the acclaimed Politics and Society series, Population and Political Theory brings together leading thinkers in the fields of philosophy, political science, economics, and social policy to address issues at the convergence of population policy and political theory. Offers a single volume systematic overview of philosophical issues relating to population. Represents a unique merging of discussions of population policy with political theory. Broad in scope, the diverse discussions will appeal to political philosophers, population specialists, and public policy makers.

Intersexions Gillian Bottomley, 2020-07-29 Do writings about ethnicity, class, and gender form a holy trinity or challenge previous unidimensional analyses? Intersexions accepts the triple perspective but goes further. One aim is to understand the processes by which relations of power are maintained, reproduced, and resisted. Intersexions also examines modes of representation within social theory, feminism, development theory, and discussions of capitalism and postcolonialism, as well as dominant ideological notions of caste, domesticity, and success. The writers' approaches are all critical but concerned also with providing alternatives. Comparative and specific analyses are combined; attention is paid to the written and spoken material of the people represented and their own positions as commentators examined. Topics range from discussions of family ideology and paid and domestic work to analyses of writings by Aboriginals Vanuatuans and second generation Greek Australians and critiques of the cultural construction of gender and ethnicity in Bangladesh India and Indonesia Themes recur and overlap Unitary categories are questioned and the processes by which relations described as class ethnic cultural and gender intersect and interact are demonstrated
