Learning and Development introduces the latest research and concepts equipping L D and training professionals with an understanding of the inner workings of the mind Covering areas such as how to create effective learning environments promoting motivation and how to make learning stickier through the use of stories the book offers practical tools and ideas that can be applied in a variety of contexts from digital learning and in person training sessions to coaching conversations to lectures and presentations Neuroscience for Learning and Development also features insights from L D practitioners who have applied these approaches Readers will not only find new techniques they can implement straight away but will also discover research that backs up what they are already doing well enabling them to put convincing cases to budget holders This updated second edition contains new chapters on digital learning and on the importance of sleep as well as updated wider content and new material on mindfulness learning through your senses and the neuroscience of habits How to Be

Angry Signe Whitson,2022-03-21 Children and teenagers often struggle to cope with anger and angry feelings can boil over into aggression and destructive behaviour This updated and extended resource takes a different approach to anger teaching children how to be angry effectively rather than telling them not to be angry at all Encouraging appropriate anger management through group work and tailored lessons the book is also accompanied by downloadable additional resources demonstrating the activities and offering adaptations for parents Suitable for use with children and teenagers aged 5 18 this engaging resource will help children to overcome self destructive patterns of passive aggressive and passive aggressive behaviour

The River Bend Wesley E. Hall,2000-08-14 The River Bend is a collection of fifty six boyhood reminiscences about growing up in the River Bend country of south central Oklahoma in the first decades of the Twentieth Century These little stories first appeared as a weekly column in the Konawa Leader a Seminole County Oklahoma newspaper owned and published by Ed Gallagher This book is my response to the mountain of correspondence from readers of the column who almost invariably began their letters with Have you written a book about this wonderful place The Bend is twenty five square miles of rolling hills scrub oak and briar patches separated from the rest of the world by the wide and sometimes cantankerous South Canadian River The nearest town located in the mouth of the horseshoe bend is Konawa which has one paved street and whatever was left standing after the tornado of 1966 The eleventh and last child of a very poor dirt farmer I grew up thinking I was rich My family owned a one hundred sixty five acre farm in the center of the Bend and on all sides of us were neighbors who seemed like kinfolks The Great Depression and the Dust Bowl were words no one ever used in my presence The American Journal of Nursing ,1914 Resources in Education ,1998 Children Today ,1982

Autoethnographies of Plurilingualism Enrica Piccardo,Le Chen,2024-09-30 This collection spotlights the authentic voices of plurilingual learners bringing together autoethnographies of over twenty graduate students to deepen current understandings of lived experiences of plurilingualism The volume begins with outlining foundational work on plurilingualism in language education up to this point with the body of work on plurilingual subjectivities historically focusing on researchers and practitioners gazes rather than students The book moves into short autoethnographies of graduate students at the University of Toronto enrolled in a graduate education course over three years Employing autoethnography as the primary methodology allows the space for privileging authentic voices of plurilingual learners in their own words learners whose individual lived experiences are uniquely contextualized within the lens of plurilingual theory The volume and diversity of perspectives showcased offer a unique window into the diversity and commonalities among plurilingual learners offering opportunities for reflection on directions for future research This book will be of interest to students and scholars in applied linguistics language teaching and learning and language education The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies in Learning and Cognition Marc Marschark, Harry Knoors, 2020-04-15 In recent years the intersection of cognitive psychology developmental psychology and neuroscience with regard to deaf individuals has received increasing attention from a variety of academic and educational audiences Both research and pedagogy have addressed questions about whether deaf children learn in the same ways that hearing children learn how signed languages and spoken languages might affect different aspects of cognition and cognitive development and the ways in which hearing loss influences how the brain processes and retains information There are now a number of preliminary answers to these questions but there has been no single forum in which research into learning and cognition is brought together The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies in Learning and Cognition aims to provide this shared forum focusing exclusively on learning cognition and cognitive development from theoretical psychological biological linguistic social emotional and educational perspectives Each chapter includes state of the art research conducted and reviewed by international experts in the area Drawing this research together this volume allows for a synergy of ideas that possesses the potential to move research theory and practice forward Handbook of Research on Collaborative Learning Using Concept Mapping Lupion Torres, Patricia, de Cássia Veiga Marriott, Rita, 2009-07-31 This new encyclopedia discusses the extraordinary importance of internet technologies with a particular focus on the Web Taschentrainer Englisch.
