Soon after the American Revolution certain of the founders began to recognize the strategic significance of Asia and the Pacific and the vast material and cultural resources at stake there Over the coming generations the United States continued to ask how best to expand trade with the region and whether to partner with China at the center of the continent or Japan looking toward the Pacific Where should the United States draw its defensive line and how should it export democratic principles In a history that spans the eighteenth century to the present Michael J Green follows the development of U S strategic thinking toward East Asia identifying recurring themes in American statecraft that reflect the nation's political philosophy and material realities Drawing on archives interviews and his own experience in the Pentagon and White House Green finds one overarching concern driving U S policy toward East Asia a fear that a rival power might use the Pacific to isolate and threaten the United States and prevent the ocean from becoming a conduit for the westward free flow of trade values and forward defense By More Than Providence works through these problems from the perspective of history's major strategists and statesmen from Thomas Jefferson to Alfred Thayer Mahan and Henry Kissinger It records the fate of their ideas as they collided with the realities of the Far East and adds clarity to America's stakes in the region especially when compared with those of Europe and the Middle East Eyewitness Companions: Film Anita Ganeri,Ronald

Phenomenology of Life in a Dialogue Between Chinese and Occidental Philosophy Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka,2012-12-06 To introduce this collection of research studies which stem from the pro grams conducted by The World Phenomenology Institute we need say a few words about our aims and work This will bring to light the significance of the present volume The phenomenological philosophy is an unprejudiced study of experience in its entire range experience being understood as yielding objects Experience moreover is approached in a specific way such a way that it legitima tizes itself naturally in immediate evidence As such it offers a unique ground for philosophical inquiry Its basic condition however is to legitimize its validity In this way it allows a dialogue to unfold among various philosophies of different methodologies and persuasions so that their basic assumptions and conceptions may be investigated in an objective fashion That is instead of comparing concepts we may go below their differences to seek together what they are meant to grasp We may in this way come to the things them selves which are the common objective of all philosophy or what the great Chinese philosopher Wang Yang Ming called the investigation of things It is in this spirit that the Institute s programs include a cross cultural dialogue meant to bring about a profound communication among philosophers in their deepest concerns Rising above artificial cultural confinements such dialogues bring scholars thinkers and human beings together toward a truly human community of minds Our Institute unfolds one consistent academic program
