Conflict, Memory Transfers and the Reshaping of Europe Filomena Viana Guarda, Adriana Martins, Helena Gonçalves da Silva, 2010-02-19. Conflict, Memory Transfers and the Reshaping of Europe discusses processes of memory construction associated with the realities of war and genocide, totalitarianism, colonialism as well as trans border dialogues in the overcoming of conflict memories. It is based on the premise that there are no available clear cut or definite positions to approach the problematic issues of conflict memory and history. Consequently, it examines and articulates across several different media discourses problems, contexts and considerations of value. Its scope is thus deliberately interdisciplinary, drawing on the cross fertilization of diverse research methods. The book addresses a number of issues and raises questions that have been crucial to our modern thought and problematic or even inexplicable to any cultural theory that approaches history with an ethical approach. It works through and evaluates ongoing representative processes, strategies and practices next to longstanding constraints, dilemmas and taboos regarding discussions of contentious matters. The different perspectives from which the issues of conflict, identity and memory are examined in authoritarian, new European and post colonial contexts provide examples of power and conflict memory intervening in discourse and areas of cultural practice, destabilizing fixed or encoded meaning. It examines how the making sense of our memories so vital for the qualification of culture and social practices is about concepts and ideas as well as emotions and attachments, i.e. meaning resulting from effective social exchange framed by specific contexts of interpretation. As such, the book is also a contribution to a memory culture that is pushing forward the clarification of conflicts, crystallizations of tension and all sorts of threads that bind us very often invisibly to the past. 1968 in Europe M. Klimke, J. Scharloth, 2008-04-14. A sweeping illustrated history of Europe, a continent whose imperial ambitions, internal clashes and existential threats are as vital today as they were during the conquests of Alexander the Great. In just a few hundred years a modest peninsula off the northwest corner of Asia has seen the rise and fall of several empires served as the crucible for scientific dynamism cultural innovation and economic revolution and witnessed cataclysms and bloodshed that have almost destroyed it several times over This is Europe a continent whose identity emerged not so much by virtue of geographic or ethnic continuity but by a long and storied struggle for power Studded with infamous figures from Caesar to Charlemagne and Machiavelli to Marx Simon Jenkins s history of Europe travels briskly from the Roman Empire the Dark Ages and the Reformation through the French Revolution the World Wars and the fall of the USSR What emerges in this thrilling and expansive telling is a continent as defined by its continually clashing cultural identities and violent crises as it is by its tireless drive for a society based on the consent of the governed which holds true right up to the present day Tax
